ST. ALPHONSUS LIGUORI

A PASTORATE OF THE DIOCESE OF LAFAYETTE-IN-INDIANA

31ST SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

The scribe said to him, "Well said, teacher. You are right in saying, 'He is One and there is no other than he.'" And when Jesus saw that he answered with understanding, he said to him, "You are not far from the kingdom of God." - Mk 12:32, 34ab

STEWARDSHIP

GOSPEL REFLECTION
Today's Gospel presents Jesus' teachings on the two greatest commandments: Love the Lord with all your heart, soul, mind, and strength; love your neighbor as yourself.

Let's consider these "greatest commandments" as they relate to three aspects of a Christian steward's daily life - the giving of our time, talent, and treasure.

The use of time refers primarily to our relationship with the Lord - in other words, our prayer life. It is vital to talk to God throughout the day, but if I really want to love Him with all my heart, soul, mind, and strength; shouldn't I make time for God "first" on my daily agenda - not as an afterthought, but as a time I have intentionally chosen to spend only with Him?

The use of talents refers to the way I offer the abilities, skills, and interests the Lord has given me for the good of those around me. This is a practical way to "love my neighbor as myself." At the same time, it is a way to love the Lord with all that I am and have, since He told us that whatever we do for others we also do for Him.

The use of material gifts - treasure - demonstrates both love of God and of neighbor. When I trustingly offer a sacrificial gift to God through the offertory collection, I show Him in a very tangible way that He comes before all else in my life, and I put my material resources at the service of my neighbor in the parish community and beyond.

When we live for God and others, we live a stewardship way of life. And like the wise scribe in today's Gospel, we move closer to the kingdom of God, our ultimate destination.

ALL SOULS DAY: NOV. 2
On this holy day, we honor the dead. As Catholics, we celebrate it as a special day of prayer for all who have departed, especially our loved ones. We offer prayers that they may obtain the glory of heaven.
