A MESSAGE FROM FR. MARC

Fr. Marc Bishop - Pastor
St. Agnes and St. Camillus

Dear Faith Family,

Over the last several months you may have noticed that our bell system at St. Agnes Church has fallen silent. As if on cue, when the COVID-19 Pandemic prevented us from gathering at the Church the bell system ceased to work. The system itself served our community well for the better part of 60 years. When I first arrived at St. Agnes, I inquired of the company that had been doing maintenance on the system of what they thought its future was. At that time, they notified me that they no longer had an employee that was qualified to work on it. Then I knew it was only a matter of time. In the end, we could only operate the bells manually. That quickly came to an end as well.

We have actively engaged a vendor to replace the system. I hope to have the bells back at St. Agnes for Christmas. Church bells are a sign of hope in dark times. They lift the spirit to think of the holy things of God and His power to save. I will keep you informed of our installation plans.

Our democratic process of voting should also be a hope filled moment. I fear this task of democracy has become a burden that leads many to despair. Hope can return when we allow God to inform our hearts and minds. Please, seek hope in a prayerful and informed approach to voting this November 3rd.

I encourage all eligible to vote in our community to do so. I pray that you not only meet your responsibility to vote but meet your responsibility to vote fully informed. The Bishops of the United States have provided us with a document that every Catholic voter should read before entering the ballot box: Forming Consciences for Faithful Citizenship- https://www.usccb.org/offices/justice-peace-human-development/forming-consciences-faithful-citizenship. There are many voices, masquerading as Catholic voices, currently competing for our fealty. This is properly given only to God and no earthly entity.

Love compels us "to 'go into all the world and proclaim the good news to the whole creation' (Mk 16:15)" (Evangelii Gaudium, no. 181). "Here," Pope Francis continues, "'the creation' refers to every aspect of human life; consequently, 'the mission of proclaiming the good news of Jesus Christ has a universal destination. Its mandate of charity encompasses all dimensions of existence, all individuals, all areas of community life, and all peoples. Nothing human can be alien to it'" (Evangelii Gaudium, no. 181).

Above all, the common outcry, which is justly made on behalf of human rights-for example, the right to health, to home, to work, to family, to culture-is false and illusory if the right to life, the most basic and fundamental right and the condition for all other personal rights, is not defended with maximum determination. (Christifideles Laici, no. 38)

"The first (temptation in public life) is a moral equivalence that makes no ethical distinctions between different kinds of issues involving human life and dignity. The direct and intentional destruction of innocent human life from the moment of conception until natural death is always wrong and is not just one issue among many. It must always be opposed." FCFC, para. 28.

As a combat veteran, I have seen the tragedy when life is treated like a commodity. I also, in the same places, saw life understood for all its awesome complexity. We need to be clear that all believers in a creating God need to do all they can to reverence life from the first moment of conception to the last moment of natural death.

God Bless,
Fr. Marc

PRAYER

Roger Mansen
Director of Liturgy and Music

MUSIC NOTES from Roger

Music -- whether sung or played, performed or listened to -- is a form of prayer. It is a comfort and balm for the soul. This is especially true for music experienced at church. We know that God is with us throughout our days and nights, but coming to church brings us into God's presence in a unique way. When we enter into the church building for Mass, we are coming into the presence of God in the Blessed Sacrament. Beyond that, the very act of our entrance into the building is an active form of preparing for worship and prayer that is more formal and directed than at most other times in our day. We enter the church with the intention of gathering with others for the Eucharist; and, to be renewed and readied for the next day, week or chapter in our lives.

Personally, I feel a sense of 'hushed and quiet reflection' the moment I enter a church building. This is my first reaction as I leave the world of noise and distraction--and choose to enter the world of prayer. Oddly enough, the larger the church, the quieter and more inward my prayer becomes. I yearn to physically and emotionally receive that sense of holy that pervades a church building by kneeling or sitting or sometimes, just being there and letting the feeling of peace and calm wash over me to carry me into a prayerful place.

The music that we hear as we enter the church for Mass is called the Prelude, and serves a specific purpose. It is there to help settle you and your thoughts and feelings, some of which may be right at the top of your heart or on the tip of your tongue. The prelude music is not simply a passive noise used to fill a moment that might otherwise be silent, but rather to help transport you into a place of inward reflection that will lead you into prayer with God. The music may be based on a particular hymn tune or it may be a freely composed selection that is contemplative and meditative. In either instance, the Prelude is designed to help us with that moment of transfer from the secular noise and hustle and bustle of everyday living into a place of reverence and preparedness for worshipping God.

The purpose of the Prelude is actually the direct opposite of the intent of the Postlude, or the music that we used to hear at the end of Mass. The closing music is more a call to 'go out into the world and bring the Gospel of Jesus'. It is uplifting and vibrant in its message and far more active and energetic in its intent to 'push you out' into the world to do God's work. You may notice that I just wrote "used to hear at the end of Mass". Because of our safety precautions, we are now ending the Mass in a different manner by receiving the Blessed Sacrament as we leave. As a result, we hear a quieter communion-themed song followed by organ music of a like nature, peaceful and personal as we receive God. Nevertheless, whether a joyous, raucous organ postlude, or a contemplative communion prayer, the purpose of the closing music is to send us out from the church renewed, and ready to begin our mission as Christians in the world.

Let the music in the Arlington Catholic Collaborative prepare you, lift you up, bring you into the presence of the Holy, and send you out into the world, carrying the divine within you.

EVANGELIZATION

Fr. Robert Sahayaraj, OCD

In the Gospel today, Jesus gives us the greatest commandment of love. "You shall love the Lord, your God, with all your heart, with all your soul, and with all your mind. You shall love your neighbor as yourself".

No one ever said that being a follower of Jesus was going to be easy. We are not only called to have a relationship with God, we are also called to be aware of and concerned about those with whom we live and work. We are called to love our neighbors as we love God and ourselves. We are reminded of this when we read in the bible, how can we love God, whom we cannot see and not love our neighbor whom we see?

Being a Christian and a follower of Jesus is about relationships. Being a disciple of Jesus is about how we live our life in relation to others and God. If we say we love God but not taking time to be aware of and concerned about those around us, then something important is missing. If we pray, but then ignore those around us at home or in work that needs our help, what is the point of praying? Praying is not about pleasing God or making ourselves feel better. Prayer is about developing our friendship and relationship with God. Then, having prayed, we are called to turn our attention to those around us, who need our help, support, and love.

"Being a Christian and a follower of Jesus is about relationships"

In Matthew's Gospel, Jesus reminds that whatever we do for each other, we do for Jesus himself. Whatever we fail to do for each other, we fail to do for Jesus. The small gesture of love can have the great impacts in our lives and in the lives of others. It is through small deeds, actions and gestures of love that our love for others and our faith can be seen and made visible. We should never underestimate the power of a small gesture or act such as a smile or a kind word. These small acts of kindness show how in our lives we love God and others and ourselves with all our heart, mind and soul. May we love God always with all our heart, soul, and mind, and we love our neighbors as we love ourselves.
