New York State Catholic Conference

THE OFFICIAL PUBLIC POLICY VOICE OF THE CATHOLIC CHURCH IN THE EMPIRE STATE

DENNIS POUST, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

'We Give Thanks to God'

A statement on the Dobbs decision by the Catholic Bishops of New York State

We give thanks to God for today's decision of the United States Supreme Court in Dobbs v. Jackson Women's Health Organization. This just decision will save countless innocent children simply waiting to be born.

On this historic day, our gratitude extends to the millions of heroic Americans who have worked tirelessly toward this outcome for nearly a half-century. Women and men, children and adults, believers and non-believers, people of every culture and background have advocated for life. They have been a charitable and compelling voice for the voiceless, and today, their voice has been heard.

As Catholics, we have prayed and fasted, held vigils, offered Masses, and peacefully witnessed in these last five decades. We have joined others in educating schoolchildren, opening pregnancy care centers, walking with mothers, offering post-abortion counseling, and marching, year after year, to the United States Supreme Court to witness for life. Today, our voice has been heard.

With the entire pro-life community, we are overjoyed with this outcome of the Court. However, we acknowledge the wide range of emotions associated with this decision. We call on all Catholics and everyone who supports the right to life for unborn children to be charitable, even as we celebrate an important historical moment and an answer to a prayer.

We must remember that this is a judicial victory, not a cultural one. The culture remains deeply divided on the issue, which will be evidenced by the patchwork of state statutes pertaining to abortion across the country. To change the culture and build a culture of life, we need to enact family-friendly policies that welcome children, support mothers, cherish families and empower them to thrive. We outlined our vision for a pro-life New York in our recent statement, available here, and we rededicate ourselves to helping every expectant mother to carry her baby to term.

Building a culture of life is not solely the responsibility of the government or those heroic individuals working on the front lines, in crisis pregnancy centers and other ministries. All of us need to respect the dignity and sanctity of human life in everything we do: in how we treat our children, spouses and parents; in the way we behave in our place of work; in sum, how we live Jesus' two great commandments to love God and love our neighbor.

Love, charity and reverence for human life from the moment of conception through natural death - these will build and sustain a culture of life.

Millions of Americans have worked tirelessly for almost 50 years towards this outcome. We thank them with every fiber of our being. Their vital work continues, and we commit ourselves to it.

SCRIPTURE INSIGHTS

Today's reading from Isaiah is from the last chapter of this monumental prophetic book. In some respects. The last two chapters of Isaiah might be considered a grand finale to a work that spans an extensive period of Israel's relationship with God. This passage, addressed to the postexilic community, offers hope to the people who did not see God's promises made to the exiles as coming to fulfillment. The message to this community is: "Rejoice!" God will comfort you, and you will know the Lord's saving power.

The responsorial psalm reinforces the message in Isaiah, as the psalmist invites the assembly to sing God's praises. The psalm moves between worshipping God and recalling the saving deeds that God has performed on behalf of his people.

In the concluding verses of Paul's Letter to the Galatians, we hear that Paul takes pride in his commitment to the cross of the Lord Jesus Christ. Paul, who had been a persecutor of the followers of Jesus, now proclaims that the only important thing in life is to become a new creation in Christ.

The Gospel passage from Luke provides us with some idea of the urgency of the disciples' mission. Nowhere else in the Gospels do we hear of this group of seventy-two followers of Jesus. Elsewhere, the Scriptures identify the twelve. This increase in the number of those preaching the news of the kingdom might be understood as a foreshadowing of what will take place in the years to come. In some way, all of today's readings speak of a people who know that they are of God. While the cost of discipleship is high, the people of God can only rejoice in what the Lord has done for them.

- Reread the text from Isaiah. Where in your life do you need comfort? Quietly stay with an image of God consoling you.

- St. Paul speaks boldly about his commitment to the good news of Jesus Christ. How do you live your commitment to the Gospel?

- In today's Gospel, the disciples of Jesus are given their instructions for ministry. What directives do you think Jesus would give to you today?
