What Made You Come to St. Theresa?

Ms. Thibodeaux: I was a nanny for a child at the school, and I became interested in becoming a part of the school. I loved how everyone was very nice and welcoming.

Mrs. Reyes: I felt drawn to a faith based school, especially a Catholic school.

Mrs. Hinke: It's a good Catholic school and I think I'm able to contribute to the community in a positive way.

Ms. Goehringer: I love being in the Catholic school. I went to Catholic school for my entire life. Things just fell into place.

What Do You Love About Teaching?

Mr. Sentmanat: The privilege of having a part in the formative life of maturing children.

Mrs. Hinke: I love children and their willingness to discover truth.

Ms. Goehringer: I love watching the light bulb go off in a child's eye. I have done lot of work with kids that have special needs. Sometimes it would take months for them to achieve one task. With these kids I am able to see the light go off each and every day. It is rewarding to know that I am able to teach these kids something and hopefully make a difference in their lives.

Mr. Rodriguez: The students who want to learn.

Hard Knocks

By Sebastian Needle and Spencer Kryger

Hard Knocks is an HBO show based on an NFL team training camp. A different team is chosen each year. Houston was fortunate to be picked for this season of Hard Knocks. There are five episodes that include interviews highlighting players and talks about the upcoming season, and how their personal lives are affected by training camp. After the show, it feels like you know the players much better. It shows the hard work the team puts in to get ready for the upcoming season. They show the rookies who were just drafted, and how they are transitioning from college football to the NFL. The beginning of the first episode of Hard Knocks, Bill O'Brien, the coach of the Texans, talks about the quarterback situation and says how he is tired of being a not so great team, and how he wants to get better and win a super bowl. By watching this show, it gives everyone an inside look into our own Houston Texans, and how exciting the upcoming season will be.

Agar.io App Review

Agar.io is a fun game that is now available in the app store. In agar.io you take the form of a cell and eat other cells. Your goal in the game is to become the biggest cell. In the start up screen you can choose a nickname, depending on the nickname you can have different skins. For example, if you name yourself “reddit” you will be the “reddit” robot. In conclusion, you should definitely give agar.io a try it’s a great game!

Fun Fact of the Month

by Luke Steward and Anthony Carr

A great way of finding out what the weather around you is like is by looking at the weather radar. The weather radar gives you a heads up on what is happening and what will happen in your area. It shows you how bad the storm is, and if it will come your way. It also shows your location and what the weather is like around you. Red represents heavy rain and green represents light rain. So look at the radar and be on top of your “fronts”.
