Pastor Dan's Weekly Message

Christmas is easy. The lovely manger scene and the sentiment that surrounds it make an immediate appeal. Christmas tugs at the heartstrings of millions of people who may or may not understand the mystery of the incarnation of the eternal Son of God. Easter is, literally, another story. The historical event itself is a challenge. Jesus, who truly died on the cross, just as truly rose in his body from the dead. Though the Gospels and the letters of St. Paul affirm this truth, they do not actually describe how it happened. It is a divine event attested to in human history, but it is finally beyond the grasp of both history and our human intellects.

At Christmas, God entered into our familiar life. At Easter, God broke through the limitations of human life and entered into a realm beyond death. The body in which Jesus emerged from the tomb is the same, yet profoundly changed. Jesus rises in his own body; but it is now immortal, glorified, transcending our normal physical universe.

The risen Christ goes beyond our familiar pattern of life and, even more amazing, he invites us to follow him into this new life. This is the promise of Easter for us. Already we begin to live this risen life with baptism, when we are plunged into the death and resurrection of Jesus. We take into ourselves the seeds of immortality in Christ's risen body each time we receive Holy Communion.

In the fourth century, St. Epiphanius, a bishop on the island of Cyprus, wrote an Easter hymn in which God says: "Awake, O sleeper, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give you light. I have not created you to be in prison forever." This hymn contains the whole message of Easter. The Easter light is the truth that God makes known to us in Christ. The prison in which we are cut off from the light and plunged in darkness is our ignorance of Christ and our turning from his truth. Pontius Pilate asked Jesus as he tried him: "What is truth?" Pilate didn't want an answer. He remained in darkness and was enslaved; Jesus declared himself to be the Truth and was free to set us free.

The fact of Christ's resurrection is the basis of our faith; the promise of our own resurrection is the basis of our hope. A merciful God wants to share his very life with us; and his Son shapes that life to conform to his own, even in his bodily reality. After Easter, as the whole Church with those recently baptized contemplates our destiny in Christ, the mercy of God causes deep rejoicing. We rejoice in the truth: Christ is risen. We rejoice in Christ himself and in his mystical body, the Church. We rejoice in those who witness to the truth in their conversion that occurred through RCIA. We rejoice in the mercy of God, which leads us to truth and forgiveness and freedom.

Stewardship: Belong, Believe, Become

In my earlier years, I was often left in confusion about the joy of Easter. I know that sounds funny, but I was really unsure of what should make me so happy. This person called Jesus died and rose from the dead... And we're joyful about that? No disrespect, it just didn't make sense in my mind. Well, when I entered the Catholic Church and started celebrating the fullness of the liturgical year, the Holy Spirit started working connections in my brain. This Jesus wasn't just any man. He was the Son of God, the third person in the Trinity that came to save us. It was about that time that I also started realizing that the suffering of Jesus on Good Friday - truly suffering and dying for our sins - is what ushers in the joy of Easter morning. The joy of the resurrection doesn't make sense without Jesus' suffering and death. The reality that Jesus suffered and died on the cross for us is what truly makes the Resurrection joyful.

Like our inability to fathom the size of space (it often leaves me dumbstruck!), so too should the mystery of the empty tomb leave us in wonder and awe. God has created this immense universe for YOU (you BELONG to Him). God has gone to the depths of forsakenness to save YOU (BELIEVE in His saving power!). God has restored fullness of life through Jesus for YOU (now is the time to BECOME the person He created you to be!).

The mystery of the empty tomb is proof that He loves YOU so much he will stop at nothing to bring you back to himself and wants YOU to become the-best-version-of-yourself*.

Truly, we are an EASTER people and Hallelujah is our song!

To God be the Glory, Kelsey - kdemarais@stpaulgenesee.net

*The term "the-best-version-of-yourself" is attributed to author and speaker, Matthew Kelly.

Fun Facts for Catholic Kids 'of ALL Ages

What do colored eggs and bunnies have to do with Easter?

Celebrate Easter Sunday with joy and enthusiasm! Pray. Celebrate. Go to Mass. Sing Alleluia! Spend the day together with loved ones. Easter is the most important Christian holiday — yes, more important than Christmas — and far more than just colored eggs and bunnies. Let's learn about where these traditions associated with Easter come from.

