IT'S TIME . . .

If you don't know how to pray the Rosary . . . it's time to learn.

If you don't know how to pray the Divine Mercy Chaplet . . . it's time to learn.

Our Catholic faith offers us all kinds of devotions. One of the reasons there are so many to choose from is that none of them are necessary for our salvation. You can pick and choose from among them the one(s) you wish to use, and so there is a smorgasbord of opportunities depending on your particular intention, state of soul, body, or mind, the time commitment you can give, or simply which one strikes your "spiritual fancy" at the time.

However, two of the many devotions the Church puts before us rise above the rest (at least I think so): the Rosary and the Divine Mercy Chaplet. Both are prayed on the "beads." The Rosary is the "primo" devotion of all time and goes back centuries. The Chaplet was given to the world by Our Lord Himself in the 1930's. Neither are obligatory for us; but I heartily recommend that EVERY CATHOLIC learn how to pray these two devotions so that when your "spiritual fancy" turns to them in the future, you know what to do. Again, neither are obligatory - but I would strongly encourage you to make these two devotions part of your spiritual exercises however you may choose. Some will make one or the other (or even both) a part of their daily prayer time, while others may offer one or the other once or twice a week, or once or twice a month - there are no "rules" to follow here concerning the frequency or where or with whom they are prayed. That's up to the individual - and that's YOU. But I hope YOU learn these devotions and in some way incorporate them into your prayer life.

However, too many Catholics do not know how to pray them - and so they don't. That's a shame - they are missing out. In particular, the Rosary needs to be understood properly in terms of how to pray it - or it just becomes a slogging through an endless repetition of Our Fathers and Hail Marys - and that's not how to pray it. So it's time . . . to learn.

My final Adult Catechesis for this school year will be Sunday, May 1 at 7 pm in the Holy Family Social Hall. I will be teaching those who come HOW to pray the Rosary and the Chaplet. It will not be a theological exposition of these two devotions - it will be a "learning how" time concerning them both. If you already know how to pray them, you needn't come, unless you want a refresher. But if you don't know to pray them - this is for you. Take advantage of this opportunity - don't pass it by if you don't know how to pray these devotions. They could fantastically augment your prayer life for the rest of your life.

If you have a rosary, bring it. If you don't, we will have one for you. Come and learn these two of the greatest devotions our Church puts before us. And then use them as you will in your prayer relationship with our God.

McChoir's Music Corner

"Love, Divine"

Alleluia! He is risen! 'I thought we were done with that?' No! The season of Easter is a time of great joy and many "alleluias." Right after we celebrate the great victory of Easter, Divine Mercy Sunday comes around to tell us a couple of things: 1) We have a powerful and merciful God, who deeply loves us. 2) We do not always "see" the Lord in the way we think we need to, but He is always with us. "Blessed are those who have not seen and have believed" Jesus says to Thomas. As we revel in the joy of Easter, we can be at peace trusting in God's love at all times. With the joy of Jesus's resurrection comes the assurance that He keeps His promises. We do not need to worry or question that integrity. So, our music today is all about praising the Lord, His mercy, and His faithfulness. As we sing, perhaps we can be inspired to live just as mercifully and faithfully as we can too. It's precisely what Jesus wants of us.
