MISSION STATEMENT

"We, the community of St. Gregory Barbarigo, are called forth in Baptism to follow the mission of Jesus to teach, to love, and to serve."

From the Pastor's Desk

Christmas is the feast of the incarnation, a big word that means that God became man, that the Divine and the human are united in the person of Jesus Christ. That God would do this is a marvel. That God did actually become a man has consequences which are spelled out in the New Testament. Liturgically it is time to turn our eyes to the consequences of the incarnation

First of all, Christmas liturgically lasts a whole octave (8 days). Each day during the octave we say the Gloria at Mass and have a special preface, plus all during Christmas Time we wear white, except for feasts of the martyrs, St. Stephen and the Holy Innocents. It is a special time.

These feasts indicate the consequences of the incarnation. There is martyrdom for St. Stephen, who dies giving witness to Christ. There are the Holy Innocents who die just because they were born around the same time and place as Jesus and caused the flight of the Holy Family to Egypt. There is the Solemnity of Mary the Mother of God, a title which caused (and still causes) controversy that led to the definition of Jesus as both God (by the Holy Spirit) and a man (by being born of Mary), yet one indivisible person in these two natures. There is the Epiphany, the manifestation of Jesus publically, to the Gentiles represented by the Magi who came to worship, at his baptism by John the Baptist where the Father identified him and the Holy Spirit descended on him, and at the wedding feast of Cana where he performed his first miracle. All these appear during this time we call Christmas Time, spurring us to ponder who this was and why the reaction to him would be so drastic and varied.

The incarnation, though, continues into our time with the decisions we make. We find that the Divinization of earth happens as we choose to love our neighbors and families – today's feast of The Holy Family is a reminder of the choices Mary and Joseph made, and how we can choose to love our families now to make Christ present. The courage of St. Stephen reminds us to stand up for our faith in hope of eternal life. The fickleness of the death of the Holy Innocents reminds us that life is not fair, and that God's grace can and will help us to get through tragedy. To accomplish all these things, we have the sacraments to communicate God's promises and grace.

Let us bask in the mystery of all that the liturgy is presenting to us, in the wonder of the incarnation, in the possibilities that it presents to us to make present the love of God in the world in our time. Let us not be discouraged by our challenges, but inspired to follow in the footsteps of the saints who before us have answered the call. May you all have a wonderful Christmas season.

Father Albert, O.S.B.

Parish Notes

We would like to sincerely thank each of you for the prayers, generosity, and support you have bestowed upon us. The blessings of our school family, church, and community have far outnumbered the hurdles we have faced on this journey. We are truly humbled and incredibly grateful. We pray each of you are blessed with peace, good health, and hope in 2021 and always.

God Bless - The Jeter Family

Philippians 4:6-7 Do not be anxious about anything, but in every situation, by prayer and petition, with thanksgiving, present your requests to God. And the peace of God, which transcends all understanding, will guard your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus.

St Anne's Group is sponsoring "Angels for Seniors". With the rising cost of receiving a nutritional meal, we would like to do what we can to help. Simply take an envelope from the board in the back and make whatever donation you can. Return the envelope to the parish office or put in the collection box by the end of the year. All donations collected will go directly to those Senior Citizens that cannot afford to receive a meal. Thank you for your Kindness.

THE GIFT OF FAMILY

What a year it has been! How will we speak of these times a decade from now? As time goes by, our impressions of this past year will certainly change. How we feel today about dealing with a killer virus and all the chaos surrounding that is still fresh for all. I would assume that most of us right now are also holding those we love a little closer and hugging them a little harder. Hopefully, even if the fears and concerns of 2020 dissipate in the future, the way we feel toward our family should never leave us.

Stewardship is certainly about everything. God has given us so much, great and small, profound and common. One of the greatest gifts that all have received is family. Families take all shapes and sizes and some look very different than others. For some, family is a caretaker or temporary guardian. For others it is a friend when everyone else seems to have vanished. The bottom line is that, to quote a song from many years ago, "people need people."

When God gave the world His only Son, the Incarnation did not come on a cloud or with a flash of light. He was born into a family. Jesus understood the gift of family all his life. Do you think that if having a family wasn't important God would have still included this in the plan of salvation?
As this year draws to a close, remember your stewardship many days begins and ends with the people closest to you. Don't misuse or take for granted this precious gift. God gives us gifts on purpose, even to His only begotten Son.

—Tracy Earl Welliver, MTS

The last episode of The Search asks Why A Church? If you have not watched this series on Formed, I suggest you grab some friends or family members and start. You won't regret it.

When I watched the episode a few weeks ago, I intellectually understood our human need to feel connected to something greater than ourselves. I already felt connected to this parish community in an "if I need anything I can ask" sort of way. As I sit here writing now, two days after my dad passed away, I realize I am now fully experiencing the connection to a church that the episode was talking about. Over the course of the last week I have sent numerous requests to our prayer group. First for healing, then for comfort and peace. I am very grateful to the many friends in this church and this community who have reached out to my family with condolence and prayer.

Not my family, not a Priest, not a prayer group, no one can take away the pain of losing my dad. What they can do is assure me that I am not suffering alone. I am so grateful and humbled by the support I feel from this parish. The connection I am experiencing does not end with this here. With advice from Father Albert, help from my dad's Priest, the courage of a Priest from a nearby parish who had previously recovered from covid, and the cooperation of the nursing home, we were able to get my dad anointed before he passed. Even though my family could not be with him physically, we were able to pray at the same time as the anointing. I hope it gave my dad as much comfort as it did me.

The connection goes deeper still. My sister has told me many times that when she says her Rosary, one of things she prays for are all departed souls. A friend told me she was praying the divine mercy for my dad. When I was praying the divine mercy for my dad and "all souls that will die today" it hit me; there were people all over the world praying for my dad's soul that same day. What a comfort to know that on the day of my own death, people all over the world will be praying for me. They may not know my name, but it doesn't matter, we are part of the same church. For me, that is Why a Church?

Thank you for sharing your church with me. – Chris Kuhlemeyer

CARES GRANT EMERGENCY ASSISTANCE

Catholic Charities received an award from the State of Missouri to provide housing and utility assistance to families in our diocese. Our goal was to reach a wide geographic area throughout our 27 counties and many of our parishes were willing to host these distributions. Thanks to your help we were able to distribute $185K in direct assistance to community members and parishes. It is our plan to continue identifying available funds for this continual need. For information about our programs and services please contact Nancy Butters, Parish Outreach Manager at 816-659-8266 or nbutters@ccharities.com.
