ST. KILIAN PRAY FOR US

SECOND MARRIAGES AND LAPSED CATHOLICS

When I was growing up in the 1950s almost 80% of Catholics went to Mass each week. Today on Long Island, where half of our population (1.5 million) is baptized

Catholic, less than twenty percent participate at Mass each weekend.

There are multiple reasons for the fall off. The Catholic subculture, formed since heavy immigration of Catholics began in the mid-1800s, protected and nurtured the immigrant community arriving mostly from Europe from the Protestant majority. Catholic national parishes in major cities provided a powerful sense of belonging, neighborhoods centered around Church and school, where the old world could be re-created with local clergy and religious as the educated leaders both spiritually and politically. The mostly uneducated and sometimes illiterate laity relied heavily on their priests and nuns for guidance and support. Catholic schools staffed by men and women religious maintained Catholic identity in a hostile environment. Fear of damnation also was a strong motivator in preserving the Catholic way of life.

The gradual disintegration of that subculture began after the Second World War. Soldiers took advantage of the G.I. Bill that provided funds for the college education of veterans. Catholic laity took prominent places in business and politics. Catholics were assimilated into the mainstream of American life. Today, in church attendance, divorce, presence on the boards of major corporations, opinions on moral issues, and so much more, Catholics can hardly be distinguished from their Protestant neighbors.

It remains a central teaching in Catholicism that marriage is indissoluble. Marriage is a permanent lifetime commitment. "Therefore what God has joined together, let no one separate." (Mark 10:9). It also is a fact of life that Catholic marriages fail. There are 66 million Catholics in the U.S., and more than six million are divorced Catholics. Some fifty percent of all marriages in the Catholic Church end in divorce. This is a personal tragedy for the couples and any children they may have. Many of these Catholics have their pain increased further by feeling cut off from the Church. Since many remarry without seeking an annulment of their failed marriage, they are officially barred from the strength of the sacraments.

Has a failed marriage become the only unforgiveable sin? Is this frightening statistic a big contributor to the falling off of church attendance? Is it likely that most of these marriages were lacking from their beginning the essentials needed for a Sacrament?

An annulment tries to offer compassion, healing, and true justice to Catholics whose marriage was one of appearance only. Before the Second Vatican Council, a marriage could be declared invalid for three reasons only. It was never consummated. One of the spouses never intended to have children. And third, there was coercion or force involved (e.g. pregnancy). The Council document spoke beautifully of the marital sacrament and emphasized its unitive as well as procreative dimensions. Marriage was a lifetime partnership of equals in the sight of God who loved each other; and had the psychological maturity to live out that covenant commitment. Marriage is an interpersonal communion between a man and woman that is physical, emotional, intellectual, and spiritual. It mirrors the self-emptying love of Christ who came not to be served, but to serve.

When the bride and groom exchanged vows did they each have the personal capacity to live out that yes to each other in a mutually supportive communion of life until death parted them?

The Council generated a fourth reason for the granting of annulments of psychological factors. Now serious neuroses and psychoses like poor self esteem, narcissism, impulsiveness, hostility, inadequacy, addiction, homosexuality, personality disorders, and other pathology are grounds for the annulment of a marriage. Grace builds on nature.

An annulment is meant to offer healing and further psychological insight and spiritual growth. It offers justice to marriages that have failed and new beginnings for couples who feel cut off from the church.

To apply for an annulment you can contact the diocese directly at 516-678-5800. There is no longer a fee. You will need to complete necessary paperwork on your family and marriage history, ask three friends or family members to write on your behalf and meet with a therapist on staff. An advocate will be assigned to your case to assist you, usually a specially trained priest, religious or lay person from your parish or nearby. On average, if there are grounds and the paperwork is completed quickly, an annulment will be granted in a year or so.

Remember, we are a Church of second chances. There are no unforgiveable sins and no second class Catholics.

Peace, Father Bruce

St. Agnes Medal of Service

Earlier this year Fr. Bruce, after consultation with our Pastoral Council, recommended Susan ("Suzi") Picciano for the St. Agnes Medal of Service posthumously. Bishop William Murphy has approved this recommendation. As many of you know, Suzi was called to the Lord earlier this year. Her husband John and family will receive the medal on her behalf at a special ceremony at St. Agnes Cathedral next month.

The St. Agnes Medal of Service was instituted 9 years ago to recognize members of the church who contribute their time and talent to our parishes. Over the years that Suzi was a parishioner at St. Kilian, she was a shining example of a dedicated good steward who unselfishly devoted herself to helping others through her love of God and her church. At the time of Suzi's unfortunate passing, she was a member of the Pastoral Council, a Eucharistic Minister, a member of the Women's Guild (Past President) and a huge support to Nina Petersen as a lay leader, volunteering her time and talent at Social Ministry. Suzi even helped to implement the Outreach program over 30 years ago. She did all of this willingly out of her deep faith and concern for others, and she did it with a smile!

St. Kilian Parish was blessed to have Suzi as a parishioner and friend. Her loving spirit lives on in our parish and in all those she has helped over the years. May Suzi's soul and all the souls of the faithful departed, through the mercy of God, rest in peace. Amen.

St. Vincent de Paul Society

In today's Gospel Jesus tells his disciples: "Anyone who gives you a drink of water because you belong to Christ will not, I assure you, go without his reward. As you put your gift in the Society of St. Vincent de Paul's poor box, know that you are serving Christ's poor ones."

If you are in need of assistance or would like information about joining or contributing to the Society, please call 516-473-9562. Leave a message and a phone number. A member will return your call as soon as possible. You may visit our website at www.svdprvc.org. Please remember the Poor Boxes at the exits of the church. Ciclos de Fe

27 DE SEPTIEMBRE DE 2015

26° Domingo del Tiempo Ordinario

¡Ojalá que todo el pueblo de Dios fuera profeta y descendiera sobre todos ellos el espíritu del Señor (Nm 11, 29). Moisés ya no puede seguir solo con la carga de todo el pueblo y acepta la libertad del Espíritu de Dios que sopla donde y cuando quiere. Lo ideal del mensaje es que todos seamos profetas para anunciar las maravillas de Dios y a la vez clamar por la justicia que el pueblo merece. Las lecturas de hoy son claves para el discernimiento en la forma de relación entre los grupos parroquiales. Se hacen los planes, la misión esta puesta, solo falta ejecutar las acciones. ¿Quiénes lo harán? Debemos aceptar a toda persona que actúe honestamente en nombre de Jesús, sin recelos ni reclamos entre los diferentes grupos.

¿Cómo hacerlo? Recordemos siempre que las actitudes y las acciones de los que llevan a cabo el ministerio pueden acercar o alejar a los demás. Jesús nos lo pone más claro todavía al escuchar la respuesta que le da a Juan. ¡No se lo prohíban, porque no hay ninguno que haga milagros en mi nombre, que luego sea capaz de hablar mal de mí (Mc 9, 39). Y Jesús agrega, poniendo broche de oro a su respuesta: ¡Todo aquel que no está contra nosotros, está a nuestro favor (Mc 9, 40). No olvidemos: Jesús siempre dejó libres a los que sanó. No les impuso órdenes: ellos siguieron su vida normal, con la única diferencia de aceptarlo. Todo esto pasó durante el camino hacia Jerusalén, el cual representa un proceso de formación para los discípulos que iban madurando su fe a base de experiencias nuevas. Nadie es especialista en el ministerio; es Dios quien nos llama a serlo.
