Whom Shall I Send?

This could very well be called Mission Sunday—not because there is a second collection, but because today's readings challenge us to examine how we have responded to being called and sent.

Isaiah recounts a religious experience he had while in the Temple. Most majestic of all aspects of that vision was the voice that spoke to him. He heard the words, "Whom shall I send?" (Isaiah 6:8). Send where? To do what? Presumably it meant: "Whom shall I send to speak my word to the people?" The eagerness of the prophet is remarkable: "Here I am…send me!" This passage describes Isaiah's call to ministry, to be God's prophet to the people.

The Gospel reading reports another call—that of Peter, James, and John. After showing that he was able to fill the nets of these fishermen, even to the breaking point, Jesus offered them the opportunity to attract (catch) men and women. Again, almost without thinking, "they left everything and followed him" (Luke 5:11).

In his First Letter to the Corinthians, Paul explains to the "fish" (his converts) how this message is communicated, how fish are caught, how the gospel is preached: "I handed on to you…what I also received" (1 Corinthians 15:3). In all cases, the message is basically the same: "I will be your God and you will be my people." This is what we've all been called to experience, then sent to proclaim—first Isaiah, then the disciples, then Paul, and now you and me.

FOR Reflection

- In which life circumstances have you been called to be a disciple of Jesus?
- How might you spread the Good News of God's love to others in your life?

The Gospel at Home

This Week's Gospel: Luke 5:1–11

Luke's telling of the call of the disciples focuses on Simon Peter. Jesus tells Peter to cast his net for a catch even though Peter has fished all night without catching a single fish. He does what Jesus suggests and has a tremendous catch. The great catch of fish reminds Peter of his own human weakness and sinfulness. It also is the opportunity for Jesus to call Peter to a new vocation—catching people!

Exploring the Gospel Message

Seeds (Preschool): Your child learned about the call of Peter the fisherman and learned that the followers of Jesus help tell God's Good News. Your child learned about some followers of Jesus from the Americas. Ask your child to tell the family about Saint Oscar Romero, Saint Martin de Porres, and Saint Kateri Tekakwitha. Talk together about little things you can do to be a good follower of Jesus.

Promise (Grades K–1): Your child learned in class that Jesus called men and women to follow him. His disciples helped him spread his message of love to others. Talk about ways your family can spread Jesus' message of love. Ask your child to share the story about Max from this week's lesson. Be sure to hang the mobile your child made in a prominent place where all can see it.

Good News (Grades 2–3): Your child learned the different definitions of the verb "to follow." Ask your child to share the ways that everyone can follow others. Talk about the call Peter received to follow Jesus. Ask your child to share the story "Marielle's New Start" with the family. Ask your child to share his or her Letter to God that they all wrote in class.

Venture (Grades 4–6): This week your youngster learned the ways people spread Jesus' message by acting out a drama.. The class also put together a timeline that shows how people have lived the teaching of Jesus. Ask your child to share the timeline with the family and explain it to you all. Talk about how God has called your family to pass on Sacred Tradition. Ask your youngster about who Robert de Nobili is.

Visions (Grades 7–8): During this week's class, your son or daughter discovered just what a call from God involves. The class also explored God's call to the prophet Isaiah and the Apostle Peter. Talk about how everyone has a vocation and by Baptism each one is called to witness to God's love. Talk, too, about how you can help one another develop and use your gifts and talents to make a difference in the world. Ask about who Sister Jean Dolores Schmidt is.

Pray Together

This week's Gospel dramatizes the vocation of Peter. Each evening this week, pray as a family in your own words for vocations to the priesthood and religious life. Talk about priests, sisters, and brothers who have cared for your family. Say a prayer for those people, too.

About the Gospel

In Sunday's Gospel, Jesus speaks to the crowd from Simon Peter's boat. Then he encourages Simon to cast his net into the water. Simon questions why Jesus tells him to do this but does as he is instructed—and catches many fish! Jesus tells him to not be afraid and that from now on, he will be "catching men."

Visit www.usccb.org/bible/readings to read this Sunday's Scripture.

In Church

Search for symbols of fish around your church. Share ideas about why the fish was used as an early sign of Jesus' followers.

Question of the Week

What did Jesus mean when he told Simon Peter and the others that they would be "catching men"?

Family Prayer

Jesus, you remind us that we shouldn't be afraid and that you have a mission for us too. Help us to be open to sharing our faith with others. Amen.

Acerca del Evangelio

En el Evangelio del domingo, Jesús habla a la multitud desde la barca de Simón Pedro. Luego anima a Simón a echar su red al agua. Simón pregunta por qué Jesús le dice que haga esto, pero hace lo que él le ordena, ¡y pesca un montón! Jesús le dice que no tema y que, de ahora en adelante, será "pescador de hombres".

