RADICAL INCARNATION

DARKNESS cannot drive out DARKNESS; only LIGHT can do that.

HATE cannot drive out HATE; only LOVE can do that.

Third Sunday of Advent

December 16, 2018

REJOICE!

Today has traditionally been called Gaudete Sunday. The Latin tag is derived from Pauls appeal in the second reading to rejoice always in the Lord, and the Latin Mass text based on that reading. The irony and paradox of this Christian joy is underlined by the fact that Paul wrote those words in prison. But from there he could see the progress of Gods work.

Is it obvious to us? We feel that this is not the time for joy when there is so much suffering and moral evil. It is interesting, then, that the first reading is from the prophet Zephaniah, who is almost exclusively concerned with gloomy visions of Judgment Day. Today the Church selects the only optimistic text in Zephaniah, in which the prophet has been touched by the spirit of joy.

This, we are assured on all sides, is the season of joy. Let us recapture that feeling of joy in our lives and reflect it to those who are joyless.

Today's Good News ~Living with Christ

"O shepherd of Israel, hearken, from your throne upon the cherubim, shine forth" (Psalm 80:2). Every time I travel to a new place, I end up surprised. Surprised because, inveterate and enthusiastic re-searcher that I am, I think I have the lay of the land and believe I know what to expect in this new place. But no matter what it is I'm seeing in the "flesh" for the first time—a cabin in the woods, a cottage by the sea, or even some well-known site, familiar from photographs—I'm always surprised. Reality is always a revelation. During Advent, I must dig deeply and be honest with myself. What is it I think I know about God? Am I open to begin surprised? God of love, reveal yourself to me.

Parish Reconciliation Service
Tuesday, December 18, 7pm

What are some of the benefits of receiving the sacrament of Reconciliation?

1. Confession helps us to better "know thyself." St. Augustine talks about the importance of knowing ourselves well. Through coming to know ourselves better, we realized how fallen we are, and how badly we need God's help and grace to get through life. Frequent Confession helps remind us to rely on God to help rid us of our sins.

2. Confession brings us peace. Guilt from our sins can make us feel all mixed up inside and cause us to lose our peace and joy. When we hear God's forgiving words to us from the lips of the priest in Confession, a burden is lifted and we can again feel the peace of heart and soul that comes from being in a good relationship with God.

Reflecting on the Word

From today's Gospel reading: The crowds asked John the Baptist, "What should we do?" He said to them in reply, "Whoever has two cloaks should share with the person who has none. And whoever has food should do likewise."

Reflection: John the Baptist's hearers want to know what they should do to prepare for the coming of Christ. John gives them clear and practical advice, within their reach. Share with people in need; feed the hungry; be fair in business practices and content with what you have.

So we ask ourselves: What changes must I make in my daily routine to be more attentive to Jesus' coming? What must I stop dong; what must I start doing?

KEEPING OUR CHILDREN SAFE

Learning Something New About an Abuse-Related Issue

You can help create a safer environment for our children by learning something new each week about an abuse-related issue. It doesn't have to be something major or time-consuming to be of benefit. It could be as simple as keeping your eye open for news items or statistics that broaden your understanding about different types of abuse, characteristics of abusers, warning signs that a child is a victim, and other such information. The sources are all around you . . . TV, radio, magazines, Internet, co-workers, peer groups. Check out Virtus at https://www.virtusonline.org/virtus/ for new articles. And while you're there, make sure you are signed in as part of St Columba in the Diocese of Oakland.

ADVENT 2018

"Radical Incarnation"

Our liturgical theme for this year is inspired by Sr Elizabeth Johnson, Fordham University professor, speaking about care for the earth and the earth's creatures being among the vulnerable ones that Jesus charges us to serve.

The mystery of Incarnation — God being born into the human experience — is more than a 2000-year-ago event. Incarnation happens every moment we accept God's invitation to open ourselves to the working of the Holy Spirit within us. It happens when the words we profess become real by how we put word into action.

