Weekly Message

A life-long Catholic friend of mine recently mumbled to me, "I can't stand all these converts to the faith. They're always rocking the boat." It surprised me because he is dedicated to evangelization, and yet he struggles with openness to new Catholics. It made me realize how easily I close my heart to those whom I perceive to be outsiders who become new members of the Catholic community. Almost unconsciously I reduce the world to the categories of "us" and "them." The result is that meaningful community silently shrinks in my life. Don't we all do that to some degree?

This week Jesus' punchy parable about the two sons blows up that black and white world. One son said he wouldn't get to work, and then did. The other said he would, and then he did not. "Which did the will of his father?" asks the Lord. Like so many of us, in identifying the first as the answer, the religious authorities manifest hidden hypocrisy in refusing to follow Jesus. They — like us — intuit the correct path but simply won't do it. The tax collectors and prostitutes are indeed following Jesus and thereby getting to work in the kingdom of God. Everyone is called to do God's will regardless of the labels we may apply to them.

This week let's reject the convenient but damaging categories of "insiders" and "outsiders." Instead, let's embrace a grateful attitude that Jesus is calling fallen, weak, and broken men and women like you and me. Then we begin to see that the tax collectors and prostitutes aren't them. They are us. And Jesus wants all of us working in his boat, no matter the rocking. — Father John Muir ©LPi

Transubstantiation

The bread and wine still look like bread and wine. The bread and wine will still taste like bread and wine. The bread and wine will still smell and feel like bread and wine. Yet, what was bread, is no longer bread but now Jesus, now the Eucharist. Our earthly human eyes see one thing – bread, but our faith eyes see something different – Jesus. We trust our faith eyes more than our human eyes because we trust Jesus. Jesus told us the bread becoming Him is truth, so we know that it is truth.

It is a miracle. A miracle is something that we cannot understand. A miracle goes against what nature can do, but it is still real and true. Our five senses cannot see a difference, but our faith alone does. We do not need to understand it to believe it! This is faith.

For preschoolers, I would explain in even simpler terms. Say to these littlest, "Raise your hand if you have seen the priest hold up the big white Host – a big white circle at Mass." Let them all respond. Then, to be sure that everyone is visualizing the same moment at Mass, show an actual picture of a priest holding up the Eucharist at Mass.

Pointing to the Eucharist in the picture, say, "with the words of the priest and by the power of the Holy Spirit the big white Host becomes the Eucharist! That is Jesus!"

Jesus said, "This is my body." Since we know we can trust Jesus, we believe it!

The host may still look like round, flat bread, but is really Jesus . . . His Body, His Blood, His Soul, and His Divinity, His kingship and Godliness.

SOURCE: Catholic Link

At the first Family Class in September, we gathered around the Altar and talked about the miracle of transubstantiation. One of the children said, "I want to see that miracle". We can't see a physical change, but our faith tells us that Jesus is fully present at the moment of consecration.

Thinking About Becoming Catholic?

Learn more about RCIA! This process is for unbaptized adults and those baptized in other Christian traditions who wish to be received into the Catholic Church. It is also for those baptized Catholics who have not been raised in the faith, and who now wish to complete their Initiation Sacraments. The reception of the sacraments of Baptism, Confirmation, and Eucharist is usually celebrated at our parish Easter Vigil Liturgy. The preparation process takes place throughout the year on Sunday mornings after 9am mass at St Paul. For more information, contact the parish office.

Ordinary vs. Extraordinary Ministers of Holy Communion

The words ordinary and extraordinary have several shades of meaning in our culture and in our Church. In our cultural context, the word "ordinary" can mean "normal, standard or commonplace; having no special or significant features." Sometimes we even associate the word "ordinary" with "plain" or "unimpressive" — It is just an ordinary day. On the other hand, our cultural use of the word "extraordinary" can mean something "remarkable, special or grand" — She is an extraordinary musician!

In the Church, we use the word "ordinary" most frequently when referring to the liturgical season, "Ordinary Time." In this context, "ordinary" comes from the Latin term ordinalis, which means "numbered" or "ruled." It can also be "ordered." This is the origin of our word for "ordination." Likewise, when the Church refers to something as "extraordinary" it simply means it is "extra," or "outside" of the ordinary.

Every liturgical celebration is an action of Christ and the Church — that is, the faithful people, who are united and "ordered" under the bishop of a diocese. Because priests and bishops offer the sacrifice of the Eucharist in the person of Christ, and deacons assist with the distribution of the Eucharist, they are the "ordinary" ministers. That is what they are ordained to do — it is a normal part of their ministry. Lay men and women who distribute Holy Communion do so as extraordinary ministers because it is outside of their normal responsibilities as members of the liturgical assembly.

The Church allows for extraordinary ministers of Holy Communion to assist the ordinary ministers when required by the size of the congregation. Extraordinary ministers should receive adequate spiritual, theological and practical preparation so they can fulfill their role with reverence and respect for the Real Presence of Christ in the Eucharist. Their extra-ordinary role is to assist the ordinary ministers in the distribution Holy Communion to the congregation. In the United States, extraordinary ministers do not purify vessels, they do not distribute Holy Communion to ordained clergy and their number should not be increased beyond what is necessary for an orderly and reverent distribution of Holy Communion.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL

On September 27, the Church celebrates the feast of St. Vincent de Paul, who knew that "God had sent him to bring good news to the poor."
Together with your gifts, the members of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul continue his work and mission in our parish.

This month, through your gifts, the Society of St. Vincent de Paul was able to "bring good news to the poor," by assisting families, providing food, money for utility and rent bills, etc.

WORD OF LIFE

"Radical solidarity compels us to come alongside vulnerable mothers in profound friendship, compassion, and support for both them and their preborn children. It requires us to address the fundamental challenges that lead an expectant mother to believe she is unable to welcome the child God has entrusted to her. We must do all we can to provide mothers, children, and families with the support they need to flourish. This cannot be accomplished by laws or policy alone, but requires the continual transformation of our own hearts."
