Readings for the Nineteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

1st Reading – Wisdom 18:6-9

The night of the passover was known beforehand to our fathers, that, with sure knowledge of the oaths in which they put their faith, they might have courage. Your people awaited the salvation of the just and the destruction of their foes. For when you punished our adversaries, in this you glorified us whom you had summoned. For in secret the holy children of the good were offering sacrifice and putting into effect with one accord the divine institution.

Responsorial Psalm –

R. Blessed the people the Lord has chosen to be his own.

2nd Reading – Hebrews 11:1-2, 8-19

Brothers and sisters: Faith is the realization of what is hoped for and evidence of things not seen. Because of it the ancients were well attested. By faith Abraham obeyed when he was called to go out to a place that he was to receive as an inheritance; he went out, not knowing where he was to go. By faith he sojourned in the promised land as in a foreign country, dwelling in tents with Isaac and Jacob, heirs of the same promise; for he was looking forward to the city with foundations, whose architect and maker is God. By faith he received power to generate, even though he was past the normal age -and Sarah herself was sterile- for he thought that the one who had made the promise was trustworthy. So it was that there came forth from one man, himself as good as dead, descendants as numerous as the stars in the sky and as countless as the sands on the seashore. [All these died in faith. They did not receive what had been promised but saw it and greeted it from afar and acknowledged themselves to be strangers and aliens on earth, for those who speak thus show that they are seeking a homeland. If they had been thinking of the land from which they had come, they would have had opportunity to return. But now they desire a better homeland, a heavenly one. Therefore, God is not ashamed to be called their God, for he has prepared a city for them. By faith Abraham, when put to the test, offered up Isaac, and he who had received the promises was ready to offer his only son, of whom it was said, "Through Isaac descendants shall bear your name." He reasoned that God was able to raise even from the dead, and he received Isaac back as a symbol.]

Gospel – Luke 12:32-48

Jesus said to his disciples: ["Do not be afraid any longer, little flock, for your Father is pleased to give you the kingdom. Sell your belongings and give alms. Provide money bags for yourselves that do not wear out, an inexhaustible treasure in heaven that no thief can reach nor moth destroy. For where your treasure is, there also will your heart be."] "Gird your loins and light your lamps and be like servants who await their master's return from a wedding, ready to open immediately when he comes and knocks. Blessed are those servants whom the master finds vigilant on his arrival. Amen, I say to you, he will gird himself, have them recline at table, and proceed to wait on them. And should he come in the second or third watch and find them prepared in this way, blessed are those servants. Be sure of this: if the master of the house had known the hour when the thief was coming, he would not have let his house be broken into. You also must be prepared, for at an hour you do not expect, the Son of Man will come." [Then Peter said, "Lord, is this parable meant for us or for everyone?" And the Lord replied, "Who, then, is the faithful and prudent steward whom the master will put in charge of his servants to distribute the food allowance at the proper time? Blessed is that servant whom his master on arrival finds doing so. Truly, I say to you, the master will put the servant in charge of all his property. But if that servant says to himself, 'My master is delayed in coming,' and begins to beat the menservants and the maidservants, to eat and drink and get drunk, then that servant's master will come on an unexpected day and at an unknown hour and will punish the servant severely and assign him a place with the unfaithful. That servant who knew his master's will but did not make preparations nor act in accord with his will shall be beaten severely; and the servant who was ignorant of his master's will but acted in a way deserving of a severe beating shall be beaten only lightly. Much will be required of the person entrusted with much, and still more will be demanded of the person entrusted with more."]

My Dear Parish Family,

Every year, each of the parishes of the Archdiocese of New York are asked to schedule a special second collection in support of the incredible work of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith. The Archdiocese of New York is wonderful because of the diversity it encompasses. Within the ten counties comprising the Archdiocese, there are Parishes in business areas and in residential neighborhoods. There are also Parishes of all sizes in the sprawling suburbs and county villages. Some Parishes serve thousands of people; others minister to smaller congregations. The ethnic and language diversity are also to be noted. In the Archdiocese, the Eucharist is celebrated in over thirty languages. Many Parishes serve long established groups along with recently arrived immigrants. Yet, all are an integral part of and have an indispensable role in the Mission life of the Church.

Each year every Parish in the Archdiocese of New York participates in the Mission Cooperative Plan. The purpose of the MCP is two-fold.

- First, many Mission Dioceses, Religious Congregations, and lay organizations, serving in the missions, receive a chance to personally appeal for prayer and financial support from our Parishes.
- Secondly, as Catholics we have the opportunity to increase Missionary Awareness, to help learn about mission life today. The visiting Missionary offers the opportunity for the people to reflect on their vital role in the universal mission of the Church to spread the Gospel and the need to strengthen their concern for their brothers and sisters around the world.

The Office of the Propagation of the Faith believes it is important for each of us to understand the purpose of missionaries coming to visit our Parishes. We ask you to welcome them on our behalf and grow from their faith. The offerings collected are forwarded to the Dioceses, Religious Organizations, or lay organizations and used in their mission work.

Here at St. Anthony's, our special Propagation second collection is scheduled for August 13th and 14th. Thank you as always for your generosity.

Pax,

Fr. Dan
