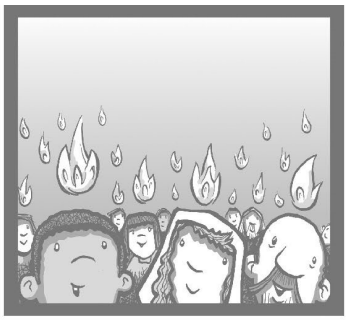
Pentecost Sunday



As the Gospel of John depicts the Last Supper, Jesus leaves the disciples with these words before they rise from the table: "The Advocate, the Holy Spirit whom the Father will send in my name, will teach you everything and remind you of all that I told you" (John 14:26). Jesus knows that he will be arrested that very night. He knows the kind of death he will suffer the next day, Good Friday. We might think Jesus tells his disciples to watch for the coming of the Holy Spirit because he simply runs out of time to leave them complete instructions about how to build the church. Rather, Jesus tells his disciples to look forward to the Spirit because the ongoing work of teaching and guiding is what the Spirit does best. The Advocate is not a hand-me-down replacement for the risen Jesus; the Holy Spirit is fully God, with mysterious power to help us grow in holiness.

COME TOGETHER

Jesus speaks grandly of the Holy Spirit, the third person of the Trinity. He promises that the Spirit will teach "everything." Everything! Jesus' words reveal the completeness of God's plan. God, who could have chosen any method in the world to offer salvation to humanity, insists on acting as a unity of three persons in perfect complementarity. This is a profound and delightful mystery. We praise the one, undivided God, whose very existence is a communion. Contemplating God, we feel the awesome power of community. God prefers existing in relationship, and so must we. We recognize the sacred call to interdependence. This glorious feast of Pentecost invites us to consider all the people we know—and maybe especially the ones we tend to fear, reject, ignore, or dread—and ask the Spirit to teach us how to form better relationships with them. Even if we have tried before and failed, we boldly ask again. As Jesus says, the Spirit teaches everything.

Today's Readings: Acts 2:1–11; Ps 104:1, 24, 29–30, 31, 34; 1 Cor 12:3b–7, 12–13 or Rom 8:8–17; Jn 20:19–23 or Jn 14:15–16, 23b–26

Domingo de Pentecostés

Así como el Evangelio de Juan describe la Última Cena, Jesús deja a sus discípulos con estas palabras antes de que se levanten de la mesa: "el Consolador, el Espíritu Santo, quien el Padre enviará en mi nombre, hará que recuerden lo que yo les he enseñado y les explicará todo" (Juan 14, 26). Jesús sabe que él será arrestado esa misma noche. Él sabe el tipo de muerte que sufrirá el día siguiente, el Viernes Santo. Podríamos pensar que Jesús les dice a sus discípulos esperar la venida del Espíritu Santo porque a él simplemente se le acabó el tiempo para dejarles instrucciones completas acerca de cómo edificar la Iglesia. Más bien, Jesús les dice a sus discípulos esperar al Espíritu porque el trabajo en curso de enseñar y guiar es lo que el Espíritu hace mejor. El Consolador no es un sustituto para Jesús resucitado; el Espíritu Santo es plenamente Dios, con una fuerza misteriosa para ayudarnos a crecer en santidad.

REUNIRSE

Jesús habla magníficamente del Espíritu Santo, la tercera persona de la Santísima Trinidad. Él promete que el Espíritu Santo enseñará "todo". ¡Todo! Las palabras de Jesús revelan la plenitud del plan de Dios. Dios, quien pudo haber elegido cualquier otro método en el mundo para ofrecer la salvación a la humanidad, insiste en actuar como una unidad de tres personas en perfecta complementariedad. Este es un misterio profundo y precioso. Alabamos al único, indivisible Dios, quien en su misma existencia es una comunión. Contemplando a Dios, sentimos la maravillosa fuerza de comunidad. Dios prefiere existir en una relación, y así también debemos nosotros. Reconocemos el llamado sagrado para la dependencia recíproca. Esta gloriosa celebración de Pentecostés nos invita a considera a todas las personas que conocemos, y quizá especialmente a quienes les tenemos, los rechazamos, ignoramos o nos intimidan, y pedir al Espíritu a enseñarnos cómo formar una mejor relación con ellos. Aún si ya lo intentamos antes y fallamos, y con valentía lo pedimos otra vez. Así como Jesús dice, el Espíritu enseña todo.

COME TO US, SPIRIT OF HOLINESS
Holy Spirit,
you banish fear from our hearts;
you bear witness in us that we are children of God;
we pray to you: Remove from our hearts the spirit of slaves; place in us the spirit of adopted children to make us cry out, Abba, Father!

Parish Raffle

The Immaculate Conception Church parish council and finance council have decided to conduct a large raffle fundraiser this year in lieu of the traditional fundraisers conducted during the year. This will be a church-wide effort including the Christian Children's Fund, CYO, Hispanic ministries, Altar Society, Knights of Columbus and lay members of the church. This "Big Raffle" will be held to replace the Spring & Fall Festivals, Mardi Gras Dance, KC's fall gun raffle, Altar Society's Louis Vuitton Purse raffle, and CYO fundraisers. To replace these activities we will need participation from all of our parishioners and friends.

This year we are asking all donations or sponsors that have donated or given an item for auction to the festivals to please donate to our big raffle, you can bring your donation to the Parish office.
