Pastor Dan's Weekly Message

LIVE THE LITURGY - INSPIRATION FOR THE WEEK

Anyone familiar with gardening knows that proper and timely pruning is essential. The health of the plant depends upon it. An unpruned tree can quickly produce suckers that zap many of the essential nutrients from its body. Pruning requires patience and vision. Studies reveal that plants often respond defensively to being pruned, displaying reactions that are similar to hurt or discomfort. Pruning is not easy but necessary. A hard lesson for us to learn is that we also need to be pruned. We become far healthier when we allow God to stretch, refine, and form us into the best version of ourselves. The fruit that then comes from our vines will be more abundant, nutritious, and robust. Left to our own devices we can easily find ourselves running amuck and spiraling out of control. Without a proper vision and trust in the Master Pruner, we will never find the contentment we desperately desire. Nor will the work of the Gospel stand a chance of succeeding. ©LPi

Stewardship: Belong, Believe, Become

Today's Gospel is from John 15:1-8, which - ironically - I touched on last week! While I focused on the "remain in Jesus" part of the verse last week, I want to focus on the last line: "By this is my Father glorified, that you bear much fruit and become my disciples." God is glorified when we bear much fruit and become Jesus' disciples. But what does it mean to "bear fruit?" I have pondered what this means for my daily life. I don't have actual branches coming off me. And I don't think Jesus meant that I need to be an actual farmer, which is good because I do NOT have a green thumb! But I was challenged recently when I heard this question "What kind of fruit is your life producing?" This question, posed by Fr. Dave Pivonka in the "Wild Goose" series, was followed by Galatians 5:22-23 which gave me a different view on bearing fruit: "...the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, generosity, faithfulness, gentleness, self-control." Jesus' words were to remain in Him. If we are remaining in Jesus, then the Holy Spirit dwells within us. And when we allow the Holy Spirit to dwell and work through us, we naturally bear fruit. It is not something we need to grasp at or earn. It comes, like flowers blooming in the spring after a good rain. Allow the Holy Spirit to work through you, then those fruits of love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, generosity, faithfulness, gentleness, and self-control will bloom in your life and bear fruit for the Kingdom of God.

To God be the Glory, Kelsey - kdemarais@stpaulgenese.net

Fun Facts for Catholic Kids 'of ALL Ages

When was the First Communion?

On the night that Jesus was betrayed, he took bread, blessed, broke it, and shared it with his apostles saying "This is my body, which is given for you. Do this in remembrance of me." Luke 22:19 In a similar way, he took the cup and blessed it saying, "This cup that is poured out for you is the new covenant in my blood." Luke 22:20

So the Last Supper was THE First Communion! The words Jesus spoke are the very words we hear during the consecration prayer.

Today we celebrate First Communion with our St. Bruno children. They have been preparing since September for this joyous occasion, and I know they are so excited to receive Jesus in the Eucharist.

In today's Gospel John 15:1-8 Jesus tells us, "I am the true vine, and my Father is the vine grower." He goes on to say, "Remain in me, as I remain in you." What does Jesus mean by remain? Remain is a verb defined as: continue to exist, continue to possess a particular quality or fulfill a particular role, to stay in the place that one has been occupying. Jesus tells us to STAY with him. How do we do that? One of the best ways for us to STAY with Jesus, is to attend Mass each week. We need to hear the Word of God AND to receive Jesus in Eucharist every week. This helps us to live a good life and to face our challenges with the help of God.

First Communion is truly a very special day for our children and their families. Communion is defined as the sharing or exchange of intimate thoughts and feelings. In the context of Mass, our Communion (Eucharist) is the consecrated bread that is shared. (CCC 1331): "[it is called] Holy Communion, because by this sacrament we unite ourselves to Christ, who makes us sharers in his Body and Blood to form a single body."

Remain in Jesus by celebrating Mass and receiving Communion every week!! As our children come forward to receive their FIRST communion, may we be reminded of the eternal importance of coming to Mass every week to receive Jesus in the Eucharist.

God bless — Amy Golden aldgolden@gmail.com

NEW LIFE IN CHRIST Chapter 2

For the next few weeks, we will hear from people who have been in parish small groups for faith sharing. Last week I wrote about the new growth, like mayapples in spring. Just as the mayapples are growing, so, too, are your fellow parish members.

