Please try to attend with your families and children.

All Saints' Day, also known as All Hallows' Day, the Feast of All Saints, the Feast of All Hallows, the Solemnity of All Saints, and Halloween, is a Christian solemnity celebrated in honor of all the saints of the Church, whether they are known or unknown.

From the 4th century, feasts commemorating all Christian martyrs were held in various places, on various dates near Easter and Pentecost. In the 9th century, some churches in the British Isles began holding the commemoration of all saints on the 1st of November, and in the 9th century this was extended to the whole Catholic Church by Pope Gregory IV.

In Western Christianity, it is still celebrated on November 1 by the Roman Catholic Church as well as many Protestant churches, such as the Lutheran, Anglican, and Methodist traditions. The Eastern Orthodox Church and associated Eastern Catholic and Eastern Lutheran churches celebrate it on the first Sunday after Pentecost. The Syro-Malabar Church and the Chaldean Catholic Church, both of which are in communion with Rome, as well as the Church of the East, celebrate All Saints' Day on the first Friday after Easter Sunday. In the Coptic Egyptian Orthodox tradition, All Saints' Day is on Nayrouz, celebrated on September 11. The day is the start of the Coptic new year.

The diversity of the Catholic Church in its celebration of the dates of Feasts and Solemnities is amazing and life-giving for local communities of faith.

WHY DO CATHOLICS CELEBRATE ALL SOULS DAY?

The Church is composed of the faithful living upon the earth and those who have gone before us. The latter includes the Saints in Heaven and the faithful Souls being purified in Purgatory. Just as on November 1st we honor those who are with God, on November 2nd Catholics celebrate a Commemoration of All the Faithful Departed. Also known as All Souls Day, on this day we honor them for their fidelity in life, as well as pray for them, since they are being purified before entering the All Holy Presence of God. As Revelation 21:27 says of the Heavenly Jerusalem, "... nothing unclean shall enter in."

Please Join Us for Mass on All Souls' Day
Thursday, November 2—7:15 AM, 12:15 PM, or 6:00 PM, when we will remember in a special way all who have passed this year in our community.

PADRE SERRA SAYS...

How will you work out your life response to God?

The National Coalition for Church Vocations has distributed a pamphlet containing general information on some of the many ways to continue God's work. The following are some excerpts from that pamphlet. "Community" describes the life religious brothers and sisters choose. Community enables the individual to reach out to others with the strength and courage that comes from knowing, "I don't have to do it alone. Others stand with me in this. My abilities are complemented by their gifts, confidence, wisdom and vision." In community, sisters and brothers live out their vowed commitments, knowing that, though each member is unique, the binding force in life is each one's personal and communal relationship with Jesus.

Today, the three vows (celibacy, poverty and obedience) which most religious make in a public way, may seem to be out of step with an age of sexual revolution. They are considered inconsistent with the popular demand for more and better "things," and with the ultimatums for the individual's "personal rights." Celibacy is a gift and a promise to love very deeply and to express that love for others without using those physical expressions proper to marriage. The lives of many men and women religious are rich and loving within the context of celibate love as are the lives of happily married couples.

In a world waging war on poverty, men and women religious choose to live as Jesus did — simply. Because they share expenses and try to keep their personal and communal needs simple, they can get along very well on very little. Then, there's obedience. The obedience of sisters and brothers is to the God they love, and the ways to this love are not obscure. God's voice is heard in the many voices of community. Everyone has a vocation; pray for yours.

WORD OF LIFE

"Hope is always possible. To those who care for the sick, the scene of the Cross provides a way of understanding that even when it seems that there is nothing more to do there remains much to do, because 'remaining' by the side of the sick is a sign of love and of the hope that it contains. Healed by Jesus, we become men and women called to proclaim his healing power and provide care for our neighbors, until the very end."

