Stewardship Reflection: We are called to be good stewards of our personal vocations. St. Paul's prayer for the Thessalonians is therefore ours, too - "that our God may make (us) worthy of his calling and powerfully bring to fulfillment every good purpose and every effort of faith."

Our Mission Statement

As committed Christians of the Roman Catholic Church in Richmond, Indiana, we are a community, centered in Christ, rooted in the Eucharistic communion, journeying together in our call to be holy, constantly discerning the charisms of the Spirit, making one another disciples of Christ and seeking God's kingdom in service, stewardship and charity.

Does God ever give up on someone?

"Sometimes we seek to correct and convert a sinner by reprimanding him... Jesus' attitude with Zacchaeus shows us another way: that of showing one in error his value, that value that God continues to see despite everything, despite all his mistakes. This can cause a positive surprise, which makes the heart tender and drives the person to bring out the goodness he has in himself. God... is not blocked by our sin, but overcomes it with love and makes us feel nostalgia for the good." —Pope Francis

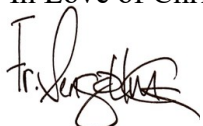

A note from Fr. Sengole

I once asked Fr. Berchmans, a retired priest in my home diocese, “Father, what do you do these days, now you are retired?” He replied, “I am working on my Ph.D.” I literally believed him and asked him about his dissertation. He gave a big laugh and said, “I said, I am working on my Preparation for my Holy Death!” November is the month of commemoration of the dead. On All Souls’ Day, we will be offering three Masses for the dead. It is a good practice to participate in all three Masses and visit cemeteries. In the theological understanding of human life, we take into consideration every aspect of our life. We are born. We grow up. And, we die. Right after the birth, we baptize our infants. Baptism marks the most important moment of Christian life. At Baptism, we die; we die with Christ. We participate in the one death that redeemed, reclaimed and restored the original dignity. We rise with Christ and begin the new life which is oriented towards eternal life. All our life is a response to the mercy that we appropriated for our lives at baptism. All our life is a life of conversion which is marked by stages that is purgative, illuminative and unitive. That is how we see Christian spiritual progress.

We also believe that our real and natural death is a definitive moment. At our death God calls us unto Himself. But, our way to get joined with our loving Creator God is the same way that find in Jesus Christ who suffered and died on the Cross. Jesus’ entry into heaven, in his glorified body is our pattern as well. We do not have a different route! That is why we see all our suffering — sufferings which are on account of and by virtue of our Baptism for the sake of love — is redemptive. Do I suffer on account of my faith and love? John of the Cross says, “In the twilight of life, God will not judge us on our earthly possessions and human successes, but on how well we have loved.” Again, love is not something makes us feel nice and comfortable. True love makes us be the children of God. Love and truth always go together. We love in the true sense of the word. Jesus loved everyone. His love was the pure form of love. He had compassion and mercy for so many people. And yet, he had only a few people to love him and accept his message. Jesus’ death was the most decisive death for the entire humanity. His death not only transformed our lives but also our own natural death. Our death has become meaningful. Our death is no longer an event of gloom and doom. We do have hope, a hope that takes us beyond the point of our natural death. For this reason, one of the central mysteries of Christian life is death. We celebrate the birth of every one of us. We moan the death of our beloved ones. But, much beyond that, we pray for those gone before us for such is our hope.

Everyone needs God’s healing mercy, both those living and those dead. May this month be a time for renewal and hope.

Confirmation Highlights

"We are called to mission... We are called to be about the work of Jesus Christ... I want to be real clear—nobody can sit on the sidelines and be safe. If you are not about the mission of transforming the world then the world is transforming you. Dare to believe. Dare to make a difference... and the world will be better for it."
-Archbishop Thompson,
Homily during the Confirmation Mass, St Andrew Church, October 26th, 2019 for the Connersville Deanery.

