OUR LADY OF PEACE ST. VINCENT DE PAUL MONTHLY UPDATE

As a St. Vincent de Paul member, it is rewarding to help neighbors in need.

However, we are humbled when we learn the circumstances that cause neighbors to call Our Lady of Peace for help. "Yet we know that all that God gives us is for others and that we achieve nothing of eternal value without His grace." (Rule 2.5.1)

Our calls for help are increasing. In fact, since this time last year, there has been a 76% increase in requests for assistance. More and more of these requests are for help with rent and utilities, and many neighbors who call are facing eviction. We do our best to help neighbors avoid eviction because this can impact someone's ability to secure housing in the future as many landlords refuse to rent to someone with an eviction history.

We have learned from the national organization of SVdP that, as our calls for assistance here at OLP are increasing, so is the trend among SVdP chapters across the nation. Meanwhile, funding from state and local programs is decreasing. Please consider contacting your senator and congressional representatives, no matter the political party, explaining the urgency of the need.

OLP SVdP conference often works collaboratively with other SVdP conferences in the city, but we find that some conferences are out of funds or limit their resources to specific requests such as food, etc. We are particularly fortunate to have YOU (our parishioners), who are generous in contributing to SVdP, to help us meet the needs of neighbors who call.

MAY IMPACT – Thanks to your generosity, in May we were able to help 17 Adults and 25 children. (Note the large number of children at risk.) Please join us in praying for our neighbors and for our organization, that we may be able to help all who come to us in need.

A NOTE FROM OUR PRINCIPAL - Jim Silcott

Fifty years ago this month, I was in the dog days of my solo trip on the Appalachian Trail. I had left Columbus on Mother's Day that year. A friend and I drove all night in my 1971 orange Volkswagen Squareback to Georgia. He dropped me off at the foot of the trail that led to Mt. Springer, the official starting point of the 2,000-mile trail, and the journey began.

It was a rough start. Lots of rain and lots of blisters and lots of exhortations to God about what I was thinking when I dropped out of college to hike and camp with a minimum amount of experience. I wasn't even a Boy Scout for goodness' sake.

By mid-June I had calmed my anxiety. The drier weather helped, along with thicker callouses on my feet. I had mastered the art of hitchhiking when I needed to get into town to replenish my food supply. I never had a problem finding a ride quickly. The only exception was getting arrested in Gatlinburg for sticking my thumb out even though I had been warned. It did afford me a bed for the night and a couple of free meals.

I was in southern Virginia by June. I made some friends along the way. Although I walked in solitude during the day, the same people would be at the campground until either you went further, or they did. There were other days in June in Virginia when I did not see another human being, once for four days straight.

I had many adventures along the way: a terrorizing bobcat, a lost older lady, a drink of moonshine that I thought was water, extended time with a nudist married couple, a mother bear who stole my cooking pot, and a stay at a rectory where I went on rounds with the parish priest.

I journaled every night. I prayed frequently, sometimes to ask for a favor and other times to discern my future. I said the Rosary. I read a copy of Jaws about three times because the only other reading material I brought with me was a tiny copy of the New Testament. While that nourished my soul, Jaws entertained me. The movie had not come out yet, but I cast the whole thing in my head with my favorite Hollywood actors.

In the days before cell phones, I had little communication with the outside world. That included my family, who had no idea where I was on the trail until I got to a payphone to check in. Occasionally, there was mail waiting for me by way of General Delivery to a post office. If there was such a thing as credit cards back then, I did not possess one. I carried cash, and not a lot of it. Not too much to spend money on in the woods.

Looking back to my 18-year-old self in 1975, I take a lot of pride in my efforts on the Appalachian Trail, but my hardships were miniscule compared to young men just a few years older than I was. Many of them had gone to Vietnam. Some had not returned. United States involvement in the war had officially ended just before I started my trip. Although I had a draft card, the draft was pretty much over by that time.

My question to God and myself during those months was whether I should become a priest. That question lingered through my time in college after my return. I spent time with the Glenmary priests in Kentucky each Christmas break. When you are alone in the woods, you get the time to ponder and pray. Although a priestly vocation was not in my future, Catholic schools were, and I have never regretted that decision. When I feel distant from God, I think back to those days where His presence was as real as the summer rain. And it sustains me.

SPIRITUAL COMPANIONSHIP FOR THOSE AFFECTED BY ADDICTION

We are pleased to announce that iTHIRST Spiritual Companions are available in our diocese and parishes to walk confidentially and one-to-one with families and adults who are struggling with the spiritual disease of substance use disorder.

iTHIRST is an initiative of the Missionary Servants of the Most Holy Trinity and spiritual companions have been trained and accredited through Seton Hall University to address the vital need for spiritual healing—an often overlooked aspect of traditional addiction treatment—by fostering connection, purpose, and inner peace.

Information is available on our website at www.opendoorwomensrecovery.org/ithirst. To contact us, call 614.547.9288 or send a confidential email to info.ithirstcolumbus@gmail.com.

CALL TO ACTION FOR LIFE

The bishops of Ohio have proposed legislation that would ban any and all state funding of abortion, euthanasia, execution, or any other action that intentionally ends a human life at any stage of development. This legislation will, among other things, end the death penalty in Ohio. The Ohio General Assembly is now considering this legislation. Please write, call, or email your senator and representative and urge them to support this life-protecting legislation. You can visit www.ohiocathconf.org/nodeath and click TAKE ACTION to send a prewritten letter to your legislators. Please also consider printing the letter and mailing it or emailing it to your senator and representative.

MEN'S DAY OF REFLECTION AT THE JOSEPHINUM

The day of spiritual enrichment will include the Rosary, outdoor Stations of the Cross, the Sacrament of Reconciliation and Mass, as well as lunch and a tour of the seminary. Registration is open through July 15. For more information and online registration, please visit: www.pcj.edu/mensdayofreflection.
