St. Augustine Reflection

The part of today's readings that jumped out at me was the last lines of the Gospel (Mt 11:28-30): "Come to me, all you who labor and are burdened, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you and learn from me, for I am meek and humble of heart; and you will find rest for yourselves. For my yoke is easy, and my burden light."

First, does anyone know what a yoke (not yolk!) is? It is the harness that is put on animals when they are pulling something like a plow or cart. So Jesus is giving the image that we are farm animals and He is the farmer. Not too appealing. However, we are called to be God's servants, and as discussed in last week's spotlight, we show our love for Him by doing His will, i.e., following His commandments. So the image of a yoke is appropriate. And what are His commandments? Jesus told us plainly – love God and love our neighbor. That doesn't sound like a terrible yoke.

Most of us feel a lot more burden of the yoke of our secular life than our faith life. Why do we subject ourselves to burdensome yokes in our everyday lives that detract from our happiness? I would say it is because we are pursuing a worldly, as opposed to spiritual, reward. When Jesus said that it is easier for a camel to pass through the needle's eye than for a rich person to enter the Kingdom of God, I don't believe that He was damning wealth, but rather stating the reality that our wealth (or, as Jesus said, the love of wealth) burdens us down and can keep us from attaining the real ultimate goal of our lives – communion with God for eternity.

This weekend as we celebrate our nation's independence, let us strive to be free from the material yokes that separate us from the love of God.

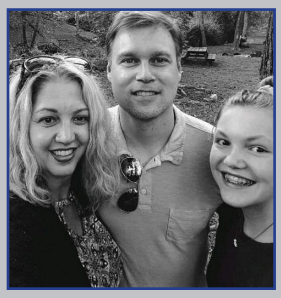
St. Augustine Parishioner Spotlight

Ben Walker - Non-student Parishioner



My name is Ben Walker and I am an associate dean at the UF Libraries. I have been married to my wife, Shannon, for 22 years and we have a 13 year old daughter, Kyle. We converted to the Catholic Church in 2017. Shannon and I were raised Protestant but through a long and winding path found our way to the Catholic Church. One of the things that got us here is the fact that the doors were always open. I remember seeking a place to be with God and seeking a particular environment to be with God. My own church at the time, even so close to campus, was always locked. St. Augustine, however, was open. When I traveled for work, I started looking for churches near me that were open, and inevitably it was a Catholic Church. During this time, I read a book that Shannon gave me, A School of Prayer by Pope Benedict XVI, and I could not find anything with which I, as a Protestant, disagreed. That really began our journey to the Catholic faith.

Since converting, we have continued to grow in faith as a family. RCIA really only opened the door, but I have found that growing in my faith has taken a lot more effort on my part. I try to attend the noon Mass at least twice a week. I find that really helps me to stay centered as I go about my day on campus. It gives me a different perspective, and helps to remind me of my true purpose. Our daughter, Kyle, is involved in LifeTeen and serves as an assistant to the sacristan. Shannon and I both help with LifeTeen, and as a family we try to stay involved with parish activities like the Burkina Faso food packaging events. In January, after consulting with Fr. David, I started an Adult Bible Study, which is geared toward the post-college community. We have been working through Jeff Cavins' Bible Timeline series. It is a small group, but it has really helped everyone involved to have a deeper understanding of how the Old Testament points to Jesus and the promise of salvation. It has also helped those of us involved to form a small community, and I feel like I have a faith family through this group. I am hopeful that when we finish in April 2020, we will be able to continue with another study program.

> "[Daily Mass] really helps me to stay centered as I go about my day."

Before coming to St. Augustine, I really had no idea of how to dedicate time to God. I would read about making time for prayer, or giving of your time, talent, and treasure, but it really took on new meaning after we converted. We tried out different parishes, but nothing felt as holy, as truly God-centered, as St. Augustine. It is so inspiring to see the college students who are so faithful. It makes me want to be more committed. If they can dedicate time to God, with all of the distractions of a college campus, surely I can find the same time in my own life. Being here has forced me to step out of my comfort zone and seek out opportunities to serve and grow. I think, in the end, that is what God is calling all of us to do. I am very thankful to have found a home here at St. A's!

What does the Church have to say about racism?

In November 2018, the Catholic bishops of the United States released a Pastoral Letter Against Racism called, "Open Wide Our Hearts." The letter is a powerful invitation for all the people of God to "face courageously the vice of racism... reach out generously to the victims of this evil, to assist the conversion needed in those who still harbor racism, and to begin to change policies and structures that allow racism to persist." At catholicgators.org/anti-racism-resources, you can read what the Church has to say and find ideas for how we can respond.

Fiesta de la Santísima Trinidad

La Trinidad es el misterio íntimo del mismo Dios. El Padre conoce y se relaciona con el Hijo. Y así engendran al Espíritu, que es la expresión del Amor entre las tres personas divinas. A la luz del Padre, del Hijo y del Espíritu, la historia deja de ser una sucesión de acontecimientos que se disuelven en el abismo de la muerte; se transforma en un terreno fecundado por la semilla de la eternidad, un camino que lleva a la meta sublime en la que "Dios será todo en todos" (1 Co 15, 28).

CORPUS CHRISTI
Fiesta del Cuerpo y la Sangre de Cristo

A mediados del siglo XIII el P. Pedro de Praga dudaba sobre la presencia de Cristo en la Eucaristía y realizó una peregrinación a Roma para rogar sobre la tumba de San Pedro una gracia de fe. Al retornar, mientras celebraba la Santa Misa en Bolsena, en la Cripta de Santa Cristina, la Sagrada Hostia sangró manchando el corporal.
Este milagro eucarístico fue el origen de la Fiesta del Corpus Christi que celebramos el domingo siguiente a la solemnidad de la Santisima Trinidad.

San Juan Pablo II, en una de sus homilías por la solemnidad de Corpus Christi expresó: "En la Santa Eucaristía está realmente presente Cristo, muerto y resucitado por nosotros. En el pan y en el vino consagrados permanece con nosotros el mismo Jesús de los evangelios, que los discípulos encontraron y siguieron, que vieron crucificado y resucitado, y cuyas llagas tocó Tomás, postrándose en adoración y exclamando: "Señor mío y Dios mío" En el Sacramento del altar se ofrece a nuestra contemplación amorosa toda la profundidad del misterio de Cristo, el Verbo y la carne, la gloria divina y su tienda entre los hombres. Ante él no podemos dudar de que Dios está con nosotros"
