HELP NEEDED AFTER LITURGIES

Assumption Church needs many volunteers to help us assist those attending Mass each weekend, to answer questions, to sanitize the church after each Mass, and monitor compliance with the requirement to wear a mask or face covering. Volunteers should be between the ages of 18 and 60, and have no underlying health conditions. Personal protective equipment, i.e. masks, hand sanitizer, etc., as well as training, will be provided. Contact Bill Duggan, at wcdugganjr@hotmail.com or 973-960-6417 if you can help.

First Reading: Isaiah 25:6-10a

In this reading from the Hebrew Scriptures, Isaiah of Jerusalem describes the great feast celebrating the enthronement of God as king on Mount Zion. Even death will fall before the power of God.

Second Reading: Philippians 4:12-14

This week concludes the second reading's presentation of Paul's letter to the Philippians. The Apostle expresses faith that God will provide what the community needs.

Gospel: Matthew 22:1-14

The parable of the guests invited to a feast is this Sunday's selection from Matthew's Gospel. The Great Feast will occur with or without those formally invited, but all present must act appropriately.

We invite you to prayerfully reflect on the Readings for the week of October 11

GOD'S INVITATION

“Tell those invited: ‘Behold, I have prepared my banquet, my calves and fattened cattle are killed, and everything is ready; come to the feast.’ Some ignored the invitation and went away, one to his farm, another to his business. The rest laid hold of his servants, mistreated them, and killed them [. . .] ‘But when the king came in to meet the guests, he saw a man there not dressed in a wedding garment. The king said to him, ‘My friend, how is it that you came in here without a wedding garment?’ But he was reduced to silence.”
(Matthew 22: 1-14)

Here is a reflection I hope you will enjoy. It's one of his first memories growing up: the Saturday his father made the workbench. He was five and played with scraps of wood nearby while his dad masterfully cut and planed every piece of wood, then assembled the legs, the tabletop, and a lower shelf, and finished by painting it a bluish gray. Even though it was a work bench, it was, in itself, a work of beauty.

For almost 30 years the bench was the center of Dad's basement workshop. On that bench, his dad fixed broken appliances, repaired bicycles and toys, maintained their house's electric and plumbing systems, and built whatever was needed, from bookcases to Adirondack chairs. Whatever the problem or repair needed, his father knew exactly what to do and had the right tool to fix it — tools meticulously kept in perfect working order.

When his parents closed down their big house last year, the bench came to his house, along with the red case — old, but in perfect condition — filled with Dad's tools. Although it's scratched and gouged and marked from all the projects it has seen, the bench is still as solid as that Saturday his father built it — and still, in its own way, a thing of beauty. It's more than just an old bench. It's a legacy of work and skill given in love by a good man to his family. The son now hopes he can be as good a steward of the work bench.

The quilt lays on their big bed. It was made by her grandmother as a wedding gift: simple pieces of cloth skillfully sewn together to create the beautiful quilt in a traditional “rolling star” pattern. The quilt keeps them warm on blustery winter nights; they snuggle in it while watching a movie or reading; it bundles up the whole family when the kids crawl in with them on Sunday mornings. The quilt is a piece of art that will be handed down for generations to come, but it's more than something beautiful: it's love in pieces of fabric, love that embraces its creator's family in warmth and safety.

A father's workbench becomes a sign of loving service and responsibility for the next generation; a handmade quilt becomes the very embrace of the quilter's love and care. Humility and selflessness are the tools that build and repair and create a home; grace is the thread that transforms a collection of squares of cloth into something beautiful. They're all manifestations of joy and optimism, of kindness and generosity, of gratitude and respect that become our “garment” for God's wedding banquet, a feast that begins in our own homes and workplaces, at our own tables and benches. God's invitation to every one of us should inspire us to make our lives a “proper garment” that expresses our love and care in ways that will live on after we have taken our place at God's wedding feast. In Christ's Peace,

Father John

GOD WILL PROVIDE FOR ALL

Today's Gospel reminds us that God invites all of us to his kingdom. How do we respond to this invitation? In theological terms, God has granted us free will to accept or reject salvation. The parable of the wedding feast reminds us that God desires our wholehearted acceptance of his invitation to salvation.

As you gather as a family, discuss what you consider appropriate attire for various occasions. For example, if your family were invited to a neighbor's barbecue, what would you wear? If you were planning to attend the symphony, what might you wear? If invited to an evening wedding, what might you wear? In today's Gospel Jesus uses this metaphor to talk about the kingdom of heaven. Read Matthew 22:1-14. Discuss why the guest was thrown out of the wedding feast. What does Jesus expect of those who accept his invitation of salvation? What would be the evidence of our conversion to God's salvation? Pray together as a family that you will respond wholeheartedly to God's invitation to salvation.

2020 DIOCESAN MINISTRIES APPEAL
"LOVE THY NEIGHBOR"

One of the benefits of giving to our Diocesan Ministries Appeal is the knowledge that the funds stay in our own Diocese and only support important needs in Morris, Passaic and Sussex Counties. This local connection means that you may be helping your next-door neighbor, a former pastor now living in our priests' retirement residence, the store owner you see each day as you shop in town – perhaps even a family member. What better way to "Love Thy Neighbor"? For your convenience, you can make an online gift or pledge at www.2020appeal.org.
