Words from Fr. Bryan

As we enter summer many take some vacation time and travel to see family. I do the same, heading off on a few adventures with friends and family reunions.

There are also many opportunities for our youth and adults to continue to grow in their faith, please see parish media for more information.

Our parish family is attending the Steubenville youth conference in Spokane as well as the Agape service mission in Whatcom County. CYO summer camps as well as Quo Vadis vocation camps are available as well. Both of our parishes offer Vacation Bible School in July for our younger parishioners.

For Adults, the Faith on Fire Conference in Anacortes the end of July is a great opportunity for your entire family, I am giving one of the talks there this summer. There are also opportunities to go on your own pilgrimage to jubilee year sites throughout the Archdiocese during this Year of Hope. Perhaps also visit St. Martin University or Mount Angel in Oregon or the Marian grotto in Portland?

We continue to serve those in need throughout the summer as well through our Food Bank, St. Vincent DePaul and other outreach programs. Thank you all for your faith and may this summer be an opportunity to grow in faith, hope and love.

Your Servant in the Risen Christ,

Fr. Bryan Dolejsi, pastor

Washington Bishops Ask Federal Court to Block Law That Breaks Seal of Confession

SEATTLE — The Roman Catholic bishops of Washington state asked a federal court late Thursday to block a new state law that forces priests to break the sacred seal of confession or face jail time before the law takes effect on July 27. This legal action follows a lawsuit the bishops filed May 29 against the state of Washington. They say the new law — which requires clergy to report abuse if shared within the sacred confines of the confessional — violates religious freedom protections in the U.S. Constitution. The lawsuit also notes that the clergy-penitent privilege is singled out in the law, but protections remain for lawyers and their clients. The Catholic Church already requires priests to report abuse and neglect to law enforcement and other state authorities — with the only exception for information learned during the sacrament of confession....
