GOSPEL MEDITATION -

ENCOURAGE DEEPER UNDERSTANDING OF SCRIPTURE

When I was a young seminarian, I asked a wise old priest how to pray better. He said simply, "Don't lie when you pray." He helped me to see how much energy I waste in trying to appear acceptable to God when I pray. For me, prayer was showing off for God and hiding what was ugly.

It's stunning that the Gospel of Matthew tells us of Jesus, "He left Nazareth and went to live in Capernaum by the sea, in the region of Zebulon and Naphtali..." This isn't just the Lord's relocation up north. It's his moving into places of shame and defeat. This region was where the enemy invasion of Israel began centuries before. Jesus left the comfortable confines of Nazareth and sought out a place of darkness, not to bring shame, but to announce the dawning of his light.

When we pray, we usually prefer Jesus to stay put in our little Nazareths — where we feel comfortable, successful, and in control. But he moves. He re-locates into the Zebulons and Naphtalis of our shame, embarrassment, fear, and sense of being defeated. The question for us is: will we allow him to take up residence in those places in our prayer time? Will we talk to him honestly about our places of darkness? If we do, we're no longer lying when we pray.

MEDITACIÓN DEL EVANGELIO –

ALENTAR UN ENTENDIMIENTO MÁS PROFUNDO DE LA ESCRITURA

Hay un paso muy importante para obtener la paz y es la actitud de conversión de la persona en su totalidad. Desde el fondo del corazón, girar el pensamiento hacia lo positivo y caminar a la conquista del reino de los cielos. La invitación es lanzada por el mismo Jesús. ¿Quién desea responder a su llamado? En su tiempo respondieron unos hombres sencillos y humildes que, dejando sus redes de inmediato, lo siguieron y deciden caminar con Jesús. Ellos son los primeros modelos a seguir y enseñan lo que significa convertirse. Ahora, la conversión debe llevar a ver dónde se está y hacia donde se quiere llegar. Existen riesgos y se deben asumir con la seguridad de que Dios camina a nuestro paso en el proceso.

El centro del mensaje del Evangelio de hoy es no cerrar el corazón al llamado de Dios. Nunca es tarde para revisar y reorientar la vida hacia el Señor. ¿Cómo me llama Jesús hoy? ¿Qué desea que haga? ¿Quizá me llama al sacerdocio, o vida religiosa? ¿Tal vez a formar una familia? Cualquiera que sea, debo estar atento para responder con firmeza. El salmo de hoy nos anima a dar esta respuesta: "El Señor es mi luz, mi salvación, ¿de quién tendré miedo? El Señor es mi refugio, ¿a quién temeré? (Salmo 26). Señor, se mi baluarte para mi conversión, que sea responsable de las tareas encomendadas en la vida cotidiana para, así, responder a tu llamado diariamente y seguirte, cumpliendo mi deber como padre/madre de familia, como estudiante y trabajador. ¡Que así sea!

Pope Benedict's spiritual testament: "Stand firm in the faith"

VATICAN CITY (CNS) — Retired Pope Benedict XVI's final message to Catholics around the world was: "Stand firm in the faith! Do not let yourselves be confused!"

Less than 10 hours after informing the world that the 95-year-old pope had died Dec. 31, the Vatican press office released his spiritual testament, a statement of faith and of thanksgiving.

Unlike St. John Paul II's spiritual testament, Pope Benedict's included no instructions for his funeral or burial and made no mention of what should happen to his belongings.

"To all those whom I have wronged in any way, I ask forgiveness from my heart," Pope Benedict wrote.

Written in German and dated Aug. 29, 2006 — in the second year of his almost eight-year pontificate — Pope Benedict wrote with great affection of his parents, his sister and his brother, the beauty of Bavaria and his faith in God.

"If at this late hour of my life I look back over the decades I have been living, I first see how many reasons I have to give thanks," he wrote in the document when he was 79 years old.

"First of all, I thank God himself, the giver of every good gift, who gave me life and guided me through various moments of confusion; always picking me up whenever I began to slip and always giving me the light of his countenance again," he said. "In retrospect I see and understand that even the dark and tiring stretches of this path were for my salvation and that it was in them that he guided me well."

Born in 1927, Joseph Ratzinger was raised in a Germany struggling to recover from the first World War; Adolf Hitler came to power when the future pope was only 7.

In his testament, he offered thanks to his parents, "who gave me life in a difficult time and who, at the cost of great sacrifices, with their love prepared a magnificent home that like a clear light still enlightens my days."

"My father's lucid faith taught us children to believe, and as a signpost it has always stood firm in the midst of all my academic achievements," he said. "My mother's profound devotion and great goodness are a legacy for which I cannot thank her enough."

Pope Benedict thanked God for the many friends, both men and women, he had had by his side, and for his teachers and students — many of whom he continued to meet with late in his life.

A pope known for his concern for the environment, he thanked God for the beauty of his Bavarian homeland, "in which I always saw the splendor of the Creator himself shining through."

"I pray that our land remains a land of faith," he wrote before pleading with his fellow Germans to let nothing draw them from the faith.

