AN ACT OF SPIRITUAL COMMUNION

My Jesus,
I believe that You
are present in the Most Holy Sacrament.
I love You above all things,
and I desire to receive You into my Soul.
Since I cannot at this moment receive
You sacramentally,
come at least spiritually into my heart.
I embrace You as if You were already there and unite myself wholly to You.
Never permit me to be separated from You.
Amen.

ORACIÓN PARA COMULGAR ESPIRITUALMENTE:

Jesús mío,
creo que Tú estás en el Santísimo Sacramento;
te amo sobre todas las cosas
y deseo recibirte ahora dentro de mi alma; ya que
no te puedo recibir sacramentalmente,
ven por lo menos espiritualmente a mi corazón.
Señor, no soy digno ni merezco que entres en mi
pobre morada pero di una sola palabra
y mi alma será sananda, salvada y perdonada.
El Cuerpo, la Sangre, el Alma y la Divinidad de Nuestro Señor Jesucristo, guarden mi alma para la vida eterna.
Amén.

PASTOR'S COLUMN

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

When one studies the Liturgical Year of the Church, one discovers that often the seasons of the Liturgical year have a similarity to the seasons of nature. For example, when we speak of Easter as "new life", we see the spring season budding out all around us and the dormant winter passes to bring new life in the green and flowering plants around us. It's not often that we experience the bitter coldness of last week here in this area of the world, however, for me, the snow and bitter cold in the first week of Advent reminded me of how far we all have to go on our spiritual journey. This season of Advent reminds us for the need of a Savior. As early Church writers have said, "While the need was great, God sent His Son for our redemption." The bitter cold and snow is our soul in sin. The light and warmth of who we are as God's own children has been "frozen out" and the bitterness of sin rules our hearts. But, lest we forget, Advent is all about hope – hope of a redeemer, hope of redemption, hope of salvation. Thus, this week, the Third Week of Advent, we light our rose color calendar for our redemption is near, our Savior is coming! O come, Emmanuel! O come, Wisdom from on high! O come, Key of David that unlocks what sin has shut out! O come, Hope of the nations!

In one of my Advent readings, the author was pondering why we do not know the day nor the hour when Christ will come again. His conclusion was that if we knew exactly when the second coming of Christ would take place, we would grow complacent in our spiritual journey – we would not live as people alert to Christ's coming. He also said that one generation would think itself better than all others. And so, we wait in joyful hope for the coming of our Savior, Jesus Christ. That sentence is said at every celebration of the Eucharist – just before we come forward to receive Holy Communion, where Christ comes into our lives once more. We become what we receive – the Body of Christ. The rose colored candle of this week also reminds us of Christ's presence in our lives and how it becomes our responsibility and duty as the Body of Christ to brighten the darkness of the world around us.

One important way of bringing that Light into the world is to know Christ – to know Him in the sacraments of the Church and to know Him in the Word. I once had the honor of attending a family dinner in their home and with the family made a game of quizzing one another in the teachings of the faith. Questions such as "What are the precepts of the Church?" and "Can you name, in order, the five conditions for a good confession?" were asked. As the members of the family offered their answers, I began to wonder how much time families spend together talking about, reflecting on and learning their faith. Is the time allotted to the faith only the time the children are in Religious Formation or at Mass? How many families take seriously that the parents are the primary educators of their children in the ways of the faith? I remembered the time at a previous assignment when a mom came to me complaining that her 16-year-old son didn't know the "Our Father" and wanted to know what the formation classes were teaching. Weekly Mass alone for 16 years would have taught her son the prayer since there is never a Mass without it! She revealed more about her failing as the primary educator of the faith than I could have answered regarding the formation program of the parish. Do you pray with your family? When you spend time as a family growing in the faith, you live out the meaning behind the rose-colored candle of the Advent wreath. You bring light into the darkness, you teach hope in time of despair, you witness that there is something greater than the entire world can provide – you experience the presence and need of a Savior who comes to save us – even from ourselves! And so, during this Third Week of Advent, take time to grow brighter in the ways of the faith; that is, your faith and knowledge of the Word made Flesh for the salvation of us all.

