MALLIA'S MOMENTS
by Fr. Joe Mallia

We are heading into the third week of Lent, which means if you have not been really focusing on your Lenten penance and working on getting certain habits out of your life, you are about half way through Lent and that means you need to get moving before you miss it all together. It is very easy for time to get away from us and when we are not in control of our activities on any given day, the activities will control us. That in turn gives us a feeling of being overwhelmed; feeling like we are being pulled in various directions. There are always things to do and places to go and people to see, but not all things have equal importance. We should be able to prioritize the activities of life so that we are actually living and not simply existing till we collapse.

In the liturgy today we hear the passage of the 10 Commandments. Notice how following the commandments of God will actually put a real balance in our lives if we would just live them out; in comparison to when we do not follow the commandments and are completely out of sync. The commandments remind us of putting God first in our lives, for taking time to rest each week, to spend time with our families and to respect everyone and everything around us. When we are always going to the next thing, there is no time for reflection or conversation. Our lives become a series of actions with no real consideration if what we are doing has any real value to our lives. Our daily lives are overstimulated and our brains and our bodies fail to rest. Is it any wonder that people are so angry and short tempered? Is it any wonder why people are rude and self-absorbed? Unless a tragedy happens they don't slow down? All of this rushing around that people are doing and to what end are they doing it?

How do I know that people have lost any semblance of balance in life? Drive the speed limit down a road and see the looks you get as people pass you by. I am not saying drive slower than the speed limit, just do the speed limit. Even at what is considered a normal pace, you are moving too slowly for the majority of people who are over stressed getting from one place to the other. I had to laugh while watching a commercial for the Apple Watch. The one person on the commercial told us how happy he was that the watch reminded him to stand up from his desk once an hour! Really, what a great watch that is! How in the name of God did we ever get by without that feature? It has a feature that monitors your health so that you can get to the doctor. That means we are just going to keep going until our watch tells us we are about to die. Hope your battery does not run out. Are we so busy that we can't even recognize that we are pushing ourselves beyond reason and I need my watch to tell me something is wrong?

The ten commandments are important because they bring balance to life and focus to what is really important. Faith puts things in perspective and places us in a place to have a life, not just live a life. If you are feeling that your life is out of control, maybe you should compare it to the commandments and see where your approach to life is out of line with what God is teaching us about how to live our lives in union with God, with the needs of our body and souls and in proper relationship to others and the world around us - all in ten easy steps. No other self-help book is necessary; God has us covered. Remember the reading last week? If God is for us, who can be against? Well the simple answer is that we are our own worst enemies when it comes to making sure we are not out of control. Please take the time to get things back in balance in your life by following what God has revealed to us in the Scriptures. Pray everyday and find peace in your heart. God bless you all.

Did you notice...

Since the tragic events at the school in Florida, that in our own state and throughout the country there have been daily school cancellations because of threats posted online by students towards their schools? These desperate cries for help are a serious indicator that things are not right with our children. We need to take time to listen to children, form them in faith and surround them with appropriate support systems like a faith community and family. We need to teach them that family is more important than friendships because family is forever. Most children are far more worried about what their "friends" think of them than they care about the support of their families. Children once upon a time grew up wanting to be like their parents; but now they model their lives after "celebrities" whom they do not know but only perceive to be.

As much as I agree that we need common sense laws on gun control and proper enforcement of existing laws, the real issue I believe deals with how we are raising our children and what we are placing at the core of their lives. Most people do not pray, do not go to church, do not teach their children about God, place the importance on making their children "happy" rather than teaching them right from wrong, refuse to discipline children less we stifle creativity, overfill their lives so that they never see family, and this we have called progress. The simple solution would be to take away every legal gun and never address the fundamental issue behind the problem. Many of these children had serious issues that no one ever treated or addressed until after they committed terrible crimes. So do we just blame the gun or do we realize that we have work to do in figuring out that there is something wrong with how children are being raised and their real problems are being ignored.

St. Augustine Parish Festival and Holy Family Parish Celebration:

Both the festival and the parish celebration are in need of more help. If you are willing to help out, even if you are not ready to step into a leadership role or take over a certain part of the events, you are most welcomed and in fact encouraged to come to the meeting at the parish you are a member of. Last week I listed all the needs we have and I hope that we can fill those positions as we go forward. Our success is based directly on our ability to work together. Please consider being a part of these important fund and fun raising events. Families are always encouraged to volunteer together to work the events, especially those families that directly benefit such as our school families and our faith formation program families. Thank you for your consideration.

CSA

Last week we received the information about the target for this years drive which will begin in May. I hope that all pledges will be paid off soon as all that money is coming back to us already and is making a very positive impact on our ability to keep up with payments and putting money aside for future projects. The target is based upon a three year average of the weekly collection and the Christmas collection. As I told you last year, even though the Christmas collection is not taxed at 7%, it does count against the goal for CSA. This year we saw our total Christmas collection go down, but there were significant donations to CSA even at Christmas, which in the long run will help to keep our targets from growing rapidly.