"I love the small group discussions. It is one of the reasons I joined the men's group at the parish. Sometimes you think you are alone in the way you think or struggles you are having in life or faith. Then you sit down and talk with others that you don't know and you find you are not alone. Other people in your parish are struggling with the same items you are. It also gives me a chance to listen and learn from others. I also meet other members of the parish that I may not know and that has blossomed into long term friendships. Small groups help us to open our minds up more and do things to help strengthen our faith that normally we may not do. I am very grateful my wife "pushed" me into the men's group years ago. I know for a fact my faith is much stronger today because of it. [Studies like] Alpha and The Search are great ways to strengthen our faith by challenging us to look at our faith differently than we have in the past." Mary Kral, mkral@stpaulgeneseene.net

EVERYDAY STEWARDSHIP -

RECOGNIZE GOD IN YOUR ORDINARY MOMENTS: Branching Out Isn't Always What It's Cracked Up to Be

"That's a really beautiful tree branch. Man, would you look at the bark on that thing? The others are real duds, but that low-hanging branch has really got it all together."

I've never heard anyone say this. Maybe I just need to hang out with more arborists, but I can't recall ever hearing someone admire the particular beauty of a single branch. When someone comments on a tree, it's usually the whole tree — perhaps a visual element of it, like the color of the leaves or its height. But people don't usually zero in on one branch.

Maybe that's because usually, if one branch is looking a little weak, chances are every other branch is, too.

The Bible tells us that when we bear fruit as good everyday stewards, it is for the Father's glory. We are the branch on His magnificent tree. What we have is from Him, and what we do likewise points back to Him. We also tend to reflect how well the other branches around us are incorporating the nutrients coming their way. That's all fine and good in theory. In practice, it can be an arduous exercise in humility.

When I do something virtuous or charitable or kind, there is a part of me that wants to stand out for it. I think that's true for all of us. We've given of ourselves in some way or overcome some human temptation to accomplish a little bit of good in this world, and even though we know God sees us, we'd really love for everyone else to see it, too.

It's a struggle, for sure. But we need to remember that our fruit belongs to the whole tree.

WHY DO WE DO THAT? CATHOLIC TRADITION EXPLAINED

Question: Is gossip a mortal sin?

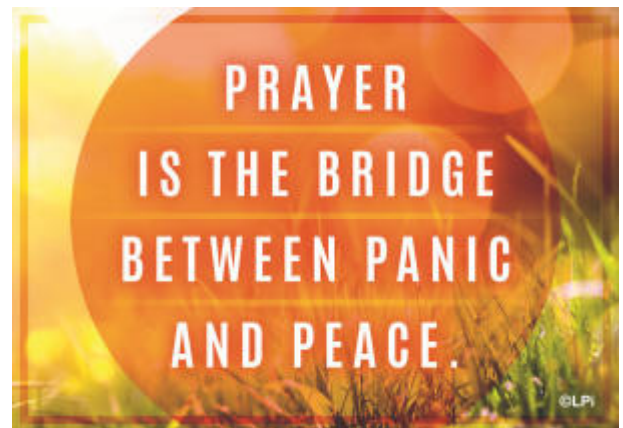

Answer: To really ask this question, we must consider the Eighth Commandment: "You shall not bear false witness."

In its reflections on this commandment, The Catechism of the Catholic Church invites us to not only think about what bearing "false witness" means, but to also consider how we understand the truth and how we communicate more broadly. This is why so much of this section of the Catechism has to do with the gift of language. With this in mind, we will notice that the word "gossip" isn't used by the Catechism. Instead, we find the words "detraction" and "calumny," which are actually two forms that gossip can take, and both can be quite serious.

First, detraction is the of revealing "another's faults and failings to persons who did not know them," without morally valid reasons. Calumny, by extension, is saying something about another person that is untrue, and it is sinful because it "harms the reputation of others and gives occasion for false judgements" (see no. 2477).

In all of our communication, we have to always recognize that we have a moral obligation to the truth and to always work to protect the reputation and honor of our neighbors (see no. 2479).

Gossip can, in fact, prove to be a very serious sin. After all, the Catechism reminds us: "No one is bound to reveal the truth to someone who does not have the right to know it" (no. 2489). When we have gossiped, especially if we are aware we have damaged another person's good name or reputation, we want to make every effort to undo the damage we have done, including seeking the grace and forgiveness offered in the Sacrament of Reconciliation. ©LPi
