Eucharistic Revival

"There are two types of people who should receive communion frequently; the perfect, because being well disposed they would be very much to blame if they did not approach the [Eucharist] which is the source and summit of all perfection, and the imperfect, so that they may continue to strive for perfection; the strong lest they become weak, and the weak so that they become strong. The sick ought to receive communion so that they are restored to health, and the healthy ought to receive communion so that they do not fall sick. We receive the Blessed Sacrament often so as to learn how to receive it well, for we hardly do something well if we do not do it often."
