St. Denis, Bishop and Companions, Matryrs October 9 Feast day

Saint Denis was a missionary bishop sent to Gaul in the mid-third century, perhaps by the martyr Pope Saint Fabian. By that time, Gaul had been evangelized only in pockets. Blanket conversion of its numerous tribes was destined for a later century, when a unified kingdom imposed a unified faith. Even great movements must have modest beginnings. So the bishop Denis, the priest Rusticus, and the deacon Eleutherius made their way north to a small Roman city called Lutetia, on the banks of the Seine River, where they served both native Romans and the Parisii, the local Gallic tribe. Denis and his companions settled on an island next to Lutetia called, today, Île de la Cité. It is the heart of Paris, the site of Notre Dame Cathedral, and the zero point from which all distances are measured in France. Denis and his companions, embodying the three Holy Orders, were successful enough to provoke the envy of pagan priests who convinced the local governor to imprison and torture them.

San Dionisio y compañeros, Mártires 9 de Octubre

Dionisio legó a Francia hacia el 250 ó 270 desde Italia con seis compañeros con el fin de evangelizarla. Fue el primer obispo de París, y apóstol de las Galias. Dionisio fundó en Francia muchas iglesias y fue martirizado en el 272, junto con Rústico y Eleuterio, durante la persecución de Valeriano. Según creen algunos es en Montmartre (mons Martyrum), o en el sur de la Isla de la Cité, según otros, donde se eleva, en la actualidad, la ciudad de Saint-Denis lugar en el que fueron condenados a muerte. Según las Vidas de san Dionisio, escritas en la época caolingia, tras ser deapitado, Dionisio andvo durnte seis kilómetros con su cabeza bajo el brazo, atravesando Montmartre, por el camino que, más tarde, sería cnosido como calle de los Mártires. Al término de su trayecto, entregó su cabeza a una piadosa mujer descendiente de la nobleza romana, llamada Casulla, y después se desplomó. En ese puto exacto se edifice una basilica en su honor. La ciudad se llama actualmente Saint-Denis.

Saint John Leonardi, Priest

1541–1609

Saint John Leonardi, may your generous example of priestly service inspire a holy jealousy among priests so that they burn with the same desire that consumed you in service to Christ and Mary in the heart of the Church.

9 de Octubre

Juan Leonardi, Santo Presbítero

Fundador de la Orden de Clérigos Regulares de la Madre de Dios

Martirologio Romano: San Juan Leonardi, presbítero, que dejó la ciudad de Luca, en la Toscana, donde ejercía como farmacéutico, para llegar a ser sacerdote, y con el fin de enseñar a los niños la doctrina cristiana, restaurar la vida apostólica del clero y propagar la fe cristiana, instituyó la Orden de Clérigos Regulares, más tarde llamados de la Madre de Dios, debiendo sufrir por ello muchas contradicciones. También inició el Colegio de Propaganda Fide, en el que, agotado por los trabajos, descansó piadosamente (1609).

Saint Callistus, you served an earthly master as a slave and a heavenly master as a deacon and pope. You made Christian burial and praying for the dead a defining feature of the Church of Rome. May we honor you in death just as you honored so well your own forebearers in the faith.

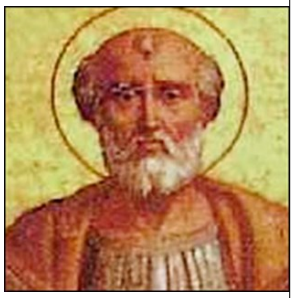
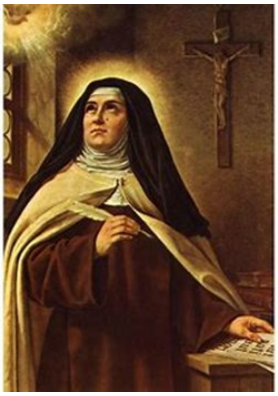
Popes owned slaves for centuries to row their boats, cook their meals, and care for their horses and carriages. Kings, nobles, and middle class families owned slaves. It was a ubiquitous institution not necessarily rooted in racism, which was a latecomer as a rationale for enslavement. Rather, prisoners of war and criminals of every skin color were enslaved as alternatives to capital punishment. Others were born into slavery from slave mothers, and still others in desperate circumstances sold themselves into slavery in exchange for food, shelter, and security. Today's saint, according to ancient sources, served as a slave in a Roman home for many years and thus was part of that massive social reality of slavery that not even Saint Paul explicitly condemned in his letter to Philemon. Since he was an intelligent and resourceful servant, Callistus' master put him in charge of his personal bank. But when Callistus lost its deposits, he was blamed and was eventually exiled to the mines of Sardinia. At some point he was released from this hard labor and earned freedom from his slave status.



San Calixto I Papa Y Martir :14 de Octubre

Martirologio Romano: San Calixto I, papa y mártir, que, cuando era diácono, después de un destierro en la isla de Cerdeña tuvo a su cuidado el cementerio de la vía Apia que lleva su nombre, donde dejó para la posteridad las memorias de mártires, y elegido papa, promovió la recta doctrina, reconcilió benignamente a los apóstatas, terminando su intenso pontificado con la gloria del martirio. En este día se conmemora su sepultura en el cementerio de Calepodio, en la vía Aurelia, en Roma (c. 222).



St. Teresa of Jesus

Mystic | Teacher of Prayer | Doctor of the Church

St. Teresa of Jesus was born on March 28, 1515, in Avila, Spain. Her mother died when she was 14, and she entered the Carmelite Monastery in Avila in 1535. Her life as a Carmelite, though far removed from the mainstream of modern culture, still speaks powerfully to us today.

Santa Teresa de Jesús