Easter eggs. Symbolically, eggs have a long history and it's easy to see why. To pagans, nothing more closely spoke of fertility and re-birth than an egg, that sterile and shelled little object that suddenly explodes into new life. It's easy to see why the church adopted eggs as symbols of returning life. And those cracked and no-longer-needed shells certainly resemble an empty tomb.

In the Roman rite, there's even a blessing for eggs at Easter, and by the 13th century people had begun coloring eggs. Why? Colors are important in our liturgy -- more on that later -- but in the beginning people dyed eggs bright red to symbolize Christ's blood. This was followed by an explosion of color, and by the 13th century, King Edward I of England was so into the custom that he prepared 450 magnificently dyed Easter eggs, some covered in gold leaf, for his royal court.

Easter bunnies. It's harder to place them in religious tradition, and no special ritual prayer exists for our cotton-tailed friends. However, again since pagan times, rabbits have been symbols of fertility, their reproductive prowess well-known throughout history. They, too, embody the rebirth that comes in the Easter season, and our culture has tasked them with delivering all those symbolic eggs that mark Easter Sunday.

The beautiful colors of Easter are echoed in the church's liturgical colors. Lent is full of purple and violet, of course, the colors of penance and sacrifice. But Laetare Sunday, the fourth Sunday of Lent, surprises us with beautiful rose, the color of our joyful anticipation. Easter Sunday brings us pure white vestments, sometimes adorned with gold, the colors of celebration, victory, joy and rebirth. On Easter morning, after you find the colorful eggs that the Easter Bunny brought, be sure to add a traditional and personal "Alleluia" to the greatest liturgical celebration of our church year.

EASTER 2021

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

Early on Easter morning, three women go to the tomb of Jesus to anoint His body, per Jewish custom. Approaching the tomb, they discuss the dilemma of rolling back the large stone that covers the entrance, for it is too heavy for them to move. It is at this moment that they realize the stone has been rolled away and, upon entering the tomb, Jesus' body is nowhere to be found. Rather, an angel greets them with the instruction, "Do not be amazed!" Jesus had risen just as He had foretold. (Mark 16:1-7)

How often during this past year have we discussed with one another our human frailty amid the heavy burdens that confront us? Like the three women, we continue with our daily responsibilities amid uncertainty, doubt, and confusion. If this past year has taught us anything, a lesson may be that we have less control over our lives and the successes we seek than we once thought. Rather than depress or frustrate us, this realization should be a consolation to all those who celebrate the Resurrection.

It was precisely in this moment of the recognition of weakness that the glory of God was made manifest. While the women entered the empty tomb in sheer amazement, the heavenly being reminded them, "Do not be amazed!" What is burdensome, overwhelming, destructive, and even deadly for humans, is conquered by Christ. God has promised to save us, and Christ has surely risen from the dead. Do not be amazed!

What the angel is instructing the women – and all of us now – is to believe that God is faithful. Every worry of the human heart comes from a lack of trust in God's faithfulness. During Lent, we may have profoundly experienced these worries as we tried to let go of the behaviors or treasures we cling to for security and comfort. At Easter, we rejoice in the event of God's faithfulness that destroys the fears, even the ultimate fear of death, forever. Rather than be amazed, or in disbelief of the saving power of God, we are called to rejoice in His faithfulness and love for us.

I invite you to ponder the reading from Isaiah 54 that was read at the Easter Vigil. We hear the Lord say:

Though the mountains leave their place and the hills be shaken, my love shall never leave you nor my covenant of peace be shaken, says the LORD, who has mercy on you...

All your children shall be taught by the LORD, and great shall be the peace of your children. In justice shall you be established, far from the fear of oppression, where destruction cannot come near you. (Is 54:10-14)

In the many ways we have all been challenged, confounded, or wounded this past year, I ask you to bring these burdens to the empty tomb. Together with the women, encounter the glory of God's faithfulness and let your heart rejoice in His mercy and love for you. His love will never leave you. Let us all bring the joy of the Resurrection, which we celebrate at every Mass, to our families and communities.

With a heart full of gratitude for your faithfulness, I am,
Sincerely yours in Christ,

+ Jerome E. Listeki