It becomes radical when we each step out of our comfort zone to risk an action which is prophetic (witness to the gospel) as well as compassionate (actions of mercy). Being radical means being woke to what's happening around us but also committing to action to change what we see. Often, when we hear "radical" we dismiss it as something out of our experience. But at its root, the word points to the root, the source, the heart of how God becomes flesh in our every day.

"The Word became flesh and dwelt among us." Following the model of Mary, let us open ourselves to the moving of the Spirit. YES.

The Word Becoming Flesh

Here are some ideas for participating in "Radical Incarnation." Look at what you can do. And also consider what might stretch you— go out of your usual comfort zone.

- At home, take time for family Evening Prayer: use the Little Blue Book, read the readings of the day, pray the psalms of the day, remember those who are suffering.
- Attend the Advent Reconciliation Service Tue, Dec 18, at 7pm. Even if you haven't done this before, the sacrament fosters a spirit of penance, reflection and peace.
- Donate to St Thomas More (destroyed in Paradise fire) cash, checks, and gift cards. Mailing address: St Thomas More Catholic Church, c/o Our Divine Savior Church, 566 E. Lassen Ave., Chico, CA 95973. Make checks payable to St. Thomas More Church. Note: "Camp Fire Recovery." Or online at https://stmparadise.churchgiving.com/ws/opportunities/FireReliefFund.

Will you let Jesus be born in you this year, a little more than in the past?

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

Years ago, the trick question on religion quizzes would be to name all the liturgical colors, or the colors of the vestments worn at Mass. Rose is a color seldom seen, used at most two days a year. Today, Gaudete Sunday, is one of those days. The name of the day is drawn from an opening verse in the old Latin Mass texts: Gaudete is Latin for Rejoice! This years Gospel certainly reflects that mood as Elizabeth feels her infant within her leaping for joy at the presence of Mary. Mary's visit to her aged cousin is an act of compassion between women, as two kinswomen who are bearing children into the world share their joy.

Some churches retain the custom of having the priest wear rose vestments today, and many will use a rose candle in the Advent wreath. Violet is the official color for Advent and Lent, but many parishes employ different hues for each season, trying to keep them distinct. In medieval times, dye was costly, and poor parishes used unornamented plain cloth for vestments. Dyes were expensive and some colors, particularly purple, difficult to achieve. In England, purple dye was made from mollusks, yielding at best a deep indigo or blue and not the desired violet. Thus, the color of Advent in the British Isles has long been a deep blue, reminding many people of Mary's presence at the heart of the Advent mystery. That theology is largely unplanned: its all because of the clams!

Take a Look

Mass for Tots: A new program for families with toddlers and tots is in the planning stages, and you are invited to join us! We envision a monthly service in the sanctuary of about 30 minutes of singing, a Bible story and comment by Fr. Aidan, and some ritual element -- perhaps the lighting of a candle or blessing of bread. It's designed as a family affair to introduce our littlest ones to the mass as a place of worship and joy. Picture sitting on carpets on the floor around the altar, holding your little one in your lap. Grandparents are welcome to join us! If you would like to join our committee or just make a suggestion, please contact Laurie Porter at (817)891-7075 or email at laurinporter@att.net.

REMOVAL OF THE CROSSES

St. Columba Church, 6401 San Pablo Avenue @ Alcatraz, Oakland, CA 94608

Because the crosses in front of Church represent homicides in Oakland year-to-date, we must respectfully remove the crosses on December 31st so that we can "start over" in January in placing crosses in the Memorial for the New Year.

Please come and join us in prayer for those who tragically lost their lives during this past year and show our support to those families who have experienced extreme grief from losing a loved one to homicide.

The service is simple in structure: we gather in Church for some prayer and comments by grieving family members. We then proceed to the front garden and the name and date of death of each victim is spoken aloud as that cross is removed from the Memorial and handed to the victim's family, if present, or to any member of the congregation. When all of the crosses have been removed, we process back into Church and lay the crosses in front of the altar. Family members of the deceased who have received crosses may keep them as a remembrance of their loved one. The service ends with some concluding prayer.

Please join us for this important and powerful expression of St. Columba's compassion for the victims of violence in our City.
