FROM THE DESK OF FR. DOOLEY

Hello friends,

Blessed 3rd Sunday of Lent. A few spiritual housekeeping items for you:

Eucharistic Adoration

As you know, we have Eucharistic Adoration every Thursday from 9:00am-7:00pm. Traditionally, Thursday is the day dedicated to the Holy Eucharist. I encourage you to take time in the quiet presence of our Lord. We could always use more adorers for the 11:00am-12:00pm slot and 2:00pm-3:00pm slot. Even if you can't do an hour, you are always welcome to spend a few minutes with our Lord.

On Thursday, March 16th, Our Lady of Peace is participating in the 40 Days of Adoration. Each day during Lent, Eucharistic Adoration is held in a different Catholic church across the Diocese. Our campus is going to be busy with visitors. Please make them feel welcome as they pray here at Our Lady of Peace.

Homebound and Hospital Visits

As a reminder, we have a number of Extraordinary Ministers ready to bring Holy Communion to our homebound. If you or your loved one would like to receive the Sacrament of Reconciliation or Sacrament of Anointing, please call the parish office. Without a phone call from you, we're not likely to know when someone is sick or in the hospital. I am happy to make these visits - this is why I am here!!!!

Blessing of Marriages

Were you married outside of the Catholic Church? Would you like your marriage to be blessed by the Catholic Church? Were you previously married and would like to learn more about the annulment process? Please reach out to Deacon Jeffrey or me for any guidance and information. We are happy to accompany and walk with you on your journey.

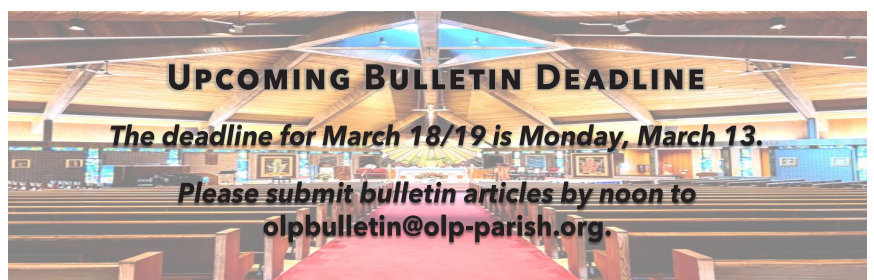

1st Reconciliation

Congratulations to our 40 second graders who celebrated the Sacrament of Reconciliation for the first time last weekend! May they continue to embrace the gift of healing in this Sacrament throughout their lives.

Have a blessed week.

Under the Protection of Our Lady of Peace,

Fr. Dooley

OLP'S LENTEN BOOK

EDWARD SRI, THE ART OF LIVING

Week 3 Reflection, Raine Neenan

When asked to consider writing a reflection on one of the four Cardinal Virtues, Prudence leapt off the page. A memory immediately surfaced, towing a flood of emotion. When I was in elementary school a classmate said to my friend, "You're a prude!". That did not sound like a compliment. I asked myself, "Am I a prude?" Fast forward to 2023, I still had no answer. St. Thomas Aquinas writes that prudence is the right reason in action. Reflecting on "The Art of Living" by Edward Sri, I realized that I have acquired a grain of this virtue through a recent incident in my life. In the process of discerning a call to deeper conversion, I was in an accident that shattered my heel. During my recovery, I learned to be silent and listen. Prudence is perfected in prayer. I sought counsel from my Spiritual Director. I did not allow the internal mindless chatter to sway me. I did not delay the execution of my decision. I am stepping into a world completely unknown to me. I am at peace. Am I a prude? I aspire to be.

DISPENSATION FOR SAINT PATRICK'S DAY

The obligation to abstain from meat on the Fridays of Lent is an important element of the Church's observance of the penitential nature of this holy season.

