RESIDENTS ENCOUNTER CHRIST (REC)

REC is a Catholic evangelizing ministry of priests, deacons, professed religious and lay persons who enter prison to provide 3-day spiritual retreats and to share the saving message of the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

The Catholic chaplains are asking us not only to sustain but also to increase the REC presence at their facilities. REC is faithful to church teachings and very well aligned with the "new evangelization" to which our recent Holy Fathers have been calling us. We need to increase the number of lay persons actively involved in REC-particularly in the MEN's prisons. Please prayerfully consider helping in some way.

For more information about REC and ways in which you may be able to help, please call Frank Fitzgerald at (845)297-3335.

FROM A LETTER TO PROBA BY SAINT AUGUSTINE OF HIPPO (354-430)

On Prayer

Let us always desire the happy life from the Lord God and always pray for it. But for this very reason we turn our mind to the task of prayer at appointed hours, since that desire grows lukewarm, so to speak, from our involvement in other concerns and occupations. We remind ourselves through the words of prayer to focus our attention on the object of our desire; otherwise, the desire that began to grow lukewarm may grow chill altogether and may be totally extinguished unless it is repeatedly stirred into flame. Therefore, when the Apostle says: Let your petitions become known before God, this should not be taken in the sense that they are in fact becoming known to God who certainly knew them even before they were made, but that they are becoming known before men through boasting. Since this is the case, it is not wrong or useless to pray even for a long time when there is the opportunity. I mean when it does not keep us from performing the other good and necessary actions we are obliged to do. But even in these actions, as I have said, we must always pray with that desire. To pray for a longer time is not the same as to pray by multiplying words, as some people suppose. Lengthy talk is one thing, a prayerful disposition which lasts a long time is another. For it is even written in reference to the Lord himself that he spent the night in prayer and that he prayed at great length. Was he not giving us an example by this? In time, he prays when it is appropriate; and in eternity, he hears our prayers with the Father The monks in Egypt are said to offer frequent prayers, but these are very short and hurled like swift javelins. Otherwise their watchful attention, a very necessary quality for anyone at prayer, could be dulled and could disappear through protracted delays. They also clearly demonstrate through this practice that a person must not quickly divert such attention if it lasts, just as one must not allow it to be blunted if it cannot last Excessive talking should be kept out of prayer but that does not mean that one should not spend much time in prayer so long as fervent attitude continues to accompany his prayer. To talk at length in prayer is to perform a necessary action with an excess of words. To spend much time in prayer is to knock with a persistent and holy fervor at the door of the one whom we beseech. This task is generally accomplished more through sighs than words, more through weeping than speech. He places our tears in his sight, and our sighs are not hidden from him, for he has established all things through his Word and does not seek human words.

DE LA CARTA DE SAN AGUSTÍN DE HIPPON A PROBA

De Oracion

Deseemos siempre la vida dichosa y eterna, que nos dará nuestro Dios y Señor, y así estaremos siempre orando. Pero, con objeto de mantener vivo este deseo, debemos, en ciertos momentos, apartar nuestra mente de las preocupaciones y quehaceres que, de algún mudo, nos distraen de él y amonestarnos a nosotros mismos con la oración vocal, no fuese caso que si nuestro deseo empezó a entibiarse llegara a quedar totalmente frío y, al no renovar con frecuencia el fervor, acabara por extinguirse del todo. Por eso, cuando dice el Apóstol: Vuestras peticiones sean presentadas a Dios, no hay que entender estas palabras como si se tratara de descubrir a Dios nuestras peticiones, pues él continuamente las conoce, aun antes de que se las formulemos; estas palabras significan, más bien, que debemos descubrir nuestras peticiones a nosotros mismos en presencia de Dios, perseverando en la oración, sin mostrarlas ante los hombres por vanagloria de nuestras plegarias. Como esto sea así, aunque ya en el cumplimiento de nuestros deberes, como dijimos, hemos de orar siempre con el deseo, no puede considerarse inútil y vituperable el entregarse largamente a la oración, siempre y cuando no nos lo impidan otras obligaciones buenas y necesarias. Ni hay que decir, como algunos piensan, que orar largamente sea lo mismo que orar con vana palabrería. Una cosa, en efecto, son las muchas palabras y otra cosa el efecto perseverante y continuado. Pues del mismo Señor está escrito que pasaba la noche en oración y que oró largamente; con lo cual, ¿qué hizo sino darnos ejemplo, al orar oportunamente en el tiempo, aquel mismo que, con el Padre, oye nuestra oración en la eternidad? Se dice que los monjes de Egipto hacen frecuentes oraciones, pero muy cortas, a manera de jaculatorias brevísimas, para que así la atención, que es tan sumamente necesaria en la oración, se mantenga vigilante y despierta y no se fatigue ni se embote con la prolijidad de las palabras. Con esto nos enseñan claramente que así como no hay que forzar la atención cuando no logra mantenerse despierta, así tampoco hay que interrumpirla cuando puede continuar orando.Lejos, pues, de nosotros la oración con vana palabrería; pero que no falte la oración prolongada, mientras persevere ferviente la atención: Hablar mucho en la oración es como tratar un asunto necesario y urgente con palabras superfluas. Orar, en cambio, prolongadamente es llamar con corazón perseverante y lleno de afecto a la puerta de aquel que nos escucha. Porque, con frecuencia, la finalidad de la oración se logra más con lágrimas y llantos que con palabras y expresiones verbales. Porque el Señor recoge nuestras lágrimas en su odre y a él no se le ocultan nuestros gemidos, pues todo lo creó por medio de aquel que es su Palabra, y no necesita las palabras humanas.