Visita www.usccb.org/bible/lecturas para leer las lecturas de este domingo.

En la iglesia

Busca símbolos de peces en tu iglesia. Comparte ideas sobre por qué un pez fue el signo inicial de los seguidores de Jesús.

Pregunta de la semana

¿Qué quería decir Jesús cuando le dijo a Simón Pedro y a los demás que serían "pescadores de hombres"?

Oración en familia

Jesús, nos recuerdas que no debemos temer y que también tienes una misión para nosotros. Ayúdanos a estar abiertos para compartir nuestra fe con los demás. Amén.

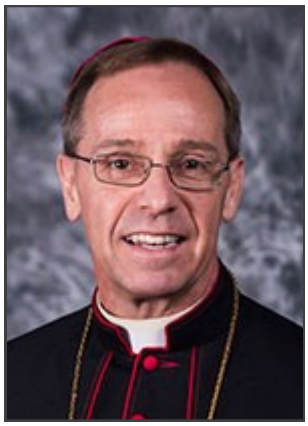
RESOURCES FOR INVITATION AND ENCOURAGEMENT

My Dear Friends in Christ,



I am pleased to share with you these resources for encouraging parishioners to return to the Eucharist with joy. Each of these very brief videos addresses a specific facet of what a gift and a privilege it is for us to attend Sunday Mass.

Please share these brief video clips far and wide, using every digital communication means at your disposal. The accompanying resources will also be useful for individual and small group prayer, reflection and discussion.

We have a great opportunity, at this time, to highlight the centrality of Mass, the Eucharist and all the sacraments in ways that engage the minds and hearts of the faithful--encouraging them to make Mass top priority each and every weekend, I pray these resources will be helpful to you as you continue inviting your parishioners to return to the Eucharist with joy.

Sincerely yours in Christ,

Most Rev. Charles C. Thompson, DD, JCL
Archbishop of Indianapolis

Discussion Questions

1. Call to mind one or more experiences that have brought you excitement and joy. Now pause to imagine being gathered with members of Christ's mystical Body—the Church—and receiving the Body of Christ in Holy Communion, being united with Jesus in the Eucharist. Allow the joy and excitement of that experience to fill your heart for a moment.
2. What are some ways that gathering, physically, with a community of believers and receiving Jesus in Holy Communion physically differ from virtual/livestreamed communal prayer as well as praying an Act of Spiritual Communion? How do you think our appreciation level for being able to gather physically for worship has been affected by our experience of the recent pandemic—including times of stay-at-home orders?
3. Angela mentioned that her parish grew, even while being temporarily without a parish church building. What is it about the grace of the sacraments (She mentions baptisms and 1st Holy Communions.) that can cause a community to flourish without a parish church, then thrive with excitement and joy now that gathering for Mass at the parish has become feasible?

PADRE'S POST

5H SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Today we continue in the Gospel of Luke, Chapter 5, focusing on the call of Peter. The call or vocation of anyone has to do with responding to how God calls us to serve in the world. Each of us is called to share in the apostolic life of the church, men and women, young and old, coming together for a specific purpose united in Baptism and animated by the Theological Virtues of Faith, Hope and Love. A vocation is more significant than a career. At times in the west, career and vocation become interchangeable words and ideas. Vocare, Latin for to call, requires the individual to listen and respond like Isaiah in the first reading and Peter in the gospel. Our faith teaches that God calls each of us through Baptism and Confirmation to serve him in a specific way. This call becomes real as we heard last Sunday from the Prophet Jeremiah, Chapter 1, "Before I formed you in the womb I knew you, before you were born I dedicated you, a prophet to the nations I appointed you."

This consolation of God forming us and calling us leads us to the tension that the community in Corinth was experiencing. St. Paul was reminding them to remain faithful. Paul writes to the community of Corinth that he turned from persecutor to preacher through God's favor. Paul followed the cue of Isaiah, preaching the "Good News." What is the "Good News?" How would you respond if someone would ask you (as a Christian) what is the Good News? The answer to this question rests in the shift of the Sabbath Day. Observed on Saturday in the Jewish tradition, Sabbath was moved to Sunday by the early Christians. The defining moment of the Christian life is not simply knowing that the resurrection happened but knowing that all life has been transformed through the Resurrection of Christ. In our Baptism, we acknowledge the Paschal Mystery; Christ has died, Christ is risen, Christ will come again. St. Paul preached and called others to enter into the Paschal Mystery, the initiated life of a Christian. This life is revealed and authentically lived in the same pattern when we hear a couple promise to be perpetually present – faithful - to each other in the Sacrament of Marriage: "In good times and in bad, in sickness and in health, to love and to honor all the days of their life."

