PRAYER TREE: 255-4600

Good example, best example. No matter what your background, if you have grown into a person of faith there is usually someone whose example you followed: a priest, godly teacher, devout parent. That person helped you learn what a child of God could and should be. And if you have rejected God, there is most likely a failed example you remember, someone whose life and words harmed, betrayed or deceived you. How wonderful it would be to have only good examples here on earth and none of the harmful ones to lead us astray. In Mark (6: 30-34), we are reminded that God has given us a trustworthy, divine example to follow: Jesus. He called us "sheep without a shepherd," not because the Shepherd had disappeared, but because we forget to look to Him. It's easier to watch the people around us, than to keep our ears and eyes tuned to God and trusting Him alone to guide us. Take a moment in prayer today to consider who you're following: a good example, or the best example?

Funeral Pre-Planning

Thinking about pre-planning a funeral leaves most people a little uneasy. However, pre-planning can give you peace of mind as you will know you have helped your family at a very difficult time. It also allows an opportunity to express preferences at this time of a final good-bye removing the burden of family members having to guess about your wishes. Our Pastoral Care Associate, Sr. Idelle Badt, is available with information and to answer any questions that you might have about this process. You can call her at the parish office at 255-4600. Pre-planning a funeral can be one of the last and greatest gifts you can give to your family.

Marriage Moments: Being hospitable vs. being "present." Some people are like Martha (doing the cooking) others are like Mary (listening attentively to a guest) (Luke 10:38-42) Both are necessary. In your marriage, which of you are drawn to which role? Try switching one time to broaden your skill set.

Parenting Pointers: It is a chore to get your kids to help around the house. Try out this summer's Job Jar idea. (EnrichmentEx. htm#Asummerjobjar) It's not too late to start since it doesn't have to end with the summer. (Susan Vogt at www.SusanVogt.net)

Stewardship Thoughts: It is only the hand that is open to give that is open to receive. God cannot give us what we refuse to take and God cannot give to us when our hearts and hands cling too tightly to things on earth.

Vocation Views: Jesus desires that we, like His friend Mary, would spend time in His presence. Take time regularly to be with Jesus and listen to His living word. (Luke 10:38-42)

Stewardship Opportunities:

We are in need of a camera operator who would be willing to run the camera during a weekend mass. Training would be provided. Please call the office and talk to Tracy Kraft at 701-255-4600.

The Holy Father Speaks. . Only by loving our neighbors as ourselves, do we show love for God, and at the same time express true religiosity and humanity. Reflecting on the Gospel which recounts the parable of the Good Samaritan, this parable is like a treasure. Mercy towards a human life in a state of need is the true face of love. It is by loving the other that one becomes a true disciple of Jesus and that the face of the Father is revealed. Be merciful, just as your Father is merciful. God's Commandment to love one's neighbor for Christians is a single and coherent rule of life. It is not us, on the basis of our criteria, who can define who is a neighbor and who is not, but it is the person in need who must be able to recognize who his neighbor is, that is the one who treated him with mercy. It was no coincidence that Jesus chose the Samaritan as a positive figure. We know that the Jews treated the Samaritans with contempt, considering them strangers to the chosen people. In this way He strove to overcome prejudice, showing that even a foreigner, even one who does not know the true God and does not attend His temple, is able to behave according to His will, feeling compassion for his brother in need and helping him with all the means at his disposal. The key of Christian life is in one's capacity to show compassion. If you lack compassion, ask yourself whether your heart has turned to ice, "If before a person in need you do not feel compassion, if your heart is not moved, it means that there is something wrong."

Welcome! Thank you for choosing to worship with us today and we hope you will return often. If you do not belong to a parish, please consider choosing Corpus Christi as your church home. You may call the parish office at 255-4600 to register.

SIXTEENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Worriers have a captain
These days, who isn't a worrier? Climate change is predicted to be irreversible very soon unless drastic changes are made across the globe. Meanwhile, oceans are rising, coastal areas are flooding, weather is erratic, and food supplies are threatened one crop at a time. If Martha were among us today, she'd be the first to lodge a complaint. Let's marshal our inner Marthas and raise our voices about the need for radical lifestyle changes. And don't neglect your inner Mary: She needs to keep on listening to Jesus.

TODAY'S READINGS: Genesis 18:1-10a; Colossians 1:24-28; Luke 10:38-42 (108). "Martha, Martha, you are anxious and worried about many things."

