ST. BRUNO PARISH

"While the world changes, the cross stands firm."

Our Parish Mission Statement

St. Bruno Parish is a community of people sharing a common faith in the teachings of the Catholic tradition. We come together to worship God and to spread the Good News that Jesus gave us. Through celebrating Christian unity, we provide emotional support and practice the works of mercy.

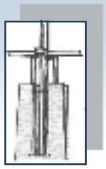
Pastor Dan's Message



GOSPEL MEDITATION - ENCOURAGE DEEPER UNDERSTANDING OF SCRIPTURE

Secular pursuits only bring a temporary amount of satisfaction and fulfillment. As much as we may think that achieving worldly success, economic security, personal well-being, and self-fulfillment are worthy goals to obtain, they all are dependent on external variables and can lead to emptiness. We are trained to be very pragmatic and productive. Unless we are able to check off all of the boxes or comply with specific measurable requirements, our value and worth becomes questionable. Corporations, educational institutions, systems, structures, and secular ideology rarely consider deeper, more spiritual, and human contributions a person can and needs to make.

To the secular mind, the wisdom and ideals of the Gospel are making less and less sense. Consider for a moment this question: "What profit would there be for one to gain the whole world and forfeit his life?" While Jesus is asking this very challenging question to people who are considering his message, many in our world are in a quite different place. Whether we realize it, many folks are asking a much different question. Why would you not want to gain the whole world and secure your life? If you look at where a lot of folks are investing their time, energy, and resources, it becomes obvious where current priorities rest.

Modern day comforts and possibilities are backing us out of our relationship with God. The fire burning in every human heart is trying to find its satisfaction in the things that humans have created and not God. Being altruistic and offering compassion for those most in need becomes a political responsibility or responsible gesture. We realize that our hearts need to be centered on something and someone who calls us out of ourselves, but we struggle and battle with naming the source of that call. God places the desire to seek, find, and love Him in the core of every soul. We are not abandoned and left to fend for ourselves. But we can easily get confused. We know that when we extend ourselves to another self-sacrificially, we are doing what is just and right. We know that we can work through suffering and loss and come out better and more whole on the other side.

Our minds need to be renewed so that they can begin to understand that there is much more to who we are, and that faith plays a pivotal role in achieving our true and everlasting goals. It is when we see that it is only faith that can bring us to this heightened awareness of ourselves and God that it will begin to make sense. Then, we can put things in proper perspective and consider being a disciple. ©LPi

Stewardship Corner

The words that Jesus speaks to us today are HARD. Who truly wants to "deny himself" and "take up his cross"? Not me! I like being comfortable and safe, thank-you-very-much. It is easy then to identify with Peter as he does not want Jesus to suffer. But, as Jesus makes clear, Peter is thinking as human beings do [to avoid pain and suffering] and not as God does [to redeem the world!]. We focus on the temporal, but God sees the infinite. We want to avoid suffering and pain, while God wants our priority to be building the Kingdom of God.

The "American way" ultimately promotes focusing on yourself, which is in opposition to what God asks of us. It's human nature to want to earn nice things and feel accomplished. However, as disciples of Christ, we are called to deny ourselves and follow Christ. What does that look like for you? Is it taking time to read scripture instead of binging on Netflix? Or perhaps it's reconciling a broken relationship? Saying sorry is a hard one for me! Or maybe it's giving up that special coffee drink and donating the money to charity instead. Or possibly God could be calling you to a deeper prayer life by spending time with Him in Eucharistic Adoration? Or writing down everything you're grateful for? Or could it be seeking to understand "the other" before being understood? Or perhaps, it's simply searching out Jesus in the faces of each person you encounter? Friends, denying yourself should always be a simple yet hard act of love.

At the end of the gospel, Jesus says that God will come and "repay all according to his conduct." That word "conduct" is meant to bring our focus on the way we live our lives. In the end, a stewardship way of life is focused on building the Kingdom NOW. We've all heard the maxim "you can't take it with you." We come into the world with nothing and while the temptation to focus on ourselves is always present, the reality is that we leave the world… with nothing. But our joy in heaven might be that much sweeter based on our conduct in this life. When we recognize that we are simply stewards on the journey and that everything we have is a gift from God, we will be able to truly deny ourselves, take up our crosses, and follow Jesus.

To God be the Glory,
Kelsey - kdemarais@stpaulgenesee.net

Adult Formation

Big bluestem prairie grass is an amazing plant engineered by our Creator. In the late summer, it can grow to a height of 8 feet! This towering grass, like most prairie plants, has deep roots for support. Unlike hollow stem grasses, big bluestem is a solid stemmed grass, another adaptation for this strong, tall plant. It often grows in clumps, but does just fine, if undisturbed, when it re-seeds itself in a new spot. In a strong wind, the big bluestems can hold each other up.

This cluster reminds me of the benefits of belonging to a small group. We gather together to learn and pray, and put down deep roots in Scripture through discussion and study. In a solid small group, people come to care for one another, rejoicing in each other's blessings and lifting each other in prayer when there are burdens. We belong to one another.

St. Paul reminds the Romans (and us) to discern the will of God, what is good and pleasing and perfect. Having the support of a small faith sharing group helps us do just that. Here's what a few members of a small group feel about gathering together:

- Through our small group I have learned about the Holy Spirit present in our lives through "Wild Goose," about the Bible Time-Line by Jeff Cavins, about the wonderful production of Jesus' life through 8 episodes of "The Chosen", about reading and sharing ideas on books like "Beautiful Hope", and about reading and discussing the upcoming weekend's Readings.

Learning plus sharing equals FAITH GROWTH.

- Being accepted for yourself on good days and bad.
- It has been a great experience to listen to other thoughts and ideas.

Pray about joining a small group, ask a couple of your friends to join you, email or call Mary Kral to get started.

LIVE THE LITURGY -
INSPIRATION FOR THE WEEK

Secular problems require savvy secular solutions. We are trained to solve problems, be successful and productive, and find our way through all that life presents to us. Corporations value those who can decipher the best avenue to take in order to resolve an issue. How do you train and renew your mind? Facts, figures, scientific tools, analytical processes, best practices, and models of varying kinds are at our disposal. If we don't know the full and proper course of action, we can easily find it. But there is a knowledge that goes far beyond all these things that makes a direct claim on the essence of our being. It satisfies a deeper thirst and hunger that keeps us restless until it is satisfied. Our minds, hearts, and souls cannot only be nurtured purely by secular and temporal things. We must seek the enlightenment that comes from God. This allows us to see the value of suffering in order to achieve a greater good and the losing of our very self in the service of something greater. Faith only makes sense if it can bring us to this heightened awareness.