"And, finally," he wrote, "I thank God for all the beauty I experienced at every stage of my journey, especially in Rome and in Italy, which became my second homeland."

Addressing the whole church, Pope Benedict urged Catholics to hold fast to their faith and to not let science or research shake the foundations of their belief.

"It often seems as if science — the natural sciences on the one hand and historical research, like the exegesis of Sacred Scripture, on the other — are able to offer irrefutable results at odds with the Catholic faith," he said.

But he assured those reading the document that throughout his life he had seen science offer "apparent certainties against the faith" only to see them vanish, "proving not to be science, but philosophical interpretations only apparently pertaining to science."

At the same time, he said, "it is in dialogue with the natural sciences that faith too has learned to better understand the limit of the scope of its claims, and thus its specificity."

In 60 years of theological study and observation, he said, he had seen "unshakable" theses collapse, including those offered by the "Marxist generation" of theologians.

"The reasonableness of faith has emerged and is emerging again," he wrote. "Jesus Christ is truly the way, the truth and the life — and the church, with all its inadequacies, is truly his body."

In the end, Pope Benedict wrote, "I humbly ask: pray for me, so that the Lord, despite all my sins and inadequacies, may receive me into his eternal dwelling."

Saint Angela Merici's Story

Angela Merici has the double distinction of founding the first of what are now called "secular institutes" and the first teaching order of women in the Church.

Born in Desenzano, Italy, she was orphaned in her teens. As a young woman, with her heart centered on Christ, Angela joined the Third Order of St. Francis and embraced austerity. In a visionary experience, she felt called to found a "company" of women.

Angela was invited to become a live-in companion for a widow in the nearby town of Brescia. There she became the spiritual advisor of a group of men and women with ideals of spiritual renewal and service to those in need. While on a pilgrimage to the Holy Land in 1524, Angela was struck with blindness. She proceeded to visit the sacred shrines, seeing them with her spirit. On the way back while praying before a crucifix, Angela's sight was restored.

At age 60, Angela and 12 other women began the Company of St. Ursula, named for a patroness of medieval universities and venerated as a leader of women. This constituted a new way of life: single women consecrated to Christ and living in the world rather than in a monastery. With Angela as their "mother and mistress," Company members did not live in community, wore no special clothing, and made no formal vows.

Angela Merici died in Brescia, Italy, in 1540. Clothed in the habit of a Franciscan tertiary, her body was interred in Brescia's Church of Saint' Afra. Four years later the Company's Rule that Angela had composed, prescribing the practices of chastity, poverty and obedience, was approved by the pope.

In the early 1600s, Companies that had expanded into France were re-organized into the religious Order of St. Ursula, to teach girls. Angela's words continue to inspire the Ursuline nuns' mission of education, a mission that spread worldwide. The Company of St. Ursula also continued to exist and is federated worldwide today with members in 30 countries. Angela Merici was canonized by Pope Pius VII in 1807.

Reflection

As with so many saints, history is mostly concerned with their activities. But deep Christian faith and love sustain one whose courage lasts a lifetime, and who can take bold new steps when human need demands.

Vincentian Reflections

“In today’s Gospel, we find that Jesus “... went around all of Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, proclaiming the gospel of the kingdom, and curing every disease and illness among the people.”

This month, through your gifts, the Society of St. Vincent de Paul was able to proclaim the good news of the kingdom to the poor, by providing food, keeping the lights on and people in their homes. Thank YOU!”

What is Stewardship?

“As each one has received a gift, use it to serve one another as good stewards of God’s varied grace” (1 Pt 4:10)

What identifies a steward? Safeguarding material and human resources and using them responsibly is one answer; so is generous giving of time, talent, and treasure. But being a Christian steward means more. As Christian stewards, we receive God’s gifts gratefully, cultivate them responsibly, share them lovingly in justice with others, and return them with increase to the Lord.

The life of a Christian steward models the life of Jesus. It is challenging and even difficult, in many respects, yet intense joy comes to those who take the risk to live as Christian stewards. Women and men who seek to live as stewards learn that “all things work for good for those who love God” (Rom 8:28).

Bishop John Noonan invites you to the celebration of

RED MASS

JANUARY 26, 2023
12:10 PM | ST. JAMES CATHEDRAL

St. Thomas More is the patron saint of attorneys, lawyers, public servants, court clerks, politicians, and civil servants.

All Souls Catholic Cemetery is the eldest of the Diocese's two historic Cemeteries.

It has been in continuous operation since 1890, shortly after our parish was founded.

For a Catholic, burial in a Catholic cemetery is a final act of faith, to one's belief in the resurrection of the body and everlasting life.

The Catholic cemetery is a sacred place set aside by the Church for the burial of the faithful. The bodies of those buried there rest under the watchful eye of the local Bishop until the last day.

The Catholic cemetery is an extension of the parish community where those who have worshipped together in life now rest together in peace, awaiting Christ's return in glory.

We welcome you to visit our cemetery and spend some quiet time in prayer for all the souls buried there.

Call the Parish office at 407-322-3795 for more Information.