Last year both parishes far exceeded their targets and we have benefited from the refunds. This year both targets have gone up, but are still below the targets for 2016! That means if every parishioner who gave for the past campaign will again contribute the same amount to the CSA, we will again far exceed our target. The hope at Holy Family is to look at repairing or replacing the padding on the kneelers. The refund money at St. Augustine will be used to replace and bring up to code the electrical wiring in the church. Much of it is old or not according to code and is a fire hazard. Some issues have been already addressed but more needs to be done.

In the past, we have often looked at CSA as a bad thing and had difficulty in making our goals. I hope that after our experience of this past year and as we move into future years, we will continue to use the program as a way of funding our parish projects while not being assessed more funds or having to pay to hire outside firms to run capital campaigns. Thank you for your support and generosity.

Raising awareness of hunger and homelessness

Our youth ministry program is hosting a 30 hour fast and box city experience for all our 9th-12th graders. I would strongly urge our young people to take advantage of this opportunity to learn about these two very important issues. The event is March 16-17th and all are invited. You can even invite a friend from school who is not part of our parish to join you; the more the better. For more information contact the parish office or email Jennifer, Jessica or Alex at st.ahfyouthministry@gmail.com.

Please support the fish fry and attend the stations of the cross

Finally, I want to encourage you to try to come to our fish fry Fridays during Lent with family and friends and to then come and pray the stations of the cross at the hosting parish at 7:00pm. Everyone is welcome to eat and pray. See you there.

St. Phillip Church

We have begun the process of putting St. Phillip up for sale. We have hired a real estate agent who specializes in selling church buildings at the suggestion of the AOD. We are also looking at having an official closing mass at St. Phillip after Easter. I will be working with the Worship Office at the AOD on setting all that up and taking proper care of all the remaining religious items at the church. Thank you for your continued support.

Please read the church paper each week to make sure you are up to date on all that is happening around our parishes.

The Divine Mercy Missionary Center

The Chaplet

In a vision to St. Maria Faustina Kowalska in 1935, the Lord revealed a powerful prayer that He wanted everyone to say - The Chaplet of Divine Mercy - and He promised extraordinary graces to those who would recite it.

Whoever will recite it will receive great mercy at the hour of death. Priests will recommend it to sinners as their last hope of salvation. Even if there were a sinner most hardened, if he were to recite this chaplet only once, he would receive grace from My infinite mercy. I desire to grant unimaginable graces to those souls who trust in My mercy. (Diary 687)

The Chaplet is prayed on rosary beads. Stop in the Divine Mercy Center and pick up a pamphlet that will explain this powerful prayer.

NEXT WEEK: Saint Faustina

Blest Art
This Weekend

Please visit our display at St. Augustine Parish
Saturday & Sunday, March 3rd and 4th, 2018
After each Mass in the school entrance hallway

Blest Art will be visiting St. Augustine Parish on behalf of the Christian families in Bethlehem, Palestine. Our mission is to support those families in the Holy Land.

For centuries, the Christians in and around Bethlehem have earned a living by carving religious olive wood art to sell to visiting pilgrims. Fewer pilgrims are journeying to the Holy Land today, making it difficult for those Christians to support their families. Blest Art Inc helps the struggling Christian families of Bethlehem by marketing their artwork in the United States.

When Blest Art visits your parish, we will have hand-carved nativity sets, statues, crosses, rosaries, and many other pieces of beautiful olive wood art. We kindly invite you to visit our display and to consider purchasing a piece of art from the Holy Land. In doing so, you will help support the many families who depend on this form or art for their living. Your purchase will make a difference in the lives of many Christian families.

We gladly accept cash, checks, and all major credit cards. Please note that we do not ask for, nor do we accept, any donations. Thank you in advance for your purchase

February is a month where we focus on love. In preschool, we talk a lot about love and how one of the most important kinds of love is the love for our families. I feel that in our very busy world, parents may forget or not even realize how much their children appreciate them. You do not need to take your child on big trips or buy them the best toys to show your love for them or to gain their love in return. I thought for valentines day I would ask my three year old students what they love about their parents. I wasn't sure what kind of answers I would get but I thought I would share some of them with you.

1. I love my Dad because he fixed the garage.
2. I love my parents because they cook me dinner.
3. I love my Mom because she plays games with me.
4. I love my parents because they let me ride my snowmobile.
5. I love my Mom because she gets me band aides.
6. I love my Mom because she will watch Monster Truck movies with me.
7. I love my Dad because he lets me put the windows down.
8. I love my Dad because he works on the combine and sometimes bugs get into his windshield.
9. I love my family because we play together.

As you can see the children love their parents for many different reasons. What I found is that everything that you do for your children doesn't always go unnoticed and sometimes the best way to show your love is to spend time together. Whether it's something as simple as playing games or making a meal, they will feel the love from their families.