Just a reminder to keep abreast of the various changes in the Liturgical schedule as Christmas draws near. It's important for you to reserve a place for the Christmas Eve and Christmas Day Masses. Because of the limited seating forced upon us due to the COVID restrictions, it's important that you reserve your place through Flocknotes. We are trying to use every space we can, including overflow into the various larger gathering rooms on campus (Christus, McGivney, and even Sexton). Holy Communion will be brought to any place where people are gathered on campus. If you haven't yet reserved your seating for these Masses, please do so now.,

With Advent hope,

Fr. Robert

THIS WEEK'S READING

Sunday, Dec 13, 2020 THIRD SUNDAY OF ADVENT Discern the spirit

Often we get an intuition, a burning in the heart that feels motivating. It may tell us to speak up or shut up; to reach out or keep our hands off a situation; to admit we need help or to stop leaning on others. Do we obey the prompt, or ignore it? The problem with following what may be a divine nudge is that we can't always discern the Holy Spirit from a lesser kind. Discernment involves prayer, familiarity with scripture, consultation with faithful others, and sometimes spiritual direction. Above all, it needs to be practiced. Befriend the Spirit!

TODAY'S READINGS: Isaiah 61:1-2a, 10-11; 1 Thessalonians 5:16-24; John 1:6-8, 19-28 (8). "Do not quench the Spirit. Do not despise prophetic utterances."

Monday, Dec 14, 2020 MEMORIAL OF JOHN OF THE CROSS, PRIEST, DOCTOR OF THE CHURCH Be a light in the darkness

We have so many options in our modern world that it's easy to walk away from any organization or community that we struggle with and simply join ones that are more agreeable to us. But what if we stayed and worked to make them better instead? Saint John of the Cross did exactly that and reformed his Carmelite order, despite imprisonment for his efforts. When you feel disillusioned with institutions you love, be guided by John's writing—considered among the greatest in all of Spanish literature—about darkness leading to the light.

TODAY'S READINGS: Numbers 24:2-7, 15-17a; Matthew 21:23-27 (187). "By what authority are you doing these things?"

Tuesday, Dec 15, 2020 ADVENT WEEKDAY The darkness before dawn

Two days ago we celebrated Gaudete Sunday with refrains of rejoicing. Two days from now, we'll begin to pray the O Antiphons—seven days to laud the fast-approaching Messiah. What to make of this in-between time, when scripture shows Jesus chiding religious leaders and Old Testament prophets preach fire and brimstone? "The day in which we now find ourselves is still night," wrote Saint Augustine. But the promise of salvation is sure. "Keep your attention closely fixed on it, as you would on a lamp shining in a dark place until the first streaks of dawn appear."

TODAY'S READINGS: Zephaniah 3:1-2, 9-13; Matthew 21:28-32 (188). "Tax collectors and prostitutes are entering the kingdom of God."

Wednesday, Dec 16, 2020 ADVENT WEEKDAY Usher in a renewed Advent

This Advent season is so different from any other in our lifetimes, and the holidays may not allow for worship in person with our faith communities or celebrations with beloved families. For many of us, this brings sadness to these Advent days as we mourn the loss of familiar rituals. The poetic words of theologian, educator, and civil rights leader Howard Thurman remind us that the work of Christmas is to "find the lost, heal the broken, feed the hungry . . . rebuild the nations and bring peace among others." Let us pray for the grace to overcome any disappointment we feel and focus on feeding the hungry, having compassion for the broken, and rebuilding the relationships around us. In such practices, we will find Advent hope and peace.

TODAY'S READINGS: Isaiah 45:6b-8, 18, 21c-25; Luke 7:18b -23 (189). "The poor have the good news proclaimed to them."

Thursday, Dec 17, 2020 ADVENT WEEKDAY (O WISDOM) Heavenly sounds

Today is the first of the O Antiphons, an Advent tradition from the seventh century whereby for a week the church's evening prayer salutes the coming Messiah by different names each evening. Tonight monasteries, parishes, and ordinary Christians will sing or recite "O Sapientia" (Wisdom). Reading about the loveliness of this prayer is no substitute for hearing it. Let the ethereal sound of this ancient tradition uplift your prayer today. is "O Sapientia" sung by Dominican friars in Oxford, England.

TODAY'S READINGS: Genesis 49:2, 8-10; Matthew 1:1-17 (193). "Thus the total number of generations from Abraham to David is fourteen generations."

