REFLECCION

El profeta Daniel en una visión vio a "Uno como el Hijo del Hombre" recibir la realeza eterna. Juan es llevado al cielo en la segunda lectura de hoy, donde ve la profecía de Daniel cumplida en Jesús, quien aparece como "Uno como un Hijo del Hombre".

Jesús está vestido con la túnica de un Sumo Sacerdote y lleva la faja de oro de un rey. Él ha sido exaltado por la mano derecha del Señor, como cantamos en el Salmo de hoy.

Su cuerpo resucitado, que los apóstoles tocan en el Evangelio de hoy, se ha convertido en un Espíritu que da vida. Cuando el Padre lo ungió con el Espíritu y el poder, Jesús derrama ese Espíritu sobre los apóstoles, enviándolos al mundo "como el Padre me ha enviado".

Jesús "respira" el Espíritu de su vida divina en los apóstoles, mientras Dios soplabla el "soplo de vida" en Adán, mientras la oración de Elías devolvía "el aliento vital" al niño muerto, y cuando el Espíritu daba nueva vida a los muertos. en el valle de los huesos. Su aliento creativo une a los apóstoles, su iglesia, a su cuerpo, y los capacita para respirar su vida en un mundo moribundo, para convertirlo en una nueva creación.

En el Evangelio de hoy y en la Primera lectura, vemos a los apóstoles cumpliendo esta misión con poderes que solo Dios posee: el poder de perdonar los pecados y de trabajar "señala maravillas", una expresión bíblica que solo se usa para describir las obras poderosas de Dios.

Tomás y los demás vieron "muchas otras señales" después de que Jesús resucitó de entre los muertos. Ellos vieron y creyeron. Se les ha dado su vida, que continúa en la Palabra de la Iglesia y

Los sacramentos, para que nosotros, los que no hemos visto, heredemos sus bendiciones y "tengamos vida en su nombre".

Reflection

The prophet Daniel in a vision saw "One like the Son of Man" receive everlasting kingship . John is taken to heaven in today's Second Reading where he sees Daniel's prophecy fulfilled in Jesus, who appears as "One like a Son of Man."

Jesus is clad in the robe of a High Priest and wearing the gold sash of a king. He has been exalted by the right hand of the Lord, as we sing in today's Psalm.

His risen body, which the Apostles touch in today's Gospel, has been made a life giving Spirit.

As the Father anointed Him with the Spirit and power, Jesus pours out that Spirit on the Apostles, sending them into the world "as the Father has sent me."

Jesus "breathes" the Spirit of His divine life into the Apostles—as God blew the "breath of life" into Adam, as Elijah's prayer returned "the life breath" to the dead child, and as the Spirit breathed new life into the slain in the valley of bones.

His creative breath unites the Apostles—His Church—to His body, and empowers them to breathe His life into a dying world, to make it a new creation.

In today's Gospel and First Reading, we see the Apostles fulfilling this mission with powers only God possesses—the power to forgive sins and to work "signs and wonders," a biblical expression only used to describe the mighty works of God.

Thomas and the others saw "many other signs" after Jesus was raised from the dead. They saw and they believed. They have been given His life, which continues in the Church's Word and sacraments, so that we who have not seen might inherit His blessings and "have life in His name."