News from Seton Catholic Schools

www.setonschools.org

October was the month of the Rosary. The students and staff of Seton Catholic pray the rosary on a monthly basis, but in the month of October we were more intent on praying the rosary in honor of Mary. Some students made their own rosary, some made lap books to learn more about the rosary, and others walked and prayed the Rosary Steps at the Monastery of the Immaculate Conception in Ferdinand, Indiana. Several Seton staff and parents pray the rosary every Monday and Friday at 3:30 pm at St. Andrew for the souls of our Seton Catholic students. Please join us anytime.

We teach and do this beautiful prayer of the Rosary as a way to draw the students and staff of Seton Catholic closer to Jesus and Mary by meditating on the great mysteries of our salvation.

5 Reasons for Teaching Children the Rosary

1. They learn their prayers.
2. It is an opportunity to build community.
3. It teaches them to quiet themselves.
4. It helps them become comfortable with intercessions to Mary.
5. It teaches them about the Scriptures.

ANUNCIOS PARA LA COMUNIDAD LATINA

Mensaje por el Padre Sengole Gnanaraj

Ahora que ya tenemos una nueva misión de nuestra parroquia, sabes qué es el Kerygma? Predica el Evangelio, si fuera necesario usa palabras. Esta frase usualmente se le atribuyó a San Francisco de Asís, pero no estoy seguro! Porque al contrario, debemos usar palabras. Por supuesto, nuestra vida habla más de lo que hablamos o predicamos. El Papa Pablo VI diría: “El primer medio de evangelización es el testimonio mismo de una vida auténticamente cristiana”. (EN 41,1975).

¿Cuál es el contenido de nuestra predicación? O ¿Cuál es el contenido de las buenas noticias a las que estamos llamados a dar testimonio y defender? En una oración muy sencilla, podemos decir que el contenido de las buenas nuevas es: “Jesús es el Señor”, esta es una forma bonita y condensada del Evangelio, de hecho, el kerygma de la iglesia primitiva. Los dos grandes obstáculos o retos, ahora y en ese entonces han sido la incredulidad y el orgullo. Hay algunos que abiertamente rechazaron a Jesús y a su Evangelio. Obviamente, hay personas que lo hacen deliberadamente. Cualquiera que sea la situación, nuestro llamado a pregonar el Evangelio sigue siendo urgente. ¿Quién puede decir que Jesús es nuestro Señor? San Pablo nos da una respuesta directa: Nadie puede decir que Jesús es nuestro Señor, excepto el Espíritu Santo (1 Cor 12:3). Debemos leer completamente lo que Jesús dijo en Actos 1:8: “Pero recibirás el poder del Espíritu Santo, cuando éste haya venido sobre tí, y ustedes serán mis testigos en Jerusalén y toda Judea y Samaria y hasta el fin de la tierra”. Entonces predicar el Evangelio tanto por palabra como por ejemplo de vida, es una obra del Espíritu.

No lo tomes a la ligera, cualquiera puede ser llamado por Jesús nuestro Señor. Sólo debemos de fijarnos en los actos de los Apóstoles a aprender lo que ellos nos enseñan. Ahí es donde encontramos la proclamación kerygmática inicial del Evangelio en el Espíritu.

En pocas palabras, podemos identificar tres pasajes del Nuevo Testamento que nos ayudarán apropiadamente, en Espíritu, a hacer nuestra misión actual. Pueden haber otros pasajes, pero para mí, éstos son el kerygma.

Juan 3:16: “Porque de tal manera amó Dios al mundo, que ha dado a su hijo unigénito, para que todo aquel que crea en él, no se pierda, y tenga vida eterna. Después sigue el versículo 17 que también es muy importante.

Hechos 2:38: “Arrepiéntanse y bautícense cada uno de ustedes en nombre de Jesucristo para perdón de los pecados: y recibirás en Don del Espíritu Santo.

1 Corintios 15:3-8: “Porque primeramente les he enseñado lo que asimismo recibí: Que Cristo murió por nuestros pecados, conforme a las Escrituras; y que apareció a Cefas, y después a los doce. Después apareció a más de quinientos hermanos a la vez, de los cuales muchos viven aún, y otros ya duermen. Después apareció a Jacobo; después a todos los Apóstoles, y al último de todos, como un humano anormal nacido, se me apareció a mí.

