My Dear People of God!

As we begin looking at the Creed, I would like to focus on the first word. The Latin word is credo, which is translated "I believe." The significance of "I" is that it implies a relationship. The basis of our faith has come from our relating to God. This relationship is recorded throughout the Sacred Scriptures. It is also lived by the saints of the Church. It is proclaimed in the magisterium (the teaching office) of the Church. Lastly, it is experienced by the individual Christian as well.

This is a vital for the Christian Faith. No other religion begins with a relationship, it begins with a quest. On the other hand, the God of Christianity is personal, meaning that He relates to us. Eucharistic Prayer IV beautifully expresses this at Mass: "...When through disobedience [...the human race] had lost your friendship, you did not abandon [...humanity] to the domain of death. For you came in mercy to the aid of all, so that those who seek might find you." God came down to be in relationship with us and as such He desires that we also know Him.

Christianity has been described as a Theology on the knees. This comes from a reality of humility. Humility knows who I am in relationship with myself, others, the world, and primarily God. In expressing that "I" believe in God, what we are professing the greatness of God coming down to meet us.

As we profess the Creed today or even daily when we pray the Rosary, let us pause to remember that the Creed is more than just a list of beliefs; it is a statement of relationship. May His blessings be on us that we may in turn be a true and good friend of God.

God Bless!
Father Ruben Buller

The senior members of our Cathedral Youth Group—Andrew Broussard, Lydia Istre, and Adeline Watson—would like to extend a heartfelt thank-you to the generous supporters of our Cathedral Parish. Because of your kindness, they had the incredible opportunity to go on a beautiful pilgrimage through Italy.
They visited sacred sites in Assisi, Orvieto, Naples, and Rome, and one of the most unforgettable moments was attending the Wednesday Audience with Pope Leo XIV.
We are deeply grateful for the way our parish continues to support youth ministry—not just in our church, but throughout the diocese. Your generosity is truly making a lasting impact.—Monica Broussard, Youth Director

Prayer Intentions for July

Pope Leo XIV: Let us pray that we might again learn how to discern, to know how to choose paths of life, and reject everything that leads us away from Christ and the Gospel.

Bishop Provost: Let us pray for our families to be protected from all harm and live in peace and a true spirit of reconciliation.