Friday, Dec 18, 2020 ADVENT WEEKDAY (O SACRED LORD) A call to rescue and restore

The calamities that piled up in 2020 point surely to the longing of today's O Antiphon. A wave of global pandemic, quarantine, massive unemployment, fires, floods, and protest for racial justice crests, resonating with the yearning for freedom. More than ever, we yearn for the Leader who will restore justice and rescue us with mighty power. And at a time when more people are exiled from their homes than ever before in human history, we commemorate Migrants Day with a plaintive call: Come, Lord Jesus to our human mess. We need you as we have throughout the centuries.

TODAY'S READINGS: Jeremiah 23:5-8; Matthew 1:18-25 (194). "O sacred Lord of ancient Israel, who showed yourself to Moses in the burning bush, who gave him the holy law on Sinai mountain: come, stretch out your mighty hand to set us free."

Saturday, Dec 19, 2020 ADVENT WEEKDAY (O FLOWER OF JESSE'S STEM) Creation is full of surprises

The image of "Jesse's Stem" in today's O Antiphon comes from the Book of Isaiah. Using the image of a tree much like we use a family tree to trace our lineage, Isaiah traces the lineage of the kings of Judah forward from Jesse, the father of King David, to the hoped-for Christ, the new king who might restore the monarchy to its former greatness. But like the birth of John the Baptist, the actual coming of the Christ would be a surprise, a new revelation of a heavenly Kingdom. Reflect on the various ways God has surprised you in your life.

TODAY'S READINGS: Judges 13:2-7, 24-25a; Luke 1:5-25 (195). "O Flower of Jesse's stem, you have been raised up as a sign for all peoples."

Consider an IRA Charitable Rollover!

If you are 70½ or older, the IRA rollover is a great way for you to make a gift to support our parish. IRA rollover gifts can make a huge difference. These gifts will help sustain us in our important work to strengthen our community. The IRA rollover is now permanent, and its key provisions are: The IRA rollover allows donors 70½ or older to transfer up to $100,000 directly from their IRA on an annual basis An IRA rollover gift is a tax-exempt distribution. Qualifying individuals can make charitable gifts using pre-tax IRA assets rather than taking a distribution, paying income taxes and using after tax assets to make a charitable gift. An IRA rollover gift can be used to meet all or part of an IRA's annual required minimum distribution. For more information on making an IRA Rollover gift to our parish, contact Ron Svoboda at 281-370-3401 ext . 4603 or email rsvoboda@silcc.org.

COLUMNA DEL PÁRROCO

Queridos hermanos y hermanas:

Cuando uno estudia el año litúrgico de la Iglesia, descubre que a menudo las estaciones del año litúrgico tienen similitudes con las estaciones de la naturaleza. Por ejemplo, cuando hablamos de Pascua como "nueva vida", vemos la temporada de primavera germinando a nuestro alrededor y el invierno dormido pasa para traer nueva vida a las plantas verdes y florecientes que nos rodean. No es frecuente que experimentemos la amarga frialdad de la semana pasada aquí en esta área del mundo; sin embargo, para mí, la nieve y el intenso frío de la primera semana de Adviento me recordaron lo lejos que tenemos que ir en nuestro viaje espiritual. Esta temporada de Adviento nos recuerda la necesidad de un Salvador. Como han dicho los primeros escritores de la Iglesia: "Si bien la necesidad era grande, Dios envió a Su Hijo para nuestra redención". El frío y la nieve es nuestra alma en pecado. La luz y la calidez de quienes somos como hijos de Dios ha sido "congelada" y la amargura del pecado gobierna nuestros corazones. Pero, no lo olvidemos, el Adviento tiene que ver con la esperanza: esperanza de un redentor, esperanza de redención, esperanza de salvación. Por lo tanto, esta semana, la Tercera Semana de Adviento, iluminamos nuestro calendario de color rosa porque nuestra redención está cerca, ¡nuestro Salvador viene! ¡Ven, Emmanuel! ¡Ven, Sabiduría de lo alto! ¡Oh, ven, llave de David que abre lo que el pecado ha cerrado! ¡Ven, esperanza de las naciones!