Whether it is the Prophet Isaiah, aware of his unworthiness and fear, purged from sin, he accepted the call from the Father. Or in Peter's confession, "I am a sinful man," assured by Christ, together with James and John, Christ calls them to leave everything behind to become a follower. Jesus tells Peter and the others, "Do not be afraid." "Do not be afraid" were the words that St. John Paul II shared nearly forty-four years ago at the Mass marking the beginning of his Pontificate on October 22, 1978. On that same day, the successor to St. Peter shared these exact words given to St. Peter by Jesus to the world. St. John Paul II said, "Do not be afraid. Open wide the doors for Christ. To his saving power open the boundaries of States, economic and political systems, the vast fields of culture, civilization and development. Do not be afraid. Christ knows 'what is in man'. He alone knows it." Over the years in listening to parishioners, it often comes down to elements of fear. Fear of someone seeing them as devout or a "holy roller," a good person. Unfortunately, society defines a good person as soft or weak because they love their way through the situations and conversations of life, and are not mere spectators.

What is the legacy you want to be remembered by others? A Christian legacy or a worldly person? The Christian lives out their vocation by listening and following. The Catechism of the Catholic Church, Paragraph 864 teaches: "Christ, sent by the Father, is the source of the Church's whole apostolate'; thus the fruitfulness of apostolate for ordained ministers as well as for lay people clearly depends on their vital union with Christ. In keeping with their vocations, the demands of the times and the various gifts of the Holy Spirit, the apostolate assumes the most varied forms. But charity, drawn from the Eucharist above all, is always' as it were, the soul of the whole apostolate." As we listen for God's call in sacred scripture and live our life through the Church's Traditions, we encounter both the Spiritual and Corporal Works of Mercy, charity in action, Christ in action through the church and her disciples. We are either part of the action or watching from a distance.

I am incredibly grateful for all the blessings you bring to my life, vocation, and ministry. Thank you for your care and concern. Be strong and courageous in discerning your call, your vocation. I pray that "whatever you ask for in prayer, believe that you have received it, and it will be yours." - Mark 11:24. Have a blessed week and let us continue to pray and look out for one another as we grow together in spirited worship and loving service, advancing in the mission of our parish family as one family in faith.

PAX - Father Anthony, OSB.

Saturday morning Mass at Monte Cassino Shrine suspended

Beginning January 30, the regular Saturday morning Mass held at the historic Monte Cassino Shrine — Saint Meinrad Archabbey's chapel to honor the Blessed Mother — has been suspended for the time being, due to the high rate of COVID cases in the area.

Devotion at the Marian shrine began in the mid-19th century and the current shrine dates to 1870.

Dear Padre,

I heard some people talking about the coming of the Antichrist. Who or what is this Antichrist?

Some Christian sects believe there will come a point when the faithful of their church will be taken off the earth and whisked into heaven. This is usually referred to as "the rapture." After this event, they believe the Antichrist will come. This Antichrist is an individual man who will incarnate in himself the power of Satan. He will deceive even the holiest person and will rule the entire world. It is believed that Jesus will then return and defeat this Antichrist in the ultimate battle between good and evil. The appearance of the Antichrist supposedly coincides with the end of time.

ROMAN EMPEROR NERO, LEFT, FROM "HISTORY OF THE CHURCH," AROUND 1880 / SERGEY KOHL / SHUTTERSTOCK

Most of the material that would support this scenario is found in the thirteenth chapter of the Book of Revelation. Here the devil tries to stop Christ's victory and to convince people that Christ is not the master. This chapter of Revelation deals with the conflict in the Roman Empire between the emperor Nero and the faithful Christians. Nero, the evil one, is assigned the number 666 so Christians could refer to him without openly attacking him. This section of the book was written to give hope to persecuted Christians.

Instead of worrying about the end of time, an Antichrist, a final battle, and "evil" numbers, Catholics are encouraged to believe that Christ has already conquered sin, death, and Satan. God's reign is already here in our midst (see Luke 17:20–21). Our task is to prepare for our own moment of dying and meeting the Lord. We leave the rest to God's providence!

We can make many pastoral plans, conceive of new methods for drawing people close, but if we don't take the path of God who has come in the flesh…then we are not on the path of the good spirit. [Instead, what prevails] is the Antichrist, worldliness, the spirit of the world.

5 TH SUNDAY OF ORDINARY TIME

"Then I heard the voice of the Lord saying, 'Whom shall I send? Who will go for us?' 'Here I am,' I said, 'send me!'" - ISAIAH 6:8

Every day, in little ways and in big ways, God asks, "Whom shall I send?" Whether it is someone to take on a new ministry, to give a friendly smile to a stranger or to say a word of encouragement to a friend, God constantly provides opportunities to help someone in need. God is always talking to us; we just need to pay more attention. When you hear God calling have the courage to walk through the door and say "Here I am, Lord."
