Message from Father Pergjini:

For everyone who does wicked things hates the light and does not come toward the light, so that his works might not be exposed. But whoever lives the truth comes to the light, so that his works may be clearly seen as done in God. This powerful passage from the Gospel of Saint John 3:20-21, the gospel for this fourth Sunday of Lent, reminds me of a very significant story related to the darkness and the light that Christ speaks to our broken souls. I was at our second grade classroom preparing the students for their first confession. I usually go every week to their class and also to the seventh grade students preparing them for the sacrament of confirmation. After I finished my talk to them, the second grade teacher shared with us a very unique experience which touched me. It happened a few years ago when the second grade students were going to attend the 9 a.m. Holy Mass. Just before entering into the church, one of the students started to cry bitterly and was unwilling to enter into the church. The teacher was surprised and approached her kindly asking what happened to her. After the kindness and gentle manners of our second grade teacher, asking what was bothering her, the little girl still crying told to her teacher what happened. That morning, before going to church for mass, they had a spelling test. She told her teacher that she cheated on that spelling test and for that reason she felt very bad for what she did. She continued to cry. The good teacher calmed her down very well by forgiving her for what she did and telling her that when the time will come to go to confession for the first time she will be able to confess this sin and others as well. For a moment she stopped crying and promised never to do again and both teacher and student embraced each other with love. Then she quietly entered into the church with rest of her classmates. As I share this experience I think what a powerful effect the holy ground of a Catholic church can have even in the soul of the little girl in which the darkens of sin entered. I tried to picture those moments when she was cheating. She felt good for a moment thinking she will do well in her spelling test. And then, the little soul who was approaching the holy ground where Christ is present, body, soul, blood and divinity, she felt the pain of sin, the pain of darkness. Those bitter tears were the perfect sign regretting what she did. There was Christ speaking to her conscience at the door of his church moving her soul. The little girl never experienced the grace of the sacrament of confession, still the power of Christ dwelling everywhere, more powerfully present in his church. She told the truth, the truth that comes to light only in rejecting the wicked things and living in the light. The teaching in the classroom of our Catholic schools regarding our faith and sacraments and attending Holy Mass with reverence and love for the Eucharist is indispensable. The little girl had the blessing to listen in her conscience the voice of Christ, in that silence where only the invisible presence God could enter. Yes indeed we as adults can learn a great lesson to examine our conscience before Christ during this holy season. What a blessing for a soul to be aware of our sinful past and present and make a commitment for the future and live in the grace of Christ! How can we approach the altar and receive the Body of Christ when we are unwilling to cleanse our broken souls from our sins through the sacrament of confession? Imagine, a little second grade student who was not even close to go to confession and receive the Body of Christ, still being aware where she was going, where Christ is present, she could not continue to live in darkness of sins. Only that way, and no other way, she could walk in peace and be able to look with her innocent eyes again at Christ on the Altar and promising not to repeat again the same sin. And this is the grace of the Holy place, the grace to go to Mass on Sundays where the real presence of Christ, body, blood, soul and divinity, patiently waiting for us invoking God's mercy through the sacrament of confession. An honest Catholic can never pretend to experience Christ's Mercy without repentance. It is true that we all are sinners, and Christ came to heal our broken souls and bring us back to His Father, and our Father, through his passion, death and resurrection, but we have to be aware that sin can never coexist with the grace of Christ. May this experience of the little girl, and powerful words of today's gospel of Saint John: "For everyone who does wicked things hates the light and does not come toward the light, so that his works might not be exposed. But whoever lives the truth comes to the light, so that his works may be clearly seen as done in God." help all of us as to be honest before Christ our Redeemer and properly confess the wicked things and live in the truth of Christ, the Truth and the glory of the resurrection. Amen!

Mensaje del Padre Pergjini:

