Saint of the Week from Your Librarian

Saint Therese of Lisieux was a young French girl born in 1873 to highly religious parents and died a Carmelite at the age of twenty-four in 1897 following a slow and painful fight against tuberculosis. She spent her final nine years in a Carmelite cloister in Lisieux, France. Her parents Marie-Azelie Guerin and Louis Martin would eventually become the first married couple canonized together by Pope Francis in 2015.

Therese was born into an obscure middle class family in a small provincial town where she led an uneventful life. There was nothing remarkable about her intelligence and she was very shy and moody. She was received into the local Carmelite order in 1889 at the age of fifteen and took her final vows in 1890 where she joined her four biological sisters who also became nuns. Pope Pius X called her the greatest saint of modern times.

In the words of Pope Pius XI, "St. Therese attained supernatural gifts in such an abundant way that she was able to point out the sure way of salvation to others" and it is in The Story of a Soul that she points out this way. A month before she died Therese told her sister Pauline, "What I have written will do a lot of good. It will make the kindness of God better known." St. Therese's "little way" is that of trusting in Jesus to make her holy and relying on small daily sacrifices instead of great deeds and on a complete and unshakeable confidence in God's love for us. In many ways she is the patroness of finding holiness through everyday life.

This confidence means that we cannot be afraid of God even though we sin. He will instantly forgive us and come to meet us, but we must repent and realize that God's love never fails. St. Therese knew that, with God, all things are possible, yes, all things – even a cloistered nun preaching on all five continents simultaneously!

Therese was canonized by Pope Pius XI in 1925, a mere twenty-eight years after her death and was named a "Doctor of the Church" in 1997 by St. Pope John Paul II.

St. Therese of Lisieux is best known by the title "The Little Flower" a name she gave herself. She compares herself to a humble little flower in a meadow, not one of the gorgeous ones but one of the ordinary little flowers who praise God simply with their ordinary beauty.

Feast day for St. Therese of Lisieux is October 1

Saint Marie Faustina Kowalska was born on February 22, 1931, and as a young Polish nun, saw a vision of Jesus with rays of mercy streaming from His heart. He told her to have an image painted to represent this vision and to sign it "Jesus, I Trust in you!" Calling her the Apostle and Secretary of His mercy, He ordered her to begin writing a diary so that others would come to know and trust in Him. In a series of revelations that followed from 1931 and 1938, He taught her that His mercy is unlimited and available even to the greatest of sinners. He revealed special ways for people to respond to His mercy in their lives, and He gave her several promises for those who would trust in His mercy and show mercy to others. By the time of Sister Faustina's death in 1938, devotion to the Divine Mercy had already begun to spread throughout Eastern Europe. In July 1940, Fr. Joseph Jarzebowski, a Polish Marian priest, was blacklisted by the Nazi SS, prayed to the merciful Savior to help him escape, vowing to spend the rest of his life spreading the Divine Mercy Devotion. He arrived safely in America in May 1941, and Marian communities in Detroit and Washington, D.C. were soon distributing Mercy of God materials. In 1944, a group of Marians opened a new house and apostolate on Eden Hill in Stockbridge, Massachusetts and began spreading the devotion on a large scale. In 1953 it became the international center for the Divine Mercy Devotion. In 1960, they completed the construction of the National Shrine of Divine Mercy, a spiritual home for the Association of Marian helpers. In 1966, through the efforts of the Cardinal Karol Wojtyla, the informative process for the beatification of Sr. Faustina was begun. St. Faustina was graced by a special communion with God, and The Diary of St. Marie Faustina Kowalska expresses her conviction that this communion ought to be the center of our lives. She was canonized on April 30, 2000, by St. Pope John Paul II.

Feast day for St. Faustina is October 5
