Lectio Divina, Praying with Scripture, Group

Growing in our relationship with God is a process like any other. It thrives when we take time to speak, listen, and be. Lectio Divina, divine reading, allows God to speak to our heart through Scripture and can help quiet our mind by inspiring deeper trust in God. If you want to pray more or differently or want to experience Scripture but don't know where to start, Lectio may be perfect for you. Monthly gatherings take place at St. Patrick's Church, Richmondtown, generally 7 pm. No experience necessary; you'll be led. All are welcome.

Our Winter/Spring Meeting Dates are Thursday evenings Jan. 19, Feb. 16, March 16 (Lenten Evening of Reflection), April 20 and May 18. RSVP appreciated but not required.

GOSPEL MEDITATION

Encourage Deeper Understanding of Scripture

When I was a kid, I remember the priest at Mass announcing, "The Lamb of God!" Frankly, it struck me as nonsense. I thought: Why in the world does God have a lamb? And where is this lamb?

John the Baptist sees Jesus coming toward him and announces, "Behold the lamb of God." His Jewish listeners knew what he meant. God's lamb is the thing that is sacrificed at the Jewish Passover and consumed by the participants. For almost a thousand years, lambs were ritually slaughtered and eaten in Jerusalem at Passover. The lamb meant sacrifice, freedom from sin, and communion with God. The Baptist is saying in effect, "This man will be ritually sacrificed and consumed so that God's people may be free from sin and united to God."

It's crucial to relate to Jesus as a friend, brother, teacher, and Lord of our lives. But we should also learn to interact with Him as our lamb of God. That means we intentionally place on him our sins, sadnesses, and hopes, and offer him to God. Then we consume him to make us free. This is what we do at every Mass. That's why he is the Lamb of God.

— Father John Muir

John the Baptist saw Jesus coming toward him and said, "Behold, the Lamb of God, who takes away the sin of the world. He is the one of whom I said, 'A man is coming after me who ranks ahead of me because he existed before me.'" - Jn 1:29-30
