Walking with Jesus from the Upper Room... to the Cross... to the Easter Garden

In the early years of my priesthood, a program began to spread throughout the Church called Marriage Encounter. Couples who had "made a weekend" would try to encourage friends, relatives and even their priests to do the same. When someone would respond "I don't need a weekend" they were told: "you don't need it – you deserve it." The point was that this program was not meant to make a bad marriage a good one, but to make a good marriage better.

The same approach could be said to every believer at the start of Holy Week: we don't need the services of Holy Week, we deserve them – and the strong foundation of faith that they offer us, especially as we look forward to the end of COVID19 and a whole new life... Marriage Encounter offered couples suggestions to make their marriage stronger... Holy Week offers believers suggestions on how to make their faith come alive. Won't you join us and find out more?
