GOD LOVE FOUND IN STORIES

As every parent and teacher knows, some of the best learning never takes place in a classroom. We learn most deeply from the example of others and from personal experience. But we're also shaped by the stories that touch our hearts and fire our imaginations.

No one understood this better than the great British Catholic scholar, J.R.R. Tolkien. In writing the "Lord of the Rings" trilogy, Tolkien single-handedly created the modern fantasy universe. Millions of young people have grown up reading about the elves, hobbits, orcs and wraiths of Middle Earth. But for all its impossible creatures, the trilogy is also profoundly "true" in its portrait of good and evil, sin and virtue, and the importance of human heroism in defeating wickedness.

As a committed Catholic, Tolkien wove the Christian story into the fabric of Middle Earth. It's no accident that Frodo and Sam finally destroy the power of Sauron, the Dark Lord, on a date that just happens to be March 25 — the great feast of the Annunciation on the Church calendar; the day God took on human flesh. Tolkien did that deliberately. In fact, the "Lord of the Rings" is filled with scores of similar Christian clues and metaphors.

Tolkien's Anglican friend and fellow scholar, C.S. Lewis, did the same. One of the greatest Christian apologists of the 20th century, Lewis is remembered for classics like "Mere Christianity," "The Abolition of Man," "Surprised by Joy," "The Screwtape Letters," "The Problem of Pain" and "The Great Divorce." But maybe his best work was his storytelling for young people.

In writing his seven-book "Chronicles of Narnia," Lewis created a fantastic saga of dwarves, witches, trolls and centaurs, much like Tolkien. And again like Tolkien, Lewis' Great Lion — Aslan — is unmistakably a figure of Jesus Christ. As for Aslan's father, the Emperor Across the Sea: Well, it doesn't take a lot of effort to infer Who that might be.

Over the years, I've known dozens of people who've gone back to the Narnia tales again and again to enjoy them as adults. Even today, half a century after Lewis published the last of the Chronicles, they remain bestsellers. The reason is simple. The Chronicles remind us that beauty, truth and goodness really do exist; that what we choose in life matters; that suffering has meaning; that sacrifice for the right things makes a difference; that heaven is real; and that God, our reason for joy and hope, loves us eternally.

It's no accident then that many filmmakers have tried to bring these stories to the screen. Until now, all have failed. Part of the problem has been technical: before computers, the means for creating believable fantasy worlds didn't exist. But the other, less obvious, problem has been content. What makes the Chronicles so powerful — their Christian worldview — is also what makes some people in an aggressively secular age very uneasy. What we read, watch and listen to can change us. And the Chronicles have changed the hearts of a great many people — in the right direction.

In making his "Lord of the Rings" movies, director Peter Jackson largely succeeded in adapting Tolkien for a general audience without destroying the Christian moral heart of the saga. now is a great time to read the Chronicles if you haven't, and reread them if you did as a child. We're shaped by the stories that touch our hearts and fire our imaginations. And Lewis, like Tolkien, wrote to shape us with the story of God's love.

FAITH FORMATION

(DOESN'T END AT CONFIRMATION)

High School Youth Ministry – Don't Let This Opportunity Pass You By!

Are you looking to share your love of Jesus? Are you looking to share your gifts with our community? Come and join our team!

We have only five remaining spots open for new catechists! Call Jennifer Geisler at 968-2276 ext. 209 before all remaining spots for the 2019-2020 school year are filled (this is on a first come first served basis)!

Call TODAY reserve your spot and get more information!

We are planning for Alpha in the fall.

In the meantime, here are some things our Alpha guests had to say at the end of the last session: "The facts about the Bible and Jesus in the first videos had the most impact. How can people not believe when they hear all those facts?" "I feel like these Alpha sessions scratched the surface in answering the question 'Why am I here?'" "Before the course I knew a lot of factual tidbits about my faith, but ...not really organized in my head...The way that the Alpha course was presented helped me to make sense of it all...to see the big picture. Prior to the course, I ...could liken my many 'factoids' to leaves that were floating around or piled up. Now I have the tree to hang them on!" Our Alpha course is successful in part to our hosts & helpers and to our Advocate, the Holy Spirit!

Adults, please pray about joining one of these workshops: God Has a Plan for Your Life – And Has Equipped You for That Mission

In your Baptism and Confirmation, you received gifts that our world needs. Do you know yours? As you uncover your gifts, you discover that they are important clues to the particular mission God has for you. Join over 100,000 Catholics around the world who have begun to discern their charisms through the Catherine of Sienna Institute's Called & Gifted workshop.

