8th Sunday in Ordinary Time

What we say and how we say it reveals the true intentions of our hearts. The content and manner of our speech is a window into the recesses of our souls. Our consciences, attitudes, sentiments, weaknesses, and motives are displayed. As much as we think we can hide the truth of our lives from others, we cannot. Who we really are is not only expressed on our lips but is written on our faces. Jesus says precisely this, "For every tree is known by its own fruit." What does the fruit of our lives say about us?

Because we like to play the game of hide and seek with ourselves, in pretending that we are hiding we deflect attention others may give to us by becoming more critical of others. After all, the more time one can spend analyzing others' behavior the less time one has to look at his or herself. Often, the behaviors we abhor most in others are the very ones we are guilty of ourselves. We just don't know it yet. The more we put ourselves in the role of a judge, the more satisfaction and control we seem to achieve. Yet, what about ourselves? In focusing our attention on the beams in others' eyes, the aridity and barrenness of our lives goes unchecked. St. Ambrose reminds us that "no one heals himself by wounding another." Bringing our brothers and sisters down by being overly critical, serves no positive purpose.

But the one who knows how easy it is to fall into sin and weakness and how quickly errors in judgment can be made, knows the depth of true compassion, mercy, and kindness. Having recognized our own poor choices, misguided opinions, negative emotions, and ability to do horrendous things, we can be more sympathetic and understanding of where others may be. We are designed to be mentors and guides to one another. In walking the journey together, we can help each other become the best we can be. Humility is the order of the day and the primary virtue that prevents us from being hypocrites.

From the Desk of Fr. Beckman:

This coming Wednesday, March 2 is Ash Wednesday and the liturgical season of Lent will once again be upon us. In his Lenten message a few years ago, Pope Francis encouraged Christians "to refuse to settle for mediocrity" and to seek friendship with the Lord by returning to God "with all their hearts" (Joel 2:12). As any long-suffering sports fan could tell you, the idea that one would settle or accept the status of mediocrity is unacceptable. And yet, honesty provokes the question, where have we allowed mediocrity in our own lives, our work, our schools, our family, and in our parish? Has our spiritual formation become mediocre? While no one usually desires to perform at a mediocre level, the vices of sloth and pride, together with a mindset of "the ways things have always been done," can hover over the witness we hope to give and even cut us off from the encounter with Christ which we need in order to sustain the divine relationship that He seeks with us. Our Holy Father points out that the way to overcome mediocrity is to fully return to the Lord God.

So, find hope from the power of the ashes. Ashes speak to the human heart as they remind us of our mortality. They provoke questions about the true meaning and purpose of a Christian life. Not only do they symbolize the entrance into the Lenten journey, but they also invite us to burn away our sins and all that hampers us from living a life of true happiness, peace, and freedom. Lent asks us to walk with the Lord into the ashen desert where he will teach us what must become ashes in our life; i.e., what we must die to: our hurts, failures, and sins so that we can rediscover that our spiritual ashes can lead to a resurrected life: A new life of prayer and reflection, service and witness.

With the holy season of Lent almost upon us, we again have a great opportunity to invite back to the Church those who perhaps have settled for the path of mediocrity during the COVID-19 pandemic. It is a moment for our parish to shake off the doldrums of inactivity and renew the witness of the charity that evangelizes, beginning with welcoming returning and new parishioners to the Church and the sacraments. Inviting someone to get involved by serving alongside of you is a great starting point to achieving this goal. Sharing your treasure, time, or talent by donating to, or volunteering at, a favorite non-profit charitable organization. Reading and reflecting on a Book of the Bible, especially in the New Testament, or join our e-mail Bible Study group.

The Lenten season can transform each individual; thereby, transforming our entire faith community. May we all strive to overcome mediocrity. Have a prayerful and holy Lent as you discover hope from the ashes!

Fr. David

Everyone is invited to please come and celebrate with the Catholic Daughters of the Americas, Court Ascension #495, our "Belated 100th Anniversary Celebration." Due to the COVID-19 pandemic the anniversary celebration was postponed. The celebration will be held Sunday, March 20, 2022 following Mass at 10:00 AM in the St. John's Church Hall. There will be a registration table, a luncheon followed by a program and entertainment.

Guests wanting to attend may register by March 1, 2022 with Cheryl Reed at 505 3rd Ave. NE, Independence, Iowa 50644 or telephone 319-334-4983.

The Catholic Daughters of the Americas is the largest organization of Catholic women in the world. The local court was established on May 9, 1920 by women from St. John's Catholic Church in Independence, Iowa. Through the years many women have joined the court and the court has made many positive changes. Currently the court has a membership of 61, all are dedicated to serve the Lord by assisting with acts of kindness for the unfortunate, infants, youth, seminarians, our clergy, and the needy. In addition to the work done on the local level, our court supports various state projects by providing rosaries to care centers, The Life Saver Campaign to raise money to fight domestic abuse and their Food Pantry Event; and the five special national charitable projects of: Habitat for Humanity, Holy Cross Family Rosary, Laboure Society, SOAR, National Center on Sexual Exploitation, and other works of charity. There are many spiritual benefits we receive from being a member of the Catholic Daughters. If you are not a member, would you please consider becoming one. Masses are offered at the national, state, and local levels for CDA intentions. Members pray together, for each other, for our families, special intentions, and other worthy issues and causes. We hope you will join us for our 100th Anniversary Celebration.
