Turning the other cheek. Giving away my only garment. Going the extra mile. Loving my enemies. These are the challenges that disciples of Jesus face when we commit ourselves to follow him. More challenges are coming. Remember, we are called to live a life of faith that surpasses that of the scribes and Pharisees. Losing your life to gain it. Selling everything before you can respond to the call of Jesus to join his company of disciples. Jesus is just getting started!

As we meditate on this section of Sermon on the Mount, we can ask ourselves what challenge issued by Jesus would be the most difficult to bear. What challenge would produce more shame in our lives but in return would bring Jesus honor? How can we witness to Jesus's way of living in our own time so that we can reveal to others that we are children of our heavenly Father?

We are called to love our enemies and to pray for those who persecute us. To love is to remain attached, to stay in relationship even with those who are likely to shame and harm us. We must be willing to converse with those we distrust and fear. This is going to be difficult to achieve on our own. Our heavenly Father "makes his sun rise on the bad and the good and causes rain to fall on the just and the unjust" (v. 45). His grace is like the light and warmth of the sun, like rain that waters the land and causes the crops to grow. This grace is everywhere and comes to everyone. We can put up umbrellas to block the sun and shield ourselves from the rain, but this does not stop them from enriching our lives. Take this image into contemplation. Grace as abundant as sunshine and rain. God is at work in our lives so that he can be at work in our world. Put down your umbrella and rejoice in God's presence.

Volver la otra mejilla, dar la única túnica, caminar pasos extras, amar a los enemigos… Estos son los retos a los que se enfrenta el discípulo de Jesús cuando se compromete a seguirlo. Más y más retos vendrán. Recuerda que estamos llamados a vivir una vida de fe que sea mayor a la de los escribas y fariseos. Estamos llamados a perder la vida para ganarla. A vender todo antes de poder responder a la invitación de Jesús de ser parte del grupo de los discípulos. ¡Este es solo el comienzo!

Al meditar en esta parte del Sermón del monte, podemos preguntarnos: ¿Cuál es el reto de Jesús que es el más difícil de cumplir? ¿Cuál reto traerá más vergüenza a nuestra vida, pero en cambio traerá honor para Jesús? ¿Cómo podemos ser testigos de la manera de vivir de Jesús en nuestra propia generación para que podamos demostrarle a los demás que somos hijos de nuestro Padre celestial? Estamos llamados a amar a nuestros enemigos y a orar por quienes nos persiguen. Amar es mantener la conexión, mantener la relación aun cuando ellos nos puedan poner en vergüenza o herir. Debemos estar dispuestos a dialogar con quienes sentimos desconfianza o temor. Esto será difícil de cumplir por nuestros propios medios. Nuestro Padre celestial hace salir su sol sobre los buenos y los malos, y manda su lluvia sobre los justos y los injustos (v. 45). Su gracia es como la luz y el calor del sol, como la lluvia que riega los campos y hace crecer los sembrados. Esta gracia está en todas partes y viene a todas las personas. Podemos utilizar sombrillas para bloquear el sol y paraguas para protegernos de la lluvia, pero no podremos nunca impedir que el sol y la lluvia enriquezcan nuestra vida. Adéntrate en contemplación con esta imagen. La gracia es abundante como los rayos del sol o la lluvia. Dios está trabajando en nuestras vidas para que él pueda trabajar en el mundo a través de nosotros. Deja de lado el paraguas y disfruta de la presencia de Dios.