En cada misa, nosotros decimos el kerygma (proclamación apostólica de la salvación a través de Jesucristo) en respuesta a “El Misterio de la Fé”. Bl. Pablo VI nos vuelve a recordar: “Evangelizar es un hecho de gracia y vocación propia de la Iglesia, es su más profunda identidad. Ella existe para realizar la evangelización, es decir, para predicar y enseñar, para ser el conducto del Don de la Gracia, para reconciliar a los pecadores con Dios y para perpetuar el Sacrificio de Cristo durante la misa, la cual realizamos en conmemoración de su muerte y gloriosa resurrección” (EN 14,1975).

Dejemos que el Espíritu Santo, en cada uno de nosotros, nos provea de la misión para traer a todos la gracia y misericordia de Cristo Jesús.

Amando a Dios y a su Santa Iglesia,

Felicidades a los recién confirmados!

Does Jesus Want To Forgive Your Sins?

What does Jesus think of me?

In today's Gospel reading, we hear about a tax collector, Zacchaeus, who was curious about Jesus. Jesus saw that this was a chance for him to turn from his evil ways, so He called him down from his perch in the tree and said He was going to visit him at his house.

Some people were shocked that Jesus went to a sinner's house, but Jesus told them that He had come to save the people who were lost in sin. Zacchaeus was sorry for his sins and promised to pay everyone back for what he had stolen.

Have you ever felt really bad because of something you did? What do you think Jesus would say to you if you were sorry for it? Do you think that there is any sin that Jesus can't forgive? Well there isn't! Jesus came to save us from our sins!

Answer to front: Zacchaeus, hurry and come down.
I must stay at your house today.
Answer to Word-Find: I will praise You O God.

DEDICATION OF ST JOHN LATERAN Feast Day, November 9th

"Most Catholics think of St. Peter's as the pope's main church, but they are wrong. St. John Lateran is the pope's church, the cathedral of the Diocese of Rome where the Bishop of Rome presides.

The first basilica on the site was built in the fourth century when Constantine donated land he had received from the wealthy Lateran family. That structure and its successors suffered fire, earthquake, and the ravages of war, but the Lateran remained the church where popes were consecrated. In the 14th century when the papacy returned to Rome from Avignon, the church and the adjoining palace were found to be in ruins. Pope Innocent X commissioned the present structure in 1646. One of Rome's most imposing churches, the Lateran's towering facade is crowned with 15 colossal statues of Christ, John the Baptist, John the Evangelist, and 12 doctors of the Church. Beneath its high altar rest the remains of the small wooden table on which tradition holds Saint Peter himself celebrated Mass."

"Unlike the commemorations of other Roman churches, this anniversary is a feast. The dedication of a church is a feast for all its parishioners. In a sense, St. John Lateran is the parish church of all Catholics, because it is the pope's cathedral. This church is the spiritual home of the people who are the Church."

A Return to the Garden of Eden (Commentary on the mosaic in St John Lateran)

"In this work, the cross is Christ [and] ... is flanked by Mary and John the Baptist. Four of the other saints who flank it carry scrolls attesting to Christ's divinity. From it flow the streams of water from which the stags are drinking, an allusion to Ps. 42:1, "As the deer panteth after the fountains of water; so my soul panteth after thee, O God. Most importantly, the flowing streams and the vibrant river life at the bottom of the image (see detail) refer to Ezekiel 47, which is read in Roman Catholic churches each year on the Feast of the Dedication of the Lateran Basilica (November 8). In this chapter Ezekiel is given a vision of streams flowing out from the Temple to all the land, making it fertile and healing even the salt sea...

The central meaning, then, is that the cross of Christ fulfills the promise of salvation made to Ezekiel, restoring mankind and indeed all of nature to God's grace. We are again in Eden, as is also suggested by the fact that there are four streams, like the four rivers flowing from Eden in Genesis 2:10-14. This restoration is also suggested by the Tree of Life between the streams, with a phoenix perched in it, and by the New Jerusalem directly below. It is a theme especially suited to St. John Lateran, which was originally called the Basilica of the Savior."
