“Death is not a dead-end street” (MLK)

Dear Parishioners,

If there is one thing that Lent, including our recent English and Spanish Revivals in the Central Harlem Cluster, has made us aware of is that with God in Jesus through the Holy Spirit we will always be prepared to go for the long haul. As the lyrics of the song “Lean on Me” tells us: “Sometimes in our lives, We all have pain, We all have sorrow, But if we are wise, We know that there's always tomorrow, Lean on me, When you're not strong, And I'll be your friend, I'll help you carry on...” This is the power of the Spirit of Resurrection that will make us persevere and overcome fear with trust and hatred with love.

At the end, we know that with willpower and determination, we can make changes in our life that last forever if we stay close to the One who is always with us and will never abandon us. As Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. proclaimed full of conviction: “Death is not a dead-end street; it is only a bend in the road that we can't see through”. It means that we always need to “Stay Woke” and never allow ourselves to become indifferent or weak in faith. We must stop seeking to be in control and allow God, the Holy One, to take control, yes, to break through so that the Holy Spirit can move among us, change our hearts, give us strength, and make our Church a living Church for everyone.

My friends, as St Charles Borromeo, Resurrection, and All Saints Parish, there will be lots of challenges on our path over the next few years but with trust in God and in the Eucharist being the source and summit in our lives, we continue to open ourselves to the gifts of the Holy Spirit and allow them to flourish in our community. Thank God, I have met so many gifted and committed people of all ages in our faith community who love our parish identity and our mission in Harlem and beyond. Thanks so much for all your generosity and loving service. May our Parish always be open, free, connected, loving, just and welcoming for it to Rise Up to new heights

Happy Easter!

~Fr. Willem
