Have No Fear

One day a farmer saw that a great storm was approaching. So he gathered up all his livestock and secured them. He boarded up his windows and tied down everything that was loose. Then he saw a small flock of pigeons that always seemed to be around his farm. He figured that they too were in danger from the storm and so he decided to try and get them into the barn. But every time he came near them to try to lead to them safety, he only scared them and they scattered and flew away. He thought, "If only I could become one of them, knowing what I know, I could save them."

In Jesus, God became one of us to save us without scaring us away. Only Jesus takes it a step further – he dies for our sins to save us. The command not to be afraid is repeated often in the Gospel. Jesus does not want us to be afraid in life – He commands us not to be.

There is a distinction between being afraid and feeling afraid. Courage does not mean that you feel no fear at all. Instead, it means trusting despite your fears, acting anyway. A hero is not someone who feels no fear, but who acts heroically despite having the feeling of fear.

A sense of fear can be a good thing; it can protect us from harm or injury. Young children can learn sports like swimming, skiing because they don't yet know what can hurt them. Fear keeps us from acting foolishly – like walking into oncoming traffic. On the other hand, fear can be a life orientation. Fear can control you, or prevent you from living as God intended. Fear can sometimes keep you from growing, or keep you from loving.

Some fears are natural – there's much to be feel afraid about now: sickness, injury, loss of possessions, loved ones, even life itself, what's going to happen in our country and in our Church.

But what is the "root" fear? Do this thought experiment: you could have anything you wanted, you could live forever, you would never be sick or injured, you could do anything, nothing would be forbidden. But there is one catch: you could never see God or be in His presence.

That is the ultimate fear: separation from God. Being afraid, orienting your life around fear is living as though you expect to lose God. Jesus tells us not to be afraid because losing God cannot happen. God and humanity are united in Jesus Christ. It is a bond that cannot be broken.

To be afraid is not to trust in Christ, to reject the hope that such a bond could be, to seek security in other things that we know we're going to lose anyway: possessions, career, loved ones. Jesus commands us not to do that. Instead He says "fear him who could destroy body and soul." That means if you had anything to fear it would be God, not anything in the world. We have nothing at all to fear from God. Only if we turned our backs on Him would we have cause to fear.

Why matter so much to Him – we are of more value than many sparrows! Even the hairs on our heads all numbered: God is closer to us than we know and has even the tiniest details about us in mind and under his control. He values us far, far more than we know or realize. So don't be afraid out in the world. It is as if God is saying to us: "I've got your back!" Amen.

Blessings
In Jesus,
Fr. David

Tercer Domingo de Pascua

26 de abril 2020

No Tengan Miedo

Un día un granjero vio que se acercaba una gran tormenta. Entonces recogió todo su ganado y los aseguró. Subió sus ventanas y ató todo lo que estaba suelto. Luego vio una pequeña bandada de palomas que siempre parecía estar alrededor de su granja. Pensó que ellas también estaban en peligro por la tormenta y decidió intentar meterlas en el granero. Pero cada vez que se acercaba a ellas para tratar de llevarlas a un lugar seguro, solo las asustaba, éstas se dispersaron y se fueron volando. Pensó: "Si pudiera convertirme en una de ellas, sabiendo lo que sé, podría salvarlas".

En Jesús, Dios se convirtió en uno de nosotros para salvarnos sin asustarnos. Solo Jesús va un paso más allá: muere por nuestros pecados para salvarnos. La orden de no tener miedo se repite a menudo en el Santo Evangelio. Jesús no quiere que tengamos miedo en la vida: nos ordena que no lo tengamos.

Hay una distinción entre tener miedo y sentir miedo. El coraje no significa que no sientas miedo en absoluto. En cambio, significa confiar a pesar de tus miedos, actuar de todos modos. Un héroe no es alguien que no siente miedo, sino que actúa heroicamente a pesar de tener miedo.