The Catherine of Sienna Institute's Called & Gifted Workshop is a regular offering of the John Paul II Center's Missionary Discipleship Institute. Registration fee for Called & Gifted is $40, which covers materials, continental breakfast, and lunch. No one will be denied due to financial circumstances. Space is limited and pre-registration is required so that we can prepare enough materials and meals. Register now for our upcoming Called and Gifted Workshops on June 8 and Sept 21, 2019.

Small Group Leader Workshop

Join us at our next training workshop for small group leaders from around the Archdiocese of Milwaukee. Adult, lay-led small groups are helping to renew our parishes and awaken more hearts to follow Jesus together! Whether you are a new leader, a leader-in-training, or a veteran leader wanting to brush up on skills and best practices, this workshop will offer you inspiration, training, and networking with other leaders. Register for the Thursday June 20, 2019 workshop at St. Gabriel Parish, Hubertus now!

CONTACT MARY KRAL for information or register directly from the parish website under Faith Formation on the first Adult Formation tab.

WHY DO WE DO THAT? - CATHOLIC LIFE EXPLAINED

Question: Why do some dioceses move holy days or not even celebrate them at all. Doesn't everyone do the same thing?

Answer: The short answer is no, not everyone does the same thing. Although the Church is universal, there are many local customs and saints that each country, sometimes just a region, will honor. For example, feast days and patronal days may not be major feast days on the Church's universal calendar but are celebrated as such in one place. Holy days of obligation are the same way. The U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops has a certain amount of discretion in choosing days which best reflect the local church's experience and history.

Another reason certain feasts are moved is a practical one. With limited clergy, or a great difficulty for people to get to Mass, the feast day may be transferred to a Sunday. The rationale is that if a significant feast should be part of the church's celebration, then better to do so on a Sunday when people and clergy are available, rather than try to fit it on a day when one or both cannot be there.

Christmas and Immaculate Conception are always observed as days of obligation. In the U.S., we celebrate six holy days of obligation. There are also other special days, and they are ranked in order of importance as solemnity, feast, memorial, and optional memorial.

Miscarriage support from Life's Connection

Miscarriage has touched the lives of millions of families. Unfortunately this crisis leaves women and men to grieve alone. This loss is significant. Our community cares and is partnering with Life's Connection to walk the journey with you. Life's Connection offers hope and healing before during and after the loss of your baby. You are not alone. Life's Connection can provide a safe place to share your loss; caring mentors to assist with doctor's visits, hospital visits, funeral planning, pastoral care, memorial services, bereavement, and remembrance of your child; delivery aids for those families who know that they will lose their child at home or have a planned D&C during a miscarriage, a burial vessel then provides a place for your child's precious remains for later burial; a sacred holding site for the remains of miscarried babies until the time of burial, and more. Please contact them at lifescconnection.org or 262-290-5433 for immediate help.

Are you considering serving the Church as an Ordained Deacon? The Church calls men to be deacons "in-service" to the People of God. If you are a man (married or single), that feels this call and wants to know more, please contact the Office for Diaconate Formation at 414-758-2207 or maldonadom@archmil.org.

Ascension

Today as we celebrate the feast of the Ascension we are reminded that Christ's saving work on earth continues through his disciples...and now through us.

When we give to the poor, God indeed pours his love, peace and joy into our hearts, into our lives and into the hearts of those who are poor.

Sharing the Gospel with Kids

After Jesus was taken into heaven, the apostles spent time in church praising God. Every time something good happens to you or your family, remember to give thanks to God. You do not have to be at church to praise God. You can praise God at home, in the park, or in a store. You can thank God wherever you happen to be. Good things happen to you because God loves you very much.

Prayer

Lord, help me praise you even when I am sad.

LIVE THE LITURGY -

INSPIRATION FOR THE WEEK

How do we find our way through life and discover who we really are? It is easy to get distracted by life's preoccupations and worldly constructs. We can avoid dealing with deeper questions simply by being absorbed in life's demands and the roles we are asked to play. Is it important to us that we come from God and have our identity in Him? The world cannot succeed in telling us who we are. Only God can. Only through Jesus's resurrection can we see clearly that he is the Alpha and the Omega, the beginning and the end, and the bright morning star. It is by following his example that we can all become one with the Father and brought to perfection. We are designed to be one with God and united with one another as believers in Jesus Christ. When someone experiences our speech and actions, do they witness the fact that we truly believe this?

Pray for all First Responders, Military personnel and their families. May God keep them safe in his hands.
