MEDITATION OF THE DAY FROM MAGNIFICAT - "Loving Like the Samaritan"

To employ a geometric image: When self is the center of existence, we can arrange the people around us in circles; some are intimate, while others are only casual friends; others in the outermost circle are strangers. We tend to see them in terms of their ability to make us feel happy or to be useful, or as obstacles to us. From this standpoint, the commandment Love your neighbor, or Love all men, seems totally unreal. Even those dearest to us reveal themselves progressively as riddled with so many unlovable features that we sometimes cannot stand to be with them—and these are the ones we love most!

But if we fall in love with Christ, then he becomes our center. We love him with our whole heart and, wanting to share all his experiences, we soon realize that all people are viewed by him with love. He sees their unlovable qualities, and knows that they can be converted into lovable ones. Would he have created them if he did not love them? The lover of Christ becomes filled with wonder at this idea: Every person in the world is to God someone unique and worthy of being. So, despite all that people do in their self-conceit which conceals their true beauty, he struggles in faith to find their lovable qualities. In some cases he may have an immediate intuition of what is lovable in another person, and his own love will flow spontaneously. But usually, no matter how much he tries, he cannot by himself see them; so he must return to the source of that person's being, Christ, begging him to make manifest what he sees and to give him that love-sight which will replace the blindness caused by many psychological factors. The ways of the world have taught us that to be is to fear.... But Christianity tells us that to be is to love, since God, who is the apex of being, is love. So it is in him that we will learn to love all that he has made and all that he loves.

The more a person genuinely strives to love God with his whole heart, the more he will be transformed...into a human manifestation of Christ's love for all men. If this is not evident in most Christians, it is not because they love God to the exclusion of neighbor but because their love of God is still feeble. It is in the lives of the saints that we can see how divine love inspires heroic love of neighbor in a concrete and visible form.

MISSION STATEMENT

Saint Rose of Lima Church is a Catholic family of believers guided by the Holy Spirit in the saving work of Jesus Christ. We are pilgrim people of God, companions on the journey to eternal salvation. Called by God, we are priestly people dedicated to proclaiming the Good News and ministering God's love to each other, and to a spiritually hungry world. As a community of Christian believers, we are committed to bringing about the reign of God. We believe in the importance of a personal relationship with Jesus Christ through the Word, the breaking of the bread, prayer, and fellowship. We dedicate our lives to His service.

ISSUES OF JUSTICE & PEACE

How simple and yet how seemingly difficult is the law of God for our lives. Simplified, the law states the command to “love.” Today’s quote from Deuteronomy tells us the law “is something very near to you, already in your mouths and in your hearts; you have only to carry it out.” We know the law, yet the state of our world clearly shows a lack of obeying this command. Pope Francis elaborated on this law in his Encyclical Fratelli Tutti, On the Fraternity and Social Friendship, telling us in the first paragraph that this love “transcends the barriers of geography and distance, and declares blessed all those who love their brother ‘as much when he is far away from him as when he is with him’ [quoting St. Francis of Assisi]. ...

“Let us look to the example of the Good Samaritan. Jesus’ parable summons us to rediscover our vocation as citizens of our respective nations and of the entire world, builders of a new social bond. This summons is ever new, yet it is grounded in a fundamental law of our being: we are called to direct society to the pursuit of the common good and, with this purpose in mind, to persevere in consolidating its political and social order, its fabric of relations, its human goals. By his actions, the Good Samaritan showed that ‘the existence of each and every individual is deeply tied to that of others: life is not simply time that passes; life is a time for interactions.’ The parable clearly does not indulge in abstract moralizing, nor is its message merely social and ethical. It speaks to us of an essential and often forgotten aspect of our common humanity: we were created for a fulfillment that can only be found in love. We cannot be indifferent to suffering; we cannot allow anyone to go through life as an outcast. Instead, we should feel indignant, challenged to emerge from our comfortable isolation and to be changed by our contact with human suffering. That is the meaning of dignity” (Fratelli Tutti, On the Fraternity and Social Friendship, #68)

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION (1st - 5th Grades)

FAMILIES INTERESTED IN RELIGIOUS EDUCATION ARE ENCOURAGED TO TAKE THIS SHORT SURVEY.

PARENT FEEDBACK WILL HELP WITH STUDENT ENROLLMENT.

HOLY COMMUNION

- Children typically begin sacramental preparation for First Holy Communion around the age of seven. This preparation, including Reconciliation, spans a two-year period. Students meet weekly with a trained Catechist during the school year and participate in Family Formation.

CONFIRMATION

- Just like the Holy Spirit empowered the disciples at Pentecost, Confirmation brings a special outpouring of the Holy Spirit to strengthen Catholics on their journey of faith. Students typically begin preparation for Confirmation in sixth grade and spans a two-year period. Students in year one meet weekly with a trained Catechist during the school year. Students in year two meet monthly. All groups participate in Family Formation.

OCIA/OCIC

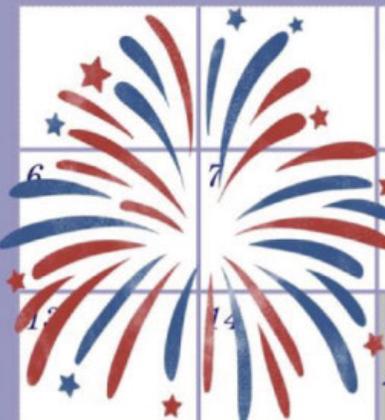

Order of Christian Initiation for Adults/Children

- The Church recognizes that the way to becoming a Christian is not one size fits all. The OCIA offers a basic description of how an unbaptized adult comes to faith and is initiated by the sacraments of Baptism, Confirmation, and Eucharist. It then describes what to do in particular circumstances, including the initiation of children who have reached catechetical age (seven years or older). There is only one rite for everyone who has reached catechetical age; which is then adapted to meet the needs and circumstances for children and families.

✦ YOUTH MINISTRY (6th-12th Grades)

If you have a child who is in high school and seeking Confirmation, and has received Baptism and First Eucharist, please contact Linda at youth@strosereno.com to get on the group list. Registration will open in July, and you must be a registered parishioner at St Rose to register your child. Attendance at a parent meeting for families new to our program will be required. We will again follow the family model with monthly classes on Sundays, mass attendance, and twelve hours of family parish activities. Looking forward to another great year! If your child has completed Year One of our Confirmation program, registration for Year Two is now open.
