FIFTH SUNDAY OF LENT

By your help, we beseech you, Lord our God, may we walk eagerly in that same charity with which, out of love for the world, your Son handed himself over to death. Through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son, who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit, God, for ever and ever.

GOSPEL MEDITATION - St. John, 8:1-11

Today's Gospel refers to the woman caught in adultery. "The two of them were left on their own, the wretched woman and Jesus. But the Lord, having smitten the scribes and Pharisees with the dart of injustice, does not even deign to watch them go but turns his gaze away and once more writes on the ground. When the woman was left alone, Jesus lifted up His eyes to the woman. We have already heard the voice of justice; let us now hear the voice of gentleness. I think that woman was the most terrified when she heard the Lord say, 'Let him who is without sin among you be the first to throw a stone at her,' . . . fearing now that she would be punished by Him, in whom no sin could be found. But He, who had driven away her adversaries with the tongue of justice, now looking at her with the eyes of mercy, asks her, 'Has no one condemned you?' She replies, 'No one, Lord.' And He says, 'Neither do I condemn you; I who perhaps you feared would punish you, because in me you have found no sin.' Lord, can it be that you favor sinners? Assuredly not. See what follows: 'Go and sin no more.' Therefore, the Lord also condemned sin, but not the woman' (St Augustine, In Ioann. Evang.). God's infinite mercy should move us to have compassion on those who commit sins, because we too are sinners and in need of His forgiveness.

St. Vincent Ferrer (1350-1419) was born in Valencia, Spain, and died in Vannes, Britany. He was a great scholar and became Master of Theology, learning the entire Bible by heart. He was also a great preacher, and preached throughout Europe. Jews, infidels and heretics were converted by his sermons. The most obdurate sinners embraced a life of holiness. The favorite topic of his sermons was the final judgment. He repeated the words of the prophet, "Arise, ye dead, and come to the judgment." He is often called the "Angel of the Judgment." A renowned wonder-worker, St. Vincent cured the sick, the blind and the lame. His feast day is April 5.