En una de mis lecturas de Adviento, el autor se preguntaba por qué no sabemos el día ni la hora en que Cristo vendrá otra vez. Su conclusión fue que si supiéramos exactamente cuándo tendría lugar la segunda venida de Cristo, nos volveríamos complacientes en nuestro viaje espiritual; no viviríamos como personas alertas a la venida de Cristo. También dijo que una generación se pensaría mejor que todas las demás. Y así, esperamos con gozosa esperanza la venida de nuestro Salvador, Jesucristo. Esa frase se dice en cada celebración de la Eucaristía, justo antes de que nos acerquemos para recibir la Sagrada Comunión, donde Cristo entra en nuestras vidas una vez más. Nos convertimos en lo que recibimos: el Cuerpo de Cristo. La vela de color rosa de esta semana también nos recuerda la presencia de Cristo en nuestras vidas y cómo se convierte en nuestra responsabilidad y deber como Cuerpo de Cristo iluminar la oscuridad del mundo que nos rodea.

Una forma importante de traer esa Luz al mundo es conocer a Cristo, conocerlo en los sacramentos de la Iglesia y conocerlo en la Palabra. Una vez tuve el honor de asistir a una cena familiar y con la familia hice un juego de preguntarnos unos a otros sobre las enseñanzas de la fe. Preguntas como "¿Cuáles son los preceptos de la Iglesia?" y "¿Puede nombrar, en orden, las cinco condiciones para una buena confesión?" fueron algunas de esas preguntas. Cuando los miembros de la familia ofrecieron sus respuestas, comencé a preguntarme cuánto tiempo pasan las familias juntas platicando, reflexionando y aprendiendo su fe. ¿El tiempo asignado a la fe, es solo el tiempo que los niños están en Formación Religiosa o en Misa? ¿Cuántas familias se toman en serio que los padres son los principales educadores de sus hijos en los caminos de la fe? Recordé el momento en una asignación anterior cuando una mamá vino a mí quejándose de que su hijo de 16 años no conocía el "Padre Nuestro" y quería saber qué enseñaban las clases de formación. La misa semanal durante 16 años le habría enseñado a su hijo la oración, ¡ya que nunca hay una misa sin ella! Ella reveló más sobre su fracaso como educadora principal de la fe de lo que yo podría haber respondido sobre el programa de formación de la parroquia. ¿Oras con tu familia? Cuando pasan tiempo como familia creciendo en la fe, viven el significado detrás de la vela de color rosa de la corona de Adviento. Traes luz a la oscuridad, enseñas esperanza en tiempos de desesperación, eres testigo de que hay algo más grande de lo que el mundo entero puede proporcionar; experimentas la presencia y la necesidad de un Salvador que viene a salvarnos, ¡incluso de nosotros mismos! Y así, durante esta Tercera Semana de Adviento, tómate el tiempo para crecer más brillante en los caminos de la fe; es decir, tu fe y conocimiento de la Palabra hecha Carne para la salvación de todos nosotros.

Solo un recordatorio para mantenerse al tanto de los diversos cambios en el horario litúrgico a medida que se acerca la Navidad. Es importante que reserve un lugar para las Misas de Nochebuena y Navidad. Debido a los asientos limitados que se nos imponen debido a las restricciones de COVID-19, es importante que reserve su lugar a través de Flocknotes. Estamos tratando de utilizar todos los espacios que podemos, incluyendo las diversas salas de reunión más grandes del campus como (Christus, McGivney e incluso Sexton). Estas salas se utilizarán una vez que se llegue a la capacidad establecida para el santuario. La Sagrada Comunión se llevará a cualquier lugar donde la gente se reúna en el campus. Si aún no ha reservado su asiento para estas misas, hágalo ahora.

Con esperanza de Adviento,

Fr. Norbert

LECTURA

Domingo, Dec 13, 2020 TERCER DOMINGO DE ADVIENTO

Discernir el espíritu

A menudo tenemos una intuición, un ardor en el corazón que sentimos que nos motiva. Puede decirnos que hablemos o que callemos; que extendamos o mantengamos las manos fuera de una situación; que admitamos que necesitamos ayuda o que dejemos de apoyarnos en los demás. ¿Aceptamos el mensaje o lo ignoramos? El problema de seguir lo que puede ser un impulso divino es que no siempre podemos discernir el Espíritu Santo de uno menor. El discernimiento implica oración, conocimiento de las escrituras, consulta con otros fieles, y a veces dirección espiritual. Sobre todo, necesita ser practicado. Hazte amigo del Espíritu!

LECTURAS PARA HOY: Isaías 61:1-2a, 10-11; 1 Tesalonicenses 5:16-24; Juan 1:6-8, 19-28 (8). "No apagues al Espíritu. No desestimes las declaraciones proféticas."
