Today's Gospel Reflection

FIRST READING: Exodus 16:2-4, 12-15
SECOND READING: Ephesians 4:17, 20-24
GOSPEL: John 6:24-35

In the First Reading, the Israelites who are marching through the desert, are hungry and angry. God should have killed us in Egypt, they say; then at least we would have died with food in our bellies. In response, God feeds them with bread from heaven. Manna falls from the sky during the night, and in the morning they can pick the manna off the ground. It seems to have been a specially wonderful analogue to bread. Scripture says that it was small, and white, and mildly sweet, like honey with coriander (Ex. 16:31); and it was greatly sustaining, too.

This is a story to shake your head over. In our world, if you want bread, you have to go to the store for what you need, and you have to pay for what you get there, too. And if you grumble against God angrily, you get a guilty conscience; you don't get bread falling from the sky. With or without stores and money, we get no bread at all. So why are these Israelites so lucky? Why doesn't God make bread fall from heaven for us too? Here is what the story makes clear.

God is a God of history. He intervenes in human affairs in particular ways at particular times to provide for His people what will do them good at that time. The only ones who got to eat manna were those grumbling Israelites. And even they got to eat it only for a while. When they crossed the Jordan River, the manna stopped. All they got then was the parched corn from the precious harvest.

These thoughts can prompt a painful yearning. Who would not want to be among those who got to taste the honey-sweet manna? Who would not want to have been one of the people hand-fed by the Lord? And, yet in God's love, every yearning has its fulfillment. We too are fed with the bread from heaven, and, in the Eucharist, we taste the goodness of the Lord, which is better than honey (Ps 19:10). We too are hand-fed by the Lord. Although God is a God of history, for each one of us it is true that we will want for nothing.

18th Sunday in Ordinary Time

"Each day the people are to go out and gather their daily portion; thus will I test them, to see whether they follow my instructions or not.?"
—Exodus 16:4

When the Israelites gathered more than their daily portion of manna, the surplus became wormy and rotten. In the same way today, self-reliance, pride and ego leads to hoarding and excessive surplus of goods and money. Living a stewardship lifestyle helps us discern our "wants" from our "needs". Living a grateful and generous lifestyle reminds us that God will provide all that we need and that we have plenty to share.

LET'S MAKE A TRIBUTE ... By Tere Hunt

Special Edition

It is with saddened heart that we bid goodbye to our friend and loyal fellow Filipino Catholic Club (FCC) member, ROSELINE QUIOCHO, who succumbed to complications she painstakingly endured. Taking some lines from what I wrote about her in 2013, "Rose exudes calm and grace. She has an infectious smile, and peaceful radiance about her that can only be derived after admirably serving as a military wife who raised 4 kids (+1) and held it together so husband, Rick, could fulfill his duties with the Army. She, too, can emanate pride for holding her own, accomplishing her countless responsibilities, and we salute her for that!" We grant homage to such a gentle, soft-spoken, kind and gracious lady who was always on time with her FCC dues, never turned down a request to help with our fundraisers, contributed magnificent desserts to our church golf outings, and just like us, swooned in admiration when Rick delivered his solo choir renditions at Mass. Rose, you will always be remembered for whenever Rick croons his heart out, in some way they are meant for you. So sing 'em loud!

BREAD OF LIFE

Last week's stories about bread take a very different turn this week. In today's Gospel, Jesus uses the bread theme as a metaphor. Here bread symbolizes the teachings of Jesus that will nourish us, that will satisfy our deepest needs. Jesus employs a method of interpretation favored by the rabbis of His day. He refers to a passage from the religious tradition (the passage that happens to be the first reading for today), and then, step by step, explains its meaning for the people of His day. His "homily" is really a response to the challenge from those who demanded a sign that would give evidence of the authority with which He spoke.
Those who challenged Jesus did so after they had been filled by the bread that He earlier miraculously provided. Jesus knew they weren't looking for signs of the presence of God in their midst. They simply wanted more food.
Jesus pointed out that the people of Moses' time had been called to trust that, day by day, God would provide them with food—as impossible as that might have seemed. Likewise, Jesus' hearers were called to trust his claims about his unique relationship with God, whom he called Father—as impossible as that might have seemed. This really isn't a story just about bread—the edible kind or the eucharistic kind. It is a story about believing in Jesus and accepting His teaching about the bread from heaven that promises eternal life. —Sr. Dianne Bergant, CSA

Reflection:

- Give thanks for God's day-by-day care for you and your loved ones
- Pray for a deep and solid trust in God.

> Jesus said to them, "I am the bread of life; whoever comes to me will never hunger, and whoever believes in me will never thirst.
> —John 6:35

Dear Padre,

My elderly aunt is suffering from a terminal illness, and says she wants to die. Is this all right?

Popular psychological writings on death and dying often list the five different stages that people might go through when they are dying, namely: denial, anger, bargaining, depression, and acceptance. For Christians, the last stage of acceptance is saying yes to God's will. They may have been reconciled to God and others, said the things they have wanted to say, finished any unfinished business, and feel ready to leave this world and return to God.
For the dying person with faith, there may come a time when the desire to be fully united to her loving God takes priority over all other concerns and she actually desires to die. Her eyes turn toward the next life and she is not only ready to go but desires to go. This desire to leave this life is not the result of despair but rather the fruit of Christian hope.
We have a different situation when someone is not dying or is in good physical health, for the desire to die may indicate desperation or depression rather than acceptance and hope. Such persons may need personal and professional help to regain a zest for the life that God has given them until the time comes that God calls them to Himself.