FEAST OF MARY MAGDALENE

Call him teacher
She turned toward the risen Lord and called him "Teacher," marking a significant pivot for human history. Mary Magdalene is first to experience the Resurrection, moving from a fear that death meant the end to a trust in ongoing life. In that moment, history moved from Jesus confined to one physical body to the universal Christ alive in the mystical body; from "head" knowledge to trusting a voice that recognizes intimate presence; from confusion to conviction—the authority of direct experience announcing the best news ever to the other disciples. Why Mary? Perhaps because she bracketed Jesus' Passion with fragrant anointing or because she waited outside the tomb, weeping but hopeful.

TODAY'S READINGS: Song of Songs 3:1-4a or 2 Corinthians 5:14-17; John 20:1-2, 11-18 (603). "I have seen the Lord."

Tuesday, Jul 23, 2019
MEMORIAL OF BRIDGET, RELIGIOUS

Drama with a twist
Today's first reading on the parting of the sea is so important that the church includes it in the Easter Vigil during a series of readings that summarize salvation history. Our hearts leap for the Israelites who are saved. Yet some may also wonder about the Egyptian families who mourned for their loved ones "cast into the sea." The church teaches us that sin (such as enslavement of the Israelites) cuts in many directions, often hurting the innocent—even those Egyptian soldiers who were obliged by their masters to pursue the Israelites. Can you refrain today from a bad habit, a sin, so it cannot hurt anyone, guilty or innocent?

TODAY'S READINGS: Exodus 14:21—15:1; Matthew 12:46-50 (396). "For whoever does the will of my heavenly Father is my brother, and sister, and mother."

Wednesday, Jul 24, 2019
MEMORIAL OF SHARBEL MAKHLŪF, PRIEST

Choose the reign of God
Who, you may ask, was Sharbel Makhlūf? Saint Sharbel, (sometimes spelled "Charbel") was a 19th-century Maronite monk from Lebanon, the son of a mule driver. He lived a life of solitude, austerity, and prayer. After his death at the age of 70, miracles were attributed to his intercession. He was beatified in 1965 at the close of Vatican II by Pope Paul VI. In his remarks, the pope said: "May he make us understand, in a world largely fascinated by wealth and comfort, the paramount value of poverty, penance, and asceticism, to liberate the soul in its ascent to God." Many times a day God invites us to divest from the passing world and invest in the coming reign of God. What choices will you make today?

TODAY'S READINGS: Exodus 16:1-5, 9-15; Matthew 13:1-9 (397). "Would that we had died at the Lord's hand in the land of Egypt, as we sat by our fleshpots and ate our fill of bread!"

FEAST OF JAMES, APOSTLE

Best friends forever
James and John, the sons of Zebedee, certainly stand out among the 12 apostles. Jesus nicknamed them the "Sons of Thunder," and from the stories of them in scripture, the two men clearly had big, bold, fiery personalities. Jesus had to put them in their place more than once. And yet, they are also described as being in Jesus' inner circle, an experience that changed them to the core—James became the first apostle to be martyred and John came to be known as the "apostle of love." If you made Jesus your best friend, what might happen to you too?

TODAY'S READINGS: 2 Corinthians 4:7-15; Matthew 20:20-28 (605). "Whoever wishes to be great among you shall be your servant."

Friday, Jul 26, 2019
MEMORIAL OF JOACHIM AND ANNE, PARENTS OF THE BLESSED VIRGIN MARY

Treasure the stories of faith
Saints Anne and Joachim are known to Catholics as the parents of holy Mary. But if asked how we know that, we might be stumped. The truth is there is no mention of Anne and Joachim in the Bible. Their names come to us from a second-century document called the Gospel of James. The church does not recognize that document as a reliable source, but the document's story of an angel's promised child to an aging couple has become an accepted tradition in our Catholic heritage. Say a prayer today for those couples whose yearning for children goes unfulfilled.

TODAY'S READINGS: Exodus 20:1-17; Matthew 13:18-23 (399). "Honor your father and your mother."

Saturday, Jul 27, 2019

The harvest is plentiful
Jesus talked a lot about farming in parables to teach his followers. So why don't Catholics have a harvest feast of some kind? Some folk traditions have popped up over the centuries: In Hungary, the Feast of the Assumption includes thanks for the harvest, and in Poland, harvest wreaths are blessed by priests. The Feast of Saint Martin of Tours on November 11 was celebrated in Europe in the Middle Ages much the same way Americans celebrate Thanksgiving Day today. But notwithstanding, the answer is, we don't need one. Every Mass is the offering of sacrifice to God. You're welcome to celebrate thanksgiving every day!

TODAY'S READINGS: Exodus 24:3-8; Matthew 13:24-30 (400). "Collect the weeds and tie them in bundles for burning; but gather the wheat into my barn."

Invest just five minutes a day, and your faith will deepen and grow—a day at a time
