Fifteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

15th Sunday Ordinary Time

Are you a good listener? This week's readings are all about how well the Word of the Lord takes root in our hearts.

In the first reading, the Lord tells us that His Word is a life-giving, active force in our lives. In the second reading, St. Paul reminds us that Christ has set into motion a redemption for all of Creation. And in the Gospel, Jesus tells us that God's Word is always being sent out to us for redemption and life, but we sometimes don't receive the life-giving Word He is trying to sow in our lives.

YOUR HOMEWORK ASSIGNMENT:

This week, make a point of being an active listener. Make time to listen to your spouse, or a friend, your children, or a coworker. Who are the people in your life who need your attention? Take this to prayer and be an attentive listener to the love the Lord is giving you to share.

Welcome to Saint Luke!

FROM YOUR PASTOR 2

Hey, St. Luke family,

As you know, our awesome seminarian, Seth Smith, has been doing some letters to our community in this spot so that we can learn a little about what it means to go through the formation process to become a priest. Here's the second installment of a four part series about the importance of learning philosophy as we prepare to become priests - and as lay people become great leaders in their lives and families, too! I hope you'll take the time to read and follow along. Seth's articles will continue on page 6 on the Faith Formation page.

To Jesus through Mary, in union with St. Joseph, Your pastor,

Fr. Jared

PHILOSOPHY FOR BEGINNERS - PART 2

Introduction

This is part 2 of 4 in the "Philosophy for Beginners" series. Last week, I defined what philosophy is, explained a brief history of the birth of philosophy in Ancient Greece, and how there is a harmony between faith and reason. Since there is so much to cover, this article will be about two different subjects within philosophy. First, I will explain epistemology by defining it and explaining a few different types of epistemologies. Second, I will explain anthropology in the same way by defining it and explaining a few different views of anthropology. I will also present the Catholic position in these two topics. Once again, I will be using my lecture notes from Dr. James Jacobs, and also his book Seat of Wisdom: An Introduction to Philosophy in the Catholic Tradition. I know that epistemology and anthropology are scary looking words, but I'll try to explain them as simply as I can.

Epistemology

The word epistemology can be defined as an explanation of how we can know reality. It can also be considered as something like "a school of thought." Throughout the centuries, different philosophers have come up with several different epistemologies or schools of thought about how we can know reality. Epistemology is concerned with defining what the truth is and how to find it. I like to refer to the different types of epistemology as the "isms." For example, most of the words end in "ism" such as realism, nominalism, rationalism, empiricism, idealism, pragmatism, etc. These are all different types of epistemology. I will explain a couple of these different epistemologies, and then I will explain the one that the Church has traditionally aligned herself with.

The first one I would like to talk about is rationalism. Rationalism is the belief that all knowledge is derived through reason alone, and not through sense

MUSIC

ENTRANCE: BE THOU MY VISION

1. Be Thou my vision,
O Lord of my heart;
Naught be all else to me,
save that Thou art:
Thou my best thought,
by day or by night,
Waking or sleeping,
Thy presence my light.
2. Be Thou my wisdom,
and Thou my true word;
I ever with Thee and Thou with me, Lord:
Thou my great Father,
and I Thy true son,
Thou in me dwelling, and I with Thee one.

RESPONSORIAL PSALM

R. The seed that falls on good ground will yield a fruitful harvest.

OFFERTORY: EYE HAS NOT SEEN #728 V. 1-3

Refrain:

Eye has not seen, ear has not heard
what God has ready for those who love him;
Spirit of love, come, give us the mind of Jesus,
teach us the wisdom of God.

1. When pain and sorrow weigh us down,
be near to us, O Lord,
forgive the weakness of our faith,
and bear us up within your peaceful word.

[Refrain]

2. Our lives are but a single breath,
we flower and we fade,
yet all our days are in your hands,
so we return in love what love has made.

[Refrain]

3. To those who see with eyes of faith,
the Lord is ever near,
reflected in the faces
of all the poor and lowly of the world.

[Refrain]

READING 1: Is 55:10-11

Thus says the LORD:
Just as from the heavens
the rain and snow come down and do not return there till they have watered the earth, making it fertile and fruitful, giving seed to the one who sows
and bread to the one who eats, so shall my word be
that goes forth from my mouth;
my word shall not return to me void,
but shall do my will,
achieving the end for which I sent it.

READING 2: Rom 8:18-23

Brothers and sisters:
I consider that the sufferings of this present time are as nothing compared with the glory to be revealed for us.
For creation awaits with eager expectation
the revelation of the children of God;
for creation was made subject to futility,
not of its own accord but because of the one who subjected it,
in hope that creation itself would be set free from slavery to corruption and share in the glorious freedom of the children of God.
We know that all creation is groaning in labor pains even until now;
and not only that, but we ourselves,
who have the firstfruits of the Spirit,
we also groan within ourselves
as we wait for adoption, the redemption of our bodies.

PLEASE PRAY FOR THESE INTENTIONS:

POPE FRANCIS: For a Eucharistic life

We pray that Catholics may place the celebration of the Eucharist at the heart of their lives, transforming human relationships in a very deep way and opening to the encounter with God and all their brothers and sisters.

FATHER JARED: For an Increase of Love for Eucharistic Adoration

We pray for the blessing of perseverance in Eucharistic Adoration in our parish family and for new hearts to be called to experience the True Presence of the Lord in Adoration.

