Opening Prayer

Almighty ever-living God,
by whose gift we venerate in one celebration
the merits of all the Saints, bestow on us, we pray,
through the prayers of so many intercessors,
an abundance of the reconciliation with you for which we earnestly long.
Through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son, who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, for ever and ever. Amen.

Reflecting on Living the Gospel

It is no accident that the Gospel of Matthew has Jesus go “up the mountain,” traditionally a place associated with divine encounter, to teach the Beatitudes to his disciples. The Beatitudes reveal the very Being of God (“Blessed,” holy), God’s care for God’s beloved people (“poor in spirit,” “those who mourn,” etc.), God’s intent for faithful ones (“theirs is the kingdom of heaven”). The Beatitudes reveal the mind and heart of God. Those who have encountered God and lived the Beatitudes have the same mind and heart. We call them “saints.” There is a countless multitude of saints in heaven; there is a countless multitude of saints here among us who have embraced the beatific, Godlike way of living. While this feast day primarily honors the saints who have gone before us, we cannot forget ourselves on this day. They have gone where we hope to go.

We often think of the saints as out-of-this-world holy people who are far beyond our own experience or sense of our own goodness. When we pray the Litany of All Saints (for example, before the baptisms during the Easter Vigil) we ask the intercession of very many saints who lived centuries ago in a very different time and culture. They seem far away. This solemnity reminds us that at one time they were ordinary people just like us, living ordinary lives in faithfulness to Gospel values. The simple, everyday things we do well are saintly acts. Our smile is a saintly one. Our gesture of kindness is an expression of blessedness. Our humility is Godlike. Others’ holy gestures toward us are reminders that there is glory awaiting us. To each of us who embraces our blessedness: ours “is the kingdom of heaven.”

Closing Prayers

May we have the mind and heart of God and live holy lives.

May we more faithfully model our lives after that of the Saints who have gone before us.

Our Father . . .

For Reflection:

- I encounter God and learn the divine mind and heart when . . .
- Persons who inspire me to saintly living are . . .

Suggestions for group and individual use:

1. Pray aloud the opening prayer (in The Roman Missal called the “collect”);
2. One person read aloud the gospel;
3. Each read prayerfully “Reflecting on Living the Gospel” and spend some time in personal prayer;
4. Share together responses to “For Reflection”;
5. Pray the “Closing Prayers.”

Gospel

Matthew 5:1-12a

When Jesus saw the crowds, he went up the mountain, and after he had sat down, his disciples came to him.

He began to teach them, saying:

“Blessed are the poor in spirit,
for theirs is the Kingdom of heaven.

Blessed are they who mourn,
for they will be comforted.

Blessed are the meek,
for they will inherit the land.

Blessed are they who hunger and thirst
for righteousness,
for they will be satisfied.

Blessed are the merciful,
for they will be shown mercy.

Blessed are the clean of heart,
for they will see God.

Blessed are the peacemakers,
for they will be called children of God.

Blessed are they who are persecuted for the sake of righteousness,
for theirs is the Kingdom of heaven.

Blessed are you when they insult you and persecute you and utter every kind of evil against you falsely because of me.

Rejoice and be glad,
for your reward will be great in heaven.”

One Faith One Hope One Love Campaign Update

As our parish has progressed through the One Faith, One Hope, One Love campaign, I have highlighted particular portions of the campaign needs. This week I'd like to spend a few moments explaining a few needs here at our parish that we can address through the successful completion of the One Faith, One Hope, One Love campaign.

The Catholic Church is universal. But it is in our own local parish that each of us experiences our faith most directly and intimately. And just as our Archdiocese as a whole has needs, so too do the individual parishes. The One Faith, One Hope, One Love campaign recognizes this with a $26 million allocation to support local parish projects and programs.

United in the everyday miracles of community, our vibrant parish communities are essential to the mission of Jesus, to the life of the Church, and to our call to be Christ to one another in our day-to-day lives.

The future viability of parish life is a key component of the campaign. To help each parish, 20% of the funds raised up to the parish goal and 60% of funds raised beyond the parish goal are designated for use by the parish to address local capital or programmatic needs. Here at St. Rose, we are planning to use these funds to paint the church.

Lastly, I am excited to announce that the One Faith, One Hope, One Love campaign has reached a total of $406,300 in pledges from a total of 23 gifts. This total represents 52% of our overall goal. Currently, through the parish rebate I described earlier, our parish will receive $81,260 from just those gifts as the commitments are received! Thank you to everyone who is helping to make this campaign a reality with your generous gifts of time, talent, and treasure.

Thank you all once again for your generous support of the One Faith, One Hope, One Love campaign!
