Letter from the Pastor

Last week in the city of Worcester we all came together.

The usual negative players tried to upset our unity and give their divisive agenda but they failed. And we more importantly people saw things the way they really are.
Lets move forward.

Since May we have had twenty funerals here. To all of our grieving families we offer our sympathy and support.

This Saturday there is a needed change of pace. We celebrate the marriage of Renee Robichaud and Joseph Lace. Congratulations.
It will be nice to see someone walking down the aisle.

The Legacy of Hope Campaign is moving forward. Thanks to all who have Contributed. I think that all of us can do something.
The concept of pledges is simple. We are saying that we hope to contribute a certain amount for four years. That's what helps in making our goal. Its projection, obviously. So think about it and let it happen.

We are in Ordinary Time in the year of the Church.

Ordinary Time is about the public ministry of Jesus who went about doing good, healing those in the grip of the devil. We are all called to public ministry.

Every year I say that the most important self revelation for all of us is to realize that we are ordinary people. Be who you are.
So much of life is pretending to be someone that we are not.

The readings address the problems of life which are many. Poor Job is in the midst of a storm.

The Gospel talks of the Apostles in the midst of a storm in which the boat appears to be sinking. Jesus seems to be sleeping and of no help.

Then He says to them and to us, Quiet Be Still. Why are you terrified? Do you not yet have faith?

The challenge of St. Paul is for us to become a new creation.
The old things have passed away. New things have come.
Some days its easy, others its not.

In Christ
Monsignor Francis Scollen

We want to share this update with you about our Legacy of Hope Campaign.
So far we have raised $200,000 at St. Peter's and $54,000 from St. Andrew's. Thank you.
Those gifts came from 60/11 families. That means only 15% 0f our parish has responded. May we suggest this. Take an envelope and fill in just your personal information. Leave the envelope on your desk or kitchen table and think about it for a few days. Go back to it by Friday and commit to a one time gift or better yet a pledge and return your envelope next weekend. Remember this campaign is about sacrifice and not amounts. Join the rest of us who have participated and make a Legacy for the future.
Because He wants our love to be pure. He wants us to give out of simple love for Him and for those in need. He wants us to know the joy that comes when our generosity goes unnoticed and others benefit from our good works without knowing it.
Finally, Jesus knows that human gratitude and appreciation are short-lived and unsatisfying. He wants us to receive something greater - the gratitude that comes from God and that is rewarded with everlasting life.
God bless you all…
