When the Filipino Catholic community gets together for a feast, expect a celebration that almost always includes prayer, food and dancing.

So says Filipino priest Efren Esmilla, the newly appointed auxiliary bishop in the Archdiocese of Philadelphia who for the last year has been celebrating a monthly bilingual Mass at St. Elizabeth Church in Wilmington. The Mass is bilingual as it is celebrated in Tagalog and English,

He returns for the monthly Mass in Wilmington Jan. 21, a special day among Filipino Catholics. An annual feast honoring Santo Niño called “Sinulog” is celebrated on the third Sunday in January in the Philippines. It includes a religious image of the Christ child widely venerated as miraculous.

“It is a big celebration and a continuation of the Christmas season in the Philippines, honoring and adoring our Santa Nino,” Bishop-designate Esmilla said in a telephone interview. “There is a lot of dancing and prayers. It is not only the Filipinos now. There are also some Americans who are joining the Mass.

“The Filipinos after the Mass always have fellowship,” he said. “There is always food after the Mass. That’s part of the culture.” The Mass also includes music from the Filipino choir, which was led for more than 30 years by Norma Abrenica.

“She is a woman of great faith and very much enjoys working with parishes and choirs,” said Father Roger DiBuo, pastor of St. Elizabeth in Wilmington and former pastor of St. Elizabeth Ann Seton Parish in Bear. “She has been a leader in the Filipino community and has been very well-known in many parishes over the decades. The choir brings beautiful Filipino music to the Mass.”

The bishop-designate said he hopes to continue his monthly commitment in Wilmington.

“As long as I’m available, I would like to continue my service there,” said Bishop-designate Esmilla, who is also pastor of two parishes in the archdiocese. “As my mother always said, I’m here to serve.”

PADRE SERRA SAYS...

Whether you are in eighth grade, high school or college, this is "decision time." This year is not just another year in school, but a special time in your life. This is a great opportunity to develop your gifts and talents.

So, work hard, do and be your best. Shape your own dreams and goals by using the rich talent with which the Lord has blessed you.

As you look at your future, consider a life of service in the Church. Think seriously about taking at least a part of your life and giving it to other people in the name of our Lord and through the Church. Even more than that, consider priesthood, sisterhood and the religious life. What a great contribution you could make to the world and God's people!

Have a great year in school. Do your best. Make your education have such a positive effect on you that other people in this world will benefit from you and your talent.

In the meantime, in your daily prayers, pray for your vocation.

Serra for priestly and religious vocations

WORD OF LIFE

"When we encounter Christ, experience his love, and deepen our relationship with him, we become more aware of our own worth and that of others. His love for each person is cause for great joy, and growing understanding of this priceless treasure motivates us to share his love with others. Our lives are often changed by the witness of others; so too, others' lives may be changed by our witness and authentic friendship with them."

What happens when someone dies without a will? Lots of Americans are about to find out. According to one recent study, 68 percent of U.S. adults do not have a will or any other estate planning document. If you die without a will or intestate, the laws of the state, not you, decide who gets your assets. Could you resolve to make 2024 the year you get your affairs in order? Remember: Estate planning is for everyone. Consider a legacy gift to our parish. For your complimentary Estate Planning Guide, please email cfacciolo@cdow.org. or call the Development Office of the Diocese at 302-573-3121.

Background on the Gospel Reading

Although the liturgical season of Ordinary Time begins this week, today's reading continues with the celebration of the Baptism of the Lord, which concludes the Christmas season. Today's reading from the Gospel according to John immediately follows John the Baptist's testimony about Jesus and his identification of Jesus as the Lamb of God. Having been baptized by John, Jesus begins to gather followers. The first followers sought out Jesus because of the testimony and witness of John the Baptist.

We are familiar with the title that John the Baptist uses for Jesus—the Lamb of God. We hear it weekly at the fraction rite during Mass. For those who heard John the Baptist, however, this title recalled key themes from the Old Testament. It alludes to the paschal lamb offered as a sacrifice when God freed the Israelites from slavery in Egypt, the event that is commemorated by the Jewish Passover celebration. The designation also recalls the prophet Isaiah's description of the suffering servant of Israel. In using this name for Jesus, John the Baptist predicts Jesus' passion and death and the new interpretation of Passover that will begin with Jesus' Last Supper.

We learn in today's reading how Jesus' first followers were gathered. The first two, Andrew and another man, were followers of John the Baptist. After hearing John's testimony, they became followers of Jesus. During their time with Jesus, the details of which are not specified, Andrew and the other follower came to believe that Jesus was the Messiah. Andrew then brings his brother, Simon, to Jesus. Immediately, Jesus gave Simon a new name, calling him Peter, which means "rock" in Greek. The renaming of Simon to Peter is reported in all four of the Gospels.

In the exchange between Andrew, the other disciple, and Jesus, we see an example of the usual pattern for first-century Jewish rabbinical schools. Jews sought out rabbis and established themselves as disciples of a particular rabbi. Jesus appears to have been unique in that he sought out individuals, inviting them to be his followers. In the passage that follows, John's Gospel tells us how Jesus took the initiative in calling Philip and Nathanael.

Jesus asks Andrew and the other disciple, "What are you looking for?" This is a telling question, and one that we might often ask of ourselves. John the Baptist testified to Jesus' identity, the Lamb of God, using the framework of the Old Testament. Andrew, Simon, and the other first disciples were looking for the Messiah, whom they also came to know as the Son of God. What do we look for and what do we find in Jesus?

Family Connection

In today's Gospel we learn about one of at least two family relations that appear among Jesus' first disciples. Andrew is the brother of Simon, whom Jesus renames Peter. In next week's Gospel, we will learn about the brothers James and John, the sons of Zebedee. We know from the letters of Paul and other witnesses to the early Church that it was a common occurrence for an entire household to be baptized together. From the very beginning of the Church, families helped one another to know and follow Jesus. We hope and pray that this continues to be true in our family life.

Before your family gathers, look around your house and gather some items that your family might have that remind you of your faith. Perhaps you have a cross or crucifix displayed in your home, a statue of Mary, or statues or other art depicting saints. In today's Gospel we learn about how Andrew led his brother, Simon, to Jesus. Read today's Gospel, John 1:35-42.

In our family life, we also help to lead one another to Jesus. Talk together about the items that you gathered, discussing what these items mean to you and how you might use them during the day for prayer. Pray that your family will continue to help one another grow in our faith in Jesus. Pray together the Glory Be to the Father.
