At canonization, Pope Francis praises Mother Teresa's strong defense of the unborn

VATICAN CITY, Sept. 6, 2016 (LifeSiteNews) — Pope Francis praised Mother Teresa's defense of human life in his homily at her Mass of Canonization on Sunday, Sept. 4. "Mother Teresa, in all aspects of her life, was a generous dispenser of divine mercy, making herself available for everyone through her welcome and defense of human life, those unborn and those abandoned and discarded," Pope Francis said. "She was committed to defending life, ceaselessly proclaiming that 'the unborn are the weakest, the smallest, the most vulnerable.'"

Mother Teresa was a pro-life warrior who spoke truth to power about the injustice of abortion and used her global influence to spread the pro-life message.

In one of her most famous speeches, she told a room containing then-President Bill Clinton and Hillary Clinton that "the greatest destroyer of peace is abortion."

The pontiff also said the new saint "made her voice heard before the powers of this world, so that they might recognize their guilt for the crime – the crimes! – of poverty they created."

"For Mother Teresa, mercy was the 'salt' which gave flavor to her work, it was the 'light' which shone in the darkness of the many who no longer had tears to shed for their poverty and suffering," he continued.

Not 'Born That Way': New Scientific Analysis Questions 'LGBT' Orthodoxies

JOAN FRAWLEY DESMOND, Aug 22nd, 2016 (<http://m.ncregister.com/daily-news/not-born-that-way-new-scientific-analysis-questions-lgbt-orthodoxies/#.V8yRoCgrK1J>)

A comprehensive new survey about sexuality and gender, undertaken by leading medical experts, concludes that key theories are unsupported by scientific evidence.

A new report that examines nearly 200 peer-reviewed studies on sexual orientation and gender identity concludes that science hasn't confirmed key theories about these subjects, including the belief that homosexuals are "born that way."

And it rejects surgical and hormonal interventions for children who identify as "transgender," on the grounds that the large majority of such children outgrow identities that conflict with their biological sex.

"Examining research from the biological, psychological and social sciences, this report shows that some of the most frequently heard claims about sexuality and gender are not supported by scientific evidence," reads an introductory note by Adam Keiper, editor of The New Atlantis, a leading journal of science, technology and ethics that published the report, "Sexuality and Gender."

"The report has a special focus on the higher rates of mental-health problems among LGBT populations, and it questions the scientific basis of trends in the treatment of children who do not identify with their biological sex," said Keiper.

"More effort is called for to provide these people with the understanding, care and support they need to lead healthy, flourishing lives."

"Sexuality and Gender" was written by Dr. Lawrence Mayer, scholar in residence in the Department of Psychiatry at Johns Hopkins University and professor of statistics and biostatistics at Arizona State University, and Dr. Paul McHugh, professor of psychiatry and behavioral sciences at Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine who served for 25 years as psychiatrist in chief at Johns Hopkins Hospital. The study was released Aug. 22.

The report asserts that scientific evidence does not support the theory that "gender identity is an innate, fixed property of human beings that is independent of biological sex — that a person might be 'a man trapped in a woman's body' or 'a woman trapped in a man's body.'"

The authors also question the adoption of new interventions for children and teens who do not identify with their biological sex.

"Only a minority of children who express gender-atypical thoughts or behavior will continue to do so into adolescence or adulthood," the report concludes.

"There is no evidence that all such children should be encouraged to become transgender, much less subjected to hormone treatments or surgery."

Parish Trustee Secretary Position

Fr. Campbell, Fr. McDermott and the entire parish wish to thank Tom Aiello for having served many years in the position of parish trustee secretary. He has chosen to step down from that position.