Porque todo aquel que hace cosas malvadas odia la luz y no viene hacia la luz, para que sus obras no se expongan. Pero quien vive la verdad viene a la luz, para que sus obras puedan verse claramente como hechas en Dios. Este poderoso pasaje del Evangelio de San Juan 3: 20-21, el evangelio de este cuarto domingo de Cuaresma, me recuerda una historia muy significativa relacionada con la oscuridad y la luz que Cristo le habla a nuestras almas rotas. Estaba en nuestro aula de segundo grado preparando a los estudiantes para su primera confesión. Usualmente voy todas las semanas a su clase y también a los estudiantes de séptimo grado preparándolos para el sacramento de la confirmación. Después de terminar mi charla con ellos, la maestra de segundo grado compartió con nosotros una experiencia única que me emocionó. Sucedió hace unos años cuando los estudiantes de segundo grado iban a asistir a la Santa Misa de 9 a. M. Justo antes de ingresar a la iglesia, uno de los estudiantes comenzó a llorar amargamente y no estaba dispuesto a entrar a la iglesia. La maestra se sorprendió y se le acercó amablemente preguntando qué le había pasado. Después de la amabilidad y los buenos modales de nuestra maestra de segundo grado, preguntando qué le molestaba, la niña que aún lloraba le contó a su maestra lo que sucedió. Esa mañana, antes de ir a misa en la iglesia, tuvieron una prueba de ortografía. Ella le dijo a su maestra que hizo trampa en la prueba de ortografía y por esa razón se sintió muy mal por lo que hizo. Ella continuó llorando. La buena maestra la calmó muy bien perdonándola por lo que hizo y diciéndole que cuando llegue el momento de ir a la confesión por primera vez, ella podrá confesar este pecado y otros también. Por un momento ella dejó de llorar y prometió no volver a hacerlo nunca más, y tanto la maestra como la estudiante se abrazaron con amor. Luego entró silenciosamente a la iglesia con el resto de sus compañeros de clase. Al compartir esta experiencia, pienso en el poderoso efecto que puede tener el terreno sagrado de una iglesia católica, incluso en el alma de la niña en la que entraron los oscuros del pecado. Traté de imaginar esos momentos cuando estaba engañando. Se sintió bien por un momento pensando que le iría bien en su examen de ortografía. Y luego, la pequeña alma que se estaba acercando al terreno sagrado donde Cristo está presente, cuerpo, alma, sangre y divinidad, ella sintió el dolor del pecado, el dolor de la oscuridad. Esas lágrimas amargas fueron el signo perfecto lamentando lo que ella hizo. Había Cristo hablando a su conciencia en la puerta de su iglesia moviendo su alma. La niña nunca experimentó la gracia del sacramento de la confesión, todavía el poder de Cristo viviendo en todas partes, más poderosamente presente en su iglesia. Ella dijo la verdad, la verdad que sale a la luz solo al rechazar las cosas perversas y vivir en la luz. La enseñanza en el aula de nuestras escuelas católicas con respecto a nuestra fe y los sacramentos y asistir a la Santa Misa con reverencia y amor por la Eucaristía es indispensable. La niña tenía la bendición de escuchar en su conciencia la voz de Cristo, en ese silencio donde solo la presencia invisible de Dios podía entrar. Sí, de hecho, nosotros, como adultos, podemos aprender una gran lección para examinar nuestra conciencia antes de Cristo durante este tiempo sagrado. ¡Qué bendición para un alma estar al tanto de nuestro pasado y presente pecaminosos y hacer un compromiso para el futuro y vivir en la gracia de Cristo! ¿Cómo podemos acercarnos al altar y recibir el Cuerpo de Cristo cuando no estamos dispuestos a limpiar nuestras almas quebrantadas de nuestros pecados a través del sacramento de la confesión? Imagínese, una pequeña estudiante de segundo grado que ni siquiera estaba cerca de ir a la confesión y recibir el Cuerpo de Cristo, sin dejar de darse cuenta adónde iba, donde Cristo está presente, no podía continuar viviendo en la oscuridad de los pecados. Solo de esa manera, y de ninguna otra manera, ella podría caminar en paz y ser capaz de mirar con sus ojos inocentes nuevamente a Cristo en el Altar y prometer que no volverá a repetir el mismo pecado. Y esta es la gracia del Lugar Santo, la gracia de ir a misa los domingos donde la presencia real de Cristo, cuerpo, sangre, alma y divinidad, nos espera pacientemente invocando la misericordia de Dios a través del sacramento de la confesión. Un católico honesto nunca puede pretender experimentar la misericordia de Cristo sin arrepentirse. Es verdad que todos somos pecadores, y Cristo vino a sanar nuestras almas quebrantadas y nos devolvió a Su Padre, y a nuestro Padre, a través de su pasión, muerte y resurrección, pero debemos ser conscientes de que el pecado nunca puede coexistir con el gracia de Cristo Que esta experiencia de la niña y poderosas palabras del evangelio de San Juan de hoy: Porque todo el que hace cosas malas odia la luz y no viene hacia la luz, para que sus obras no se expongan. Pero quien vive la verdad viene a la luz, para que sus obras se puedan ver claramente como hechas en Dios ." ayúdanos a todos nosotros para ser honestos ante Cristo nuestro Redentor y confesar las cosas perversas y vivir en la verdad de Cristo, la verdad y la gloria de la resurrección ¡Amén!

WHY IS IT
A man wakes up after sleeping under an ADVERTISED blanket on an ADVERTISED mattress and pulls off ADVERTISED pajamas bathes in an ADVERTISED shower shaves with an ADVERTISED razor brushes his teeth
with ADVERTISED toothpaste washes with ADVERTISED soap puts on ADVERTISED clothes drinks a cup of ADVERTISED coffee
drives to work in an ADVERTISED car
and then . . . .
refuses to ADVERTISE
believing it doesn't pay.
Later if business is poor
he ADVERTISES it for sale.