This year, March 17, the Friday of the Third Week of Lent, corresponds with Saint Patrick's Day, traditionally an occasion for joy-filled celebrations in this diocese, especially among those of Irish heritage. Bishop Fernandes, taking into consideration both past practice and present circumstances, has granted to the faithful of the Diocese of Columbus, as well as to any visitors or travelers who may be physically present within the territory of this diocese, a dispensation from the obligation of abstinence from meat on March 17, 2023, provided that the member of the faithful taking advantage of this dispensation, undertakes one of the following works: 1) makes a pilgrimage or visit to any church in the Diocese of Columbus named in honor of St. Patrick (Columbus, London, Junction City); 2) assists at Mass at any church, chapel, or oratory on March 17th; 3) prays the "Breastplate of St. Patrick," attributed to St. Patrick; 4) engages in some pious devotion such as the Rosary, the Stations of the Cross, or Eucharistic Adoration; or 5) performs an act of comparable penance (such as abstinence from meat) on some other occasion during the Third Week of Lent.

A NOTE FROM OUR PRINCIPAL

I was working in my office last Saturday between First Reconciliation for the second graders and heading downtown to work the opening night Crew game when my old friend, Jim stopped by. He had been in the neighborhood and saw my little Fit out front.

I have known Jim for over 50 years. We first met in high school at one of the Teens Encounter Christ retreat weekends that were popular back in the seventies in Columbus. Jim graduated from the now shuttered Father Wehrle High School on the South Side. From that point on, we were fast friends. He married his wife, Peggy, forty years ago. As a matter of fact, the very Saturday that I saw him was his 40th anniversary. He had been at the Kroger at Graceland to buy some flowers for his bride.

When I was principal at St. Timothy, Jim, Peggy, and their five children moved into the St. Timothy neighborhood. He wanted to enroll his oldest, the only one ready for school, at St. Tim's. Unfortunately, that grade was full and I wasn't allowed to make any exceptions, even for Jim. As is true to Jim's nature he took the news well and was patient. Eventually, he got all five of his children into school there and has been an active parishioner ever since, sitting on the Finance Council and helping to run their very successful summer festival.

Jim ran a small market in the Grandview area for a few years and then opened a string of laundromats which he still runs today. He is pretty much a one-man show. He decided long ago that he wanted to be his own boss and he travels from shop to shop maintaining his equipment, keeping his property up-to-date and collecting the money from his machines.

I don't see Jim a lot. We will go to breakfast occasionally. We talk on the phone. He has lent me the use of his truck when I have needed it. Mostly, as he moves around town and I work at a fixed location, he stops by when he sees my car in front of school. I stop whatever I am doing and we talk, and the time goes by and the years melt away.

Jim is one of the holiest men I have ever known. His faith is rock solid, but he doesn't preach or proselytize. He and Peggy have raised five children and help take care of grandchildren. He is content with his life and takes it however it comes to him. Like any man our age, life has come to him in good waves and bad ones. He figures that it is all part of God's plan.

We talked about money for a bit. I have no idea of his income but as he likes to tell me, "I have a roof over my head. I can heat my home in the winter and keep the air conditioner on in the summer. I was able to provide for my children and I don't miss a meal. When my truck isn't running, I get the parts and fix it. What more do I need?"

Like men our age, our thoughts sometimes turn to death. The people we have known who have died, our own inevitable death one day. Jim's faith awes me. He takes what he has been taught in Catholic schools and at church, and he knows that death is just as natural as getting up and going to work in the morning. He knows that he will be with God one day. Now Jim doesn't come right out and say that. As he sits and strokes his long white beard, the tone and confidence in his voice makes me know that he is right with God and has no fear of meeting Him.

The fact that I have friends such as Jim of 50 plus years overwhelms me from time to time. So many years, so many experiences and yet, when I sit with Jim, we are back in the days before wives and children and grandchildren and jobs. And while I am blessed to continue to meet new people and develop new relationships, friends like Jim are part of the anchor of my life. One day, he will attend my funeral or I his. Whichever one survives will say a kind word to the spouse and family. We will remember the friendship and the conversations and the sharing of mutual faith. And we will smile knowing that the other is united with family and mutual friends and with God.

In the meantime, whether that be a day or a year or a decade or more, I will cherish those pop-in visits from my friend.

I asked Jim what he and Peggy were doing for their milestone anniversary. "Going over to Peter's (his son) house and getting together with the other kids and grandkids and eat some pizza and have a board game night." That is my friend, Jim. And I love the guy.