GOSPEL: Mt 13:1-23

[On that day, Jesus went out of the house and sat down by the sea. Such large crowds gathered around him that he got into a boat and sat down, and the whole crowd stood along the shore. And he spoke to them at length in parables, saying:

"A sower went out to sow. And as he sowed, some seed fell on the path, and birds came and ate it up. Some fell on rocky ground, where it had little soil. It sprang up at once because the soil was not deep, and when the sun rose it was scorched, and it withered for lack of roots. Some seed fell among thorns, and the thorns grew up and choked it. But some seed fell on rich soil, and produced fruit, a hundred or sixty or thirtyfold. Whoever has ears ought to hear."]

The disciples approached him and said, "Why do you speak to them in parables?"

He said to them in reply, "Because knowledge of the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven has been granted to you, but to them it has not been granted. To anyone who has, more will be given and he will grow rich; from anyone who has not, even what he has will be taken away. This is why I speak to them in parables, because they look but do not see and hear but do not listen or understand. Isaiah's prophecy is fulfilled in them, which says: You shall indeed hear but not understand, you shall indeed look but never see. Gross is the heart of this people, they will hardly hear with their ears, they have closed their eyes, lest they see with their eyes and hear with their ears and understand with their hearts and be converted, and I heal them.

"But blessed are your eyes, because they see, and your ears, because they hear. Amen, I say to you, many prophets and righteous people longed to see what you see but did not see it, and to hear what you hear but did not hear it.

"Hear then the parable of the sower.

The seed sown on the path is the one who hears the word of the kingdom without understanding it, and the evil one comes and steals away what was sown in his heart. The seed sown on rocky ground is the one who hears the word and receives it at once with joy. But he has no root and lasts only for a time. When some tribulation or persecution comes because of the word, he immediately falls away. The seed sown among thorns is the one who hears the word, but then worldly anxiety and the lure of riches choke the word and it bears no fruit. But the seed sown on rich soil is the one who hears the word and understands it, who indeed bears fruit and yields a hundred or sixty or thirtyfold."

experience. The primary philosopher associated with this school of thought is Rene Descartes. Rationalism is all based on his first principle, which is Cogito, ergo sum (I think, therefore I am). Descartes doubted every belief that was not completely certain in order to discover a necessary truth as a new foundation for knowledge.

The second one that I would like to talk about is empiricism. This is the exact opposite of rationalism. It is the belief that truth or knowledge can be known only through sense experience. This was a position held by several British philosophers such as John Locke and David Hume. The first principle of empiricism is that all truths must be due to direct sense experience as the self-evident foundation for knowledge. Any idea that does not come from experience must be rejected. When accepting these first principles and playing out all the consequences, these epistemologies both lead to contradictions. For example, rationalism eliminates contingency (change) from the world in the quest for certainty, and this theory fails due to the reality of a changing world. Empiricism ultimately leads to skepticism, which is the idea that there is no certainty or truth about reality. Both of these theories fail, so there has to be one that's correct.

This leads us to realism. Realism is the belief that there is an ordered universe that the human person can come to know. Humans can use sensation AND reason to aid them in their pursuit of truth. Sensation allows one to know the individuality of a substance, whereas reason allows one to know the universal nature of a substance. This is the position first posited by Plato and Aristotle, and then later picked up by St. Augustine and St. Thomas Aquinas. It is based on the Principle of Non-contradiction. It is the idea that something cannot both be and not be at the same time and in the same respect. This would be the position that the Church aligns herself with because this first principle does not lead to contradiction, and it allows us to know truth and reality.

Anthropology

Anthropology is simply the study of the human person. According to Boethius, a person is an individual substance with a rational nature. All humans are persons, and all persons are humans. Aristotle defined man as a rational animal. Man is an animal, but his faculty of reason raises him higher than other animals. Man is a spirit, but unlike angels, he has a body. Anthropology is really just getting to the bottom of what man is. As you will see in every other part of philosophy, almost every philosopher has a different perspective or opinion. First, I will explain two opposing positions. Second, I will explain the realist Aristotle/Aquinas position that the Church would agree with.

The first position that I would like to talk about is called Cartesian dualism. It is named after Rene Descartes, who is the same philosopher that we just talked about above. Descartes only believed in certainty, and the only thing that he could be certain of was that he was thinking. So, this led him to say that he is a mind or a thinking thing, and not a body. He viewed his body as simply a machine or a mechanism that wasn't actually a part of him.

The second position is called materialism. Materialism is the theory that affirms that physical matter is the only reality through which all being and processes and phenomena can be explained. The theory denies that we have a soul at all. This theory makes the human person simply a clump of cells.

As we saw earlier, St. Thomas Aquinas tends to resolve these issues by providing a "both and" answer. For example, when it comes to anthropology, he says that humans are composed of both a soul and a body. Dualism says that we are just a soul, and materialism says that we are just a body. St. Thomas says we are both. This is called hylomorphism. It is the idea that the human person is composed of two inseparable principles; matter (stuff) and form (whatness). This idea was first posited by Aristotle, but St. Thomas Aquinas built upon it. Aristotle said that the soul is the form of the body giving it shape, existence, and powers. The human soul gives the body its shape, gives the body life, and gives the body different faculties (intellect and will). The Church ultimately teaches the same thing; humans are composed of both soul and body.

SEE YOU NEXT WEEK!