Una sensación de miedo puede ser algo bueno; puede protegernos de daños o lesiones. Los niños pequeños pueden aprender deportes como nadar, esquiar porque todavía no saben qué les puede hacer daño. El miedo nos impide actuar tontamente, como entrar en el tráfico que se aproxima. Por otro lado, el miedo puede ser una orientación a la vida. El miedo puede controlarte o evitar que vivas como Dios pretendía. El miedo a veces puede impedir que crezcas o evitar que ames.

Algunos miedos son naturales: ahora hay mucho por lo que tener miedo: enfermedades, lesiones, pérdida de posesiones, seres queridos, incluso la vida misma, lo que sucederá en nuestro país y en nuestra Iglesia.

Pero, ¿cuál es la "raíz" del miedo? Haga este experimento mental: podría tener lo que quisiera, podría vivir para siempre, nunca estaría enfermo o herido, podría hacer cualquier cosa, nada estaría prohibido. Pero hay una trampa: nunca podrías ver a Dios o estar en su presencia.

Ese es el máximo temor: la separación de Dios. Tener miedo, orientar tu vida, alrededor del miedo es vivir como si esperaras perder a Dios. Jesús nos dice que no tengamos miedo porque no podríamos perder a Dios, no puede suceder. Dios y la humanidad están unidos en Jesucristo. Es un vínculo que no se puede romper.

Tener miedo es no confiar en Cristo, rechazar la esperanza de que tal vínculo pueda ser, buscar seguridad en otras cosas que sabemos que perderemos de todos modos: posesiones, carrera, seres queridos. Jesús nos ordena que no hagamos eso. En cambio, dice: "Temed a aquel que podría destruir el cuerpo y el alma". Eso significa que si tuvieras algo que temer, sería Dios, no nada en el mundo. No tenemos nada que temer de Dios. Solo si le volviéramos la espalda a Él tendríamos motivos para temer.

¿Por qué es tan importante para Él? ¡Somos más valiosos que muchos gorriones! Incluso los cabellos de nuestra cabeza están contados: Dios está más cerca de nosotros de lo que pensamos y tiene incluso los más pequeños detalles sobre nosotros en mente y bajo su control. Nos valora mucho, mucho más de lo que sabemos o nos damos cuenta. Así que no tengas miedo en el mundo. Es como si Dios nos estuviera diciendo: "¡Yo te respaldo!" Amén.

¡Bendiciones!
En Jesús
Padre David

Update from the Society of St Vincent de Paul Notre Dame Conference

Thank you for all the food and cash donations during this time of closure; we appreciate all the extra effort required to get this food to us. We received 2200 lbs. during Forty Cans for Lent.

A percentage of checks which are donated to us restrict the use to the food pantry. Our neighbors in need also request assistance in paying their water and electrical utilities to help cook that food! Cash donations are always useful.

Our pantry could use canned vegetables. Best drop off time is Monday, Wednesday or Friday morning 9:00am-11:00am.; use B Street warehouse entrance in back of store.

Financial aid requests are being processed by email. To apply, we need the name the bill is under, address, telephone number, birthdate, number in household, account number, current monthly income, and amount due.

The store is closed until retail stores are permitted to open AND Archbishop Gustavo permits gatherings.
WE CAN NOT TAKE DONATION GOODS FOR THE STORE AT THIS TIME NOR ARE WE DOING PICK UPS. WE HOPE THAT YOU CAN HOLD DONATIONS UNTIL WE HAVE A RE-OPEN DATE.

Please acknowledge the following Easter Memorial:

H E B CARDS are back in stock!!!

These are Gift Cards just like you get at any other store, however, Notre Dame Catholic School receives a percentage of each card sold. The percentage depends on the Business. For example, if you purchased a $200.00 HEB card, the school will receive 5%, $10.00. By the time you buy gas and purchase groceries a couple of times you have spent $200.00 easily. The value of the gift card stays the same. The school's percentage does not decrease the value of your gift card.

Why not buy your gift cards from the school? Stop by the school office and get yours today.
