FROM THE DESK OF FR. DOOLEY

Hello friends,

Merry Christmas to you and your families! A warm welcome to any visitors who might be with us for our Christmas liturgies. Perhaps it has been a long time since you have stepped into a Catholic church. I encourage you to just pray and allow the liturgy to speak to you wherever you are in your spiritual journey. On the left side of this page, you will find our parish staff contacts. Please reach out to our staff if you have any questions or spiritual needs, or if you wish to get involved in our parish community. You can also consult our website for more information.

I leave you with a selection from a Christmas Homily of St. Leo the Great. He said: "Christian, remember your dignity, and now that you share in God's own nature, do not return by sin to your former base condition. Bear in mind who is your head and of whose body you are a member. Do not forget that you have been rescued from the power of darkness and brought into the light of God's kingdom."

Merry Christmas!

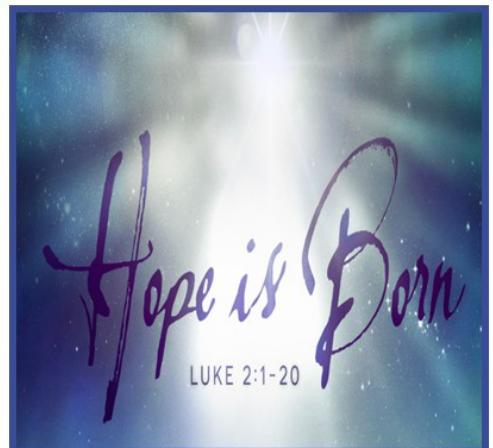

Fr. Dooley

Note Well: The parish office will be closed from Friday, December 24 to Monday, January 3.

A NOTE FROM OUR PRINCIPAL*Dear Our Lady of Peace Family,

There are so many Christmas stories out there. Many of course are fiction and fairy tales. But one of my favorite stories of how transformative the season of Christmas can be is a true story. In fact, to my mind it is one of the most remarkable Christmas stories there is.

World War I, or the Great War, was a conflict that caused the death of over 9 million people. Begun in August of 1914, the European nations involved were sure it would be a quick campaign with both sides thinking they would win easily. Young men went into the conflict with romanticized visions of how war is portrayed in literature: gallant charges and heroic battles. The reality was much different. France and Great Britain and its allies put a halt to the German advances in France. (The United States had not yet entered the war.) Both sides dug in against each other in trenches. Neither side could advance and neither side would retreat. The trenches were necessary because of the new invention of the machine gun. Advances against the enemy were halted by another new invention, barbed wire. Although the trenches spread out for miles through France, in some cases the two sides were only hundreds of feet apart.

Because of the proximity of the opposing trenches, soldiers from both sides recalled that they could hear the enemy talk, and smell the other side's cooking. Except for useless charges which led to wholesale slaughter, life was led underground. Putting one's head above the rim of the trench could result in a bullet to the head.

On Christmas Eve 1914, in what can only be thought of as a Christmas miracle or an answer to prayers for deliverance, there began a truce of hostilities up and down the long line of trenches. Because it was spontaneous, there is disagreement about how it started. Some say that the Germans were singing Christmas carols on their side of No Man's Land and the British and French joined in. Others say it was the candlelight of makeshift Christmas trees, a German tradition, that emboldened the Allies to offer temporary peace. Eventually that night and the next day during Christmas, the two sides came together to share coffee and cigarettes, food and prayer. Soccer games were played on muddy fields between the lines. For a war that would last for close to four more years and was horrific in its savagery, this night was a respite, a God-inspired, albeit brief, time for peace.

The generals were shocked and appalled at the fraternization between enemy troops. Leading men to their almost certain death is a hard task. You can only convince men to rush into battle if they are convinced that the cause for which they fight and die is a noble one and that the enemy is truly evil. Here were men up and down the line seeing the enemy as real people—young, cold, dirty and as scared as they were. How could the generals get the men to fight after meeting each other and sharing a bond of friendship and peace? The answer was that they had to take most of those men off of the front line and replace them with troops who had not peacefully engaged the enemy. It is hard to kill a man with whom you have just sung "Silent Night."

The world can be a cold and brutal place, and people can be cold and brutal. As people with free will, we can choose to be cruel to one another. God chose to send His Son to us, to take on flesh and blood, to suffer as a human being and to die for us so we might be saved. Once a year, the world tries to remind itself that we should strive for peace on earth and good will toward men. His hope for us is that we will choose to heed that message not just on Christmas day, but every day.

CONSECRATION TO THE HOLY FAMILY

Children's children are a crown to the aged, and parents are the pride of their children.

Proverbs 17:6

O Lord Jesus,
you lived in the home of Mary and Joseph in Nazareth.
There you grew in age, wisdom and grace as you prepared to fulfill your mission as our Redeemer.
We entrust our family to you.

O Blessed Mary,
you are the Mother of our Savior.
At Nazareth you cared for Jesus and nurtured him in the peace and joy of your home.
We entrust our family to you.

O Saint Joseph,
you provided a secure and loving home for Jesus and Mary,
and gave us a model of fatherhood while showing us the dignity of work.
We entrust our family to you.

Holy Family,
we consecrate ourselves and our family to you.
May we be completely united in a love that is lasting, faithful and open to the gift of new life.
Help us to grow in virtue,
to forgive one another from our hearts,
and to live in peace all our days.
Keep us strong in faith, persevering in prayer,
diligent in our work, and generous toward those in need.
May our home, O Holy Family, truly become a domestic church where we reflect your example in our daily life. Amen.
Jesus, Mary and Joseph, pray for us!

JESUS

THE WAY, THE TRUTH, AND THE LIFE

Presented by MARCELLINO D'AMBROSIO, JEFF CAVINS, and EDWARD SRI

THE DEFINITIVE STUDY OF JESUS CHRIST

The marvelous treasures of the Catholic Faith—the Eucharist, Mary, the saints, and the Creed—are all centered on a single figure: Jesus Christ. Jesus is more than a historical or theological figure. He is our savior, our redeemer, our Lord, and our God. While many of us know a lot about him already, how well can we say that we really know him?

JESUS: THE WAY, THE TRUTH, AND THE LIFE is a new and fresh look at Jesus—who he is, what he is really like, what he taught, and what he did for our salvation. This encounter with Christ will inspire and empower you to center your entire life around him as you come to know and love him in an ever deeper and more intimate way.
