Stewardship Quotes

The blind man was willing to let Jesus minister to him and willingly did all Jesus asked of him. The Pharisees were more resistant to His message, spending their time and energy to disprove the miracle. Which am I more like, the man born blind or the Pharisees?

St. John's - Stations of the cross

Stations of the cross will be once again offered at St. John's during our Lenten season. We invite you to come and join us as we retrace Jesus's footsteps on his forced march to Calvary. We will celebrate the Way of the Cross on Thursday evening's starting at 6:30 pm. We encourage you to join us in this time-honored prayer.

From the Desk of Fr. Beckman:

As we continue our series on the beatitudes, this week we are reflecting on the 7th Beatitude: Blessed are the peacemakers, for they will be called children of God. "Shalom!" "Peace!" It's a greeting from oneself to another literally meaning that: "I want all the best for you." "I wish all good things to come to you." It's non- violent. It's non-suppressive words and action against another. For example, the crucified and risen Jesus returns not in a vengeful and vindictive way in order to enact revenge upon us, but instead, he returns in forgiving love and mercy. The Amish modeled this so well when they went to the mother whose son took the lives of several of their children in a school house, and his own as well, and they immediately told her that they forgive him. (Read or watch the whole story in a book or DVD entitled: Amish Grace). God is peace. One of the marks of his followers is that they are makers of peace. Peace requires peacemaking efforts. Not only are they peaceful themselves, but they produce peace. If you find yourself unhappy, not just tolerating wickedness, walking away from it, or looking the other way, but mercifully entering into it and making peace. Peace requires a kind of spiritual war against war. Jesus says he comes to give us the kind of peace the world cannot give: peace with others because we have peace with ourselves, and peace with ourselves because we have peace with God instead of with the world, the flesh, greed, lust, pride, anger, and the devil. If you are a peacemaker, it will make you happy, and you will be called children of God.

Fr. David