DIOCESE of UNITED WILMINGTON in Christ
Pastoral Planning for Our Parishes and Schools

Pastoral Planning Parish Survey Compete the six minute survey at the link or QR code below

In May 2023, Bishop Koenig began a pastoral planning process for the parishes and schools of the Diocese of Wilmington: United in Christ. Having been our bishop for two years, he has travelled throughout our diocese and, through the Synod listening sessions, has heard from representatives of each parish. He has also met with and had extensive discussions with the priests of the diocese. These conversations led to the pastoral planning process, including this survey of all parishes in our deanery.

We're profoundly grateful for the diligent efforts of so many faithful and dedicated people over the decades, but much of what we've known and always done is no longer as effective as it once was in handing on the faith. Sadly, the "way we've always done things" might now regrettably inhibit rather than serve the Church's unchanging mission and the formational needs of people today. Rather than "doubling down" on once effective but now inadequate models and strategies from a previous era, it is time for us, to courageously "cast into the deep" by letting go of some of the ways we have done things up to now—as challenging as it can be for all of us—so that with God's help we might reimagine and realign our parish ministries, programs, personnel, and other resources for the sake of evangelization, discipleship, and mission in our increasingly post-Christian culture and city. This is especially true if we are going to fulfill more faithfully Jesus' mandate to "Go make disciples" in the present as well as build a healthier and holier reality to leave for future generations.

To help us assess where we are and better ways to partner together for vibrant parishes, complete a six-minute survey by scanning the QR code, visiting <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/CityDeanerySurvey> or contacting the parish office for a hard copy.

This Sunday's Readings

First Reading: Exodus 22:20-26

The Lord teaches that compassion ought to be shown to the alien and to the poor.

Responsorial Psalm: Psalm 18:2-4, 47, 51

The Lord is our strength.

Second Reading: 1 Thessalonians 1:5c-10

Paul tells the Thessalonians that their conversion to the Lord has been an example to all believers.

Gospel Reading: Matthew 22:34-40

The Pharisees continue to test Jesus with a question about the greatest commandment.

Background on the Gospel Reading

This week's Gospel follows close behind the Gospel read last Sunday. It is the last of three questions put to Jesus by Jewish religious leaders who are trying to trick him into saying something that might get him arrested. This reminds us that the context for today's reading is the mounting tension between Jesus and the religious leaders in Jerusalem.

The Herodians and the Pharisees asked the first question, which was about taxes. The Sadducees asked the second question, which was about the Resurrection (see Matthew 22:22-33). The third question, considered in today's Gospel, is asked by a Pharisee who asks Jesus about the greatest of the commandments.

The question requires Jesus to interpret the Law of Moses. The Mosaic Law consists of the Ten Commandments and many additional rules, numbering over six hundred. Adherence to the Mosaic Law, for a devout Jew, is an expression of faithfulness to God's covenant with Israel. The ranking of the Commandments was regularly debated among the teachers of the Law.

Jesus answers the Pharisees' question with a two-fold summary. Jesus says that all of the commandments can be summarized in two commandments: love God and love your neighbor. Both of these were central elements of the religious tradition Jesus learned from his Jewish community. Indeed these continue to be central aspects of contemporary Jewish religious understanding. Jesus' response to his questioners proposed an integral connection between these two aspects of the Jewish Law. Love of God finds its expression in our love for our neighbor.

Family Connection

Children learn about love from real, concrete examples witnessed in family life. We can help children to love God and love their neighbors by showing everyday acts of love, generosity, and kindness—our own expressions of our love for God. These acts, small and large, are the expression of what Jesus identified as the two greatest commandments: love God and love neighbor.

Make a poster together as a family. Write the words Love God in the center of the poster and write the words Love Neighbor near each of the four sides of the poster. Read together today's Gospel, Matthew 22:34-40. Talk about how Jesus taught us that our love for God is revealed in the love that we show to other people. On the poster, use pictures and words to show some of the ways that your family shows their love for other people. Pray together that your family will continue to express your love for God by loving others. Pray the Act of Love.
